sentenced security prisoners and 1,317 security "unlawful combatants". The Commission of Detainees' Affairs, the Palestinian Prisoners' Society and Addameer said on 6 October 2026 that about 9,300 Palestinians were held in Israeli prisons as of October 2026. The UN Human Rights Office said on 16 March 2026 that, as of 31 October 2025, 9,204 Palestinians were being held in prisons in Israel and in Ofer prison in the West Bank. The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 9 September 2026 that it had been unable to access detainees held in Israeli detention facilities since October 2023.

What detention categories does the Israel Prison Service use?

The Israel Prison Service is Israel's national incarceration organisation, responsible for holding all prisoners in Israel. The Israel Prison Service answers to Israel's Ministry of National Security.

The Israel Prison Service's main prisons for security prisoners are Gilboa and Megiddo in its Northern District, Ofer in its Central District, and Ketziot and Ganot in its Southern District.

The Israel Prison Service publishes a quarterly inmate report under Israel's Freedom of Information Law. Each report gives the number of inmates held at the end of each month of the quarter. The report's security categories include sentenced security prisoners, security detainees held until the end of proceedings, security administrative detainees and security "unlawful combatants".

The State Comptroller of Israel's report of June 2026 names five types of security prisoner held in Israel Prison Service facilities: sentenced security prisoners, administrative detainees arrested in Israel, administrative detainees arrested in the area it calls Judea and Samaria, "unlawful combatants", and detainees under criminal investigation against whom an indictment is to be filed. The report refers to “unlawful combatants” as defined in the Incarceration of Unlawful Combatants Law of 2002.

An Israel Prison Service ordinance defines a security prisoner as one suspected, charged or convicted of an offence that by its nature or circumstances is a security offence, or one about whom the Israel Security Agency has given an opinion of security danger. The Israel Prison Service treats a prisoner not defined as a security prisoner as a criminal prisoner.

What do the Commission of Detainees’ Affairs’ monthly updates count?

The Commission of Detainees’ and Ex-Detainees’ Affairs was formed by presidential decree on 29 May 2014, as the official and legal successor of the Ministry of Detainees’ and Ex-Detainees’ Affairs, founded by presidential decree in 1998. The Commission is attached to the Palestine Liberation Organization. The Commission of Detainees’ Affairs, the Palestinian Prisoners’ Society and Addameer publish joint updates on the number of prisoners held in Israeli prisons.

In a report published on 6 October 2026, the Commission of Detainees’ Affairs, the Palestinian Prisoners’ Society and Addameer said that about 9,300 Palestinians were held in Israeli prisons as of October 2026. Of those, the report said, 3,101 were held under “administrative detention” and 1,419 under the “unlawful combatants” law, and 49% were held without charge or trial. The report said that it condemned “the continued denial of access to Palestinian prisoners by the International Committee of the Red Cross”.

The Commission of Detainees’ Affairs, the Palestinian Prisoners’ Society and Addameer said on 2 July 2026 that “the number of prisoners and detainees in Israeli occupation prisons reached about 9,400”, among them 99 women and more than 350 children. According to the same update of 2 July 2026, 3,244 people were held as administrative detainees and 1,320 detainees were "classified under the name 'unlawful combatants'". The update said that this figure "does not include all Gaza detainees held in the occupation army's camps and classified in this category, and it also includes Arab detainees from Lebanon and Syria."

The Commission of Detainees' Affairs, the Palestinian Prisoners' Society and Addameer said on 6 April 2026 that more than 9,600 prisoners and detainees were held as of the start of April 2026, among them 84 women and about 350 children. According to the update of 6 April 2026, there were 3,532 administrative detainees and 1,251 detainees classified as "unlawful combatants".

What has the ICRC said about access to Palestinian detainees?

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 6 October 2026 that over the last three years it had facilitated the return of more than 6,000 released Palestinian detainees, across many different operations.

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 9 September 2026 that a team had held a technical meeting, assessment and tour of a military detention facility in Israel, and that "the team neither met nor had direct contact with any detainees." The ICRC said that day: "The ICRC has been unable to access detainees held in Israeli detention facilities since October 2023."

In a summary of its work in the first half of 2026, published on 9 September 2026, the International Committee of the Red Cross said that visits to places of detention remained "suspended by Israeli authorities".

Israel's High Court of Justice ruled on 3 June 2026 to annul the government's policy prohibiting the Red Cross from visiting Palestinian security prisoners.

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 29 January 2026 that its operation under the ceasefire agreement began in October 2025 with the release November 2023 that it had received 2,700 reports of missing people, among them 1,500 children who were still under the rubble. In a report the Associated Press published on 7 October 2025, the International Committee of the Red Cross said that its list of the missing in Gaza had at least 7,000 cases still unresolved, not including those believed to be under rubble. UN OCHA said in its report of 5 November 2026 that child protection partners identified 20 unaccompanied and separated children in the Gaza Strip between 27 October and 2 November 2026. UNICEF said in November 2024 that there was an estimate of 17,000 unaccompanied and separated children in the Gaza Strip one year into the armed conflict.

How many missing children has the Gaza Government Media Office reported?

The Gaza Government Media Office said in a statement on 8 October 2026, marking three years of the war, that 9,500 missing people remained under the rubble or among the unknown.

The Ministry of Social Development said, in a statement the Gaza Government Media Office published on 5 April 2026, that estimates indicated about 18,000 children in the Gaza Strip were unaccompanied or separated from their families. The ministry said in the same statement that more than 8,100 citizens, among them children and women, were still counted among the missing under the rubble and in the streets.

The Gaza Government Media Office said on 14 June 2024, in a list of figures on Gaza's children, that 3,600 children were missing under the rubble.

The Gaza Government Media Office said at its daily press conference on 15 November 2023 that the number of missing had reached 3,640, among them 1,770 children who were still under the rubble.

How many missing people has the Gaza Health Ministry reported?

In a report the Associated Press published on 7 October 2025, the Gaza Health Ministry said that some 6,000 people had been reported by relatives to still be buried under rubble. Zaher al-Wahidi, the Gaza Health Ministry official in charge of data, said in the same report that the ministry had separately received reports from families of some 3,600 others missing, their fate unknown.

At a UN Geneva press briefing on 14 May 2024, World Health Organization spokesperson Christian Lindmeier said that the most comprehensive update on casualty figures by the Ministry of Health specified that some 25,000 victims had been fully identified, while 10,000 remained missing and were yet to be identified.

The Gaza Health Ministry said in a circular to citizens on 7 January 2024, published with a list of the names it had registered, that its list did not count the missing or those trapped under the rubble. The ministry invited the families of the missing to register their relatives who had not been registered.

The Gaza Health Ministry's spokesperson, Ashraf al-Qudra, said on 10 November 2023 that the ministry had received 2,700 reports of missing people, among them 1,500 children who were still under the rubble.

The Gaza Health Ministry's spokesperson, Ashraf al-Qudra, said on 18 October 2023 that the ministry had received about 1,300 reports of missing people under the rubble, among them 600 children.

What has the ICRC said about people missing in Gaza?

The Central Tracing Agency of the International Committee of the Red Cross (ICRC) was founded in 1870. Its work includes restoring family links and searching for and identifying missing persons.

The International Committee of the Red Cross said in an article on 30 August 2026 that "in Gaza, thousands of families are waiting for news of missing loved ones, some for nearly three years." The ICRC said in the same article that "forensic capacity in Gaza remains severely limited, and DNA testing facilities do not currently exist."

The ICRC said in the article of 30 August 2026 that under international humanitarian law, "each party to an armed conflict has the obligation to take all feasible measures to account for persons reported missing as a result of armed conflict and must provide their family members with any information it has on their fate."

In a report the Associated Press published on 7 October 2025, the International Committee of the Red Cross's chief spokesman, Christian Cardon, said that its list of the missing in Gaza had at least 7,000 cases still unresolved, not including those believed to be under rubble.

How many separated children has UN OCHA reported in Gaza?

In 1998, as part of the UN Secretary-General's programme of reform, the UN Department of Humanitarian Affairs became the Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA). Its mandate covers the coordination of humanitarian response, policy development and humanitarian advocacy.

UN OCHA said in its report of 5 November 2026 that between 27 October and 2 November 2026, child protection partners in the Gaza Strip identified 196 new child protection cases, including 17 injured children and 20 unaccompanied and separated children.

UN OCHA said in its report of 25 September 2026 that between 14 and 20 September 2026, 29 unaccompanied and separated children and other children at risk in the Gaza Strip were identified, registered and enrolled in alternative care and protection services. UN OCHA said in the same report that one child was reunified with a parent or family member in that week.

UN OCHA said in its report of 14 August 2026 that between 3 and 9 August 2026, 230 new high-risk child protection cases in the Gaza Strip were identified, including 28 unaccompanied and separated children and other children at risk who were registered for alternative care services.

How many unaccompanied or separated children has UNICEF estimated in Gaza?

The United Nations International Children's Emergency Fund (UNICEF) was established in 1946, in the aftermath of World War II.

UNICEF said in its situation report of 8 August 2026 that from 1 January to 30 June 2026, 146 children in the Gaza Strip benefited from family reunification services, and 843 children without parental care benefited from emergency, family and community-based alternative care arrangements.

UNICEF said in November 2024 that there was an estimate of 17,000 unaccompanied and separated children in the Gaza Strip one year into the armed conflict. UNICEF says that "unaccompanied children are children who have been separated from both parents and other relatives and are not being cared for by an adult who, by law or custom, is responsible for doing so." UNICEF said in the same brief that identifying, registering and reunifying separated children had been "severely challenged by the lack of access, security constraints and continuous population movements."

UNICEF State of Palestine Chief of Communication Jonathan Crickx said at a press briefing in Geneva on 2 February 2024: "UNICEF estimates that at least 17,000 children in the Gaza Strip are unaccompanied or separated." UNICEF said in the same briefing that this corresponded to 1% of the overall displaced population, 1.7 million people. Crickx said: "Of course, this is an estimation since

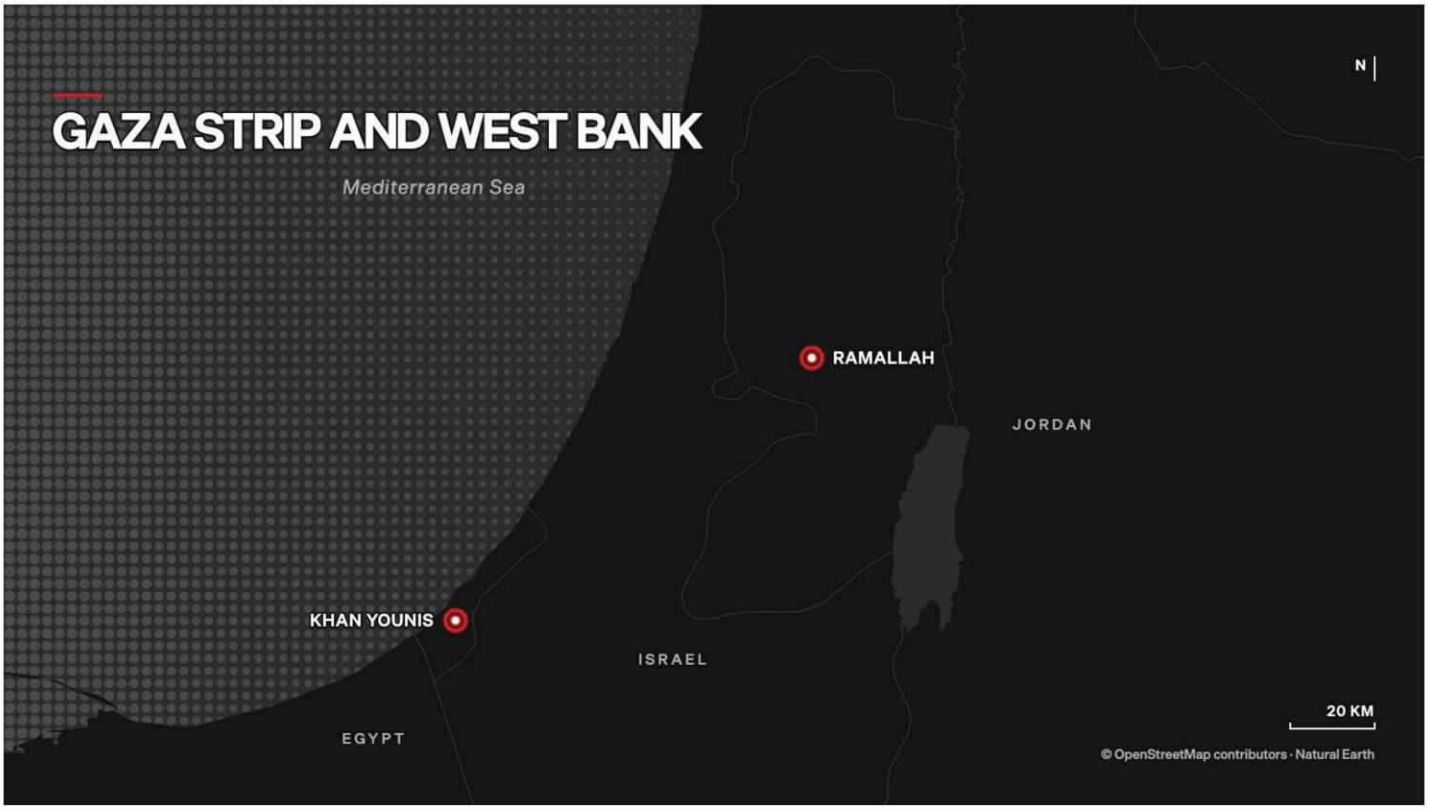
HOW MANY PALESTINIAN PRISONERS WERE RELEASED IN THE HOSTAGE EXCHANGES?

What Hamas, the ICRC, Israel's government and Palestinian prisoners' bodies have said about prisoners released in the exchanges since 2023.

FIGURES 23 November 2026 Palestinian prisoners Hostages ICRC Gaza ceasefire



The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 29 January 2026 that since October 2023 it had supported the return of 3,472 detainees. The Israel

Prison Service said on 13 October 2025 that Israel had released 1,968 mostly Palestinian prisoners held in its jails. Hamas said on 13 October 2025 that 154 of the prisoners were deported to Egypt. WAFA said on 13 October 2025 that "the first batch of 96 prisoners was freed from Ofer Prison".

What did the Gaza truces and ceasefire plan say about prisoners?

A truce between Israel and Hamas, mediated by Qatar and Egypt, took effect at 7 a.m. on 24 November 2023. The truce was extended by two days on 27 November 2023 and by a further day on 30 November 2023. The truce expired at 7 a.m. on 1 December 2023.

UN Security Council resolution 2735, adopted on 10 June 2024, describes a first phase of a ceasefire proposal that includes "the exchange of Palestinian prisoners". A ceasefire between Israel and Hamas took effect at 11.15 a.m. local time on 19 January 2025. The release of Palestinian prisoners scheduled for 22 February 2025, under the ceasefire of January 2025, was delayed, and Palestinian detainees were released overnight into 27 February 2025.

The ceasefire between Israel and Hamas in the Gaza Strip took effect at noon local time on 10 October 2025. In October 2025, Israel's government and Hamas agreed to the first phase of US President Donald Trump's Comprehensive Plan to End the Gaza Conflict, dated 29 September 2025. The Comprehensive Plan to End the Gaza Conflict is annexed to UN Security Council resolution 2803, which endorsed the plan on 17 November 2025.

The Comprehensive Plan to End the Gaza Conflict provides that within 72 hours of Israel publicly accepting the agreement, all hostages, alive and deceased, will be returned. The plan, as annexed to resolution 2803 on 17 November 2025, provides: "Once all hostages are released, Israel will release 250 life sentence prisoners plus 1700 Gazans who were detained after October 7th 2023, including all women and children detained in that context."

Ofer is an Israeli military prison near Ramallah, in the West Bank.

What prisoner release figures has Hamas given?

Hamas said on 13 October 2025 that 154 of the prisoners were deported to Egypt.

Hamas spokesperson Abdel Latif al-Qanou said on 22 February 2025 that the failure to carry out the release of the seventh batch of prisoners in the exchange deal at the agreed time constituted "a blatant violation of the agreement".

Hamas said in a statement on 8 February 2025 that 18 of the Palestinian prisoners released that day were serving life sentences. Hamas said on 8 February 2025 that 54 of them had lesser sentences. Hamas also said on 8 February 2025 that 111 were detained in Gaza after October 7.

Hamas said on 27 November 2023 that it had agreed to the extension of the four-day truce by 48 hours after the intervention of Qatar and Egypt, and with the same conditions. Hamas said on 26 November 2023 that it wanted "to extend the truce after the four-day period ends, through serious efforts to increase the number of those released from imprisonment as stipulated in the humanitarian ceasefire agreement."

Hamas said on 22 November 2023 that under a "humanitarian truce" 150 Palestinian women and children would be freed from Israeli jails.

How many detainees has the ICRC said it helped release?

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 29 January 2026 that since October 2023 it had supported the return of 3,472 detainees. The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 29 January 2026 that the operation began in October with the release and transfer of 20 living hostages and 1,808 detainees.

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 13 October 2025 that it had that day facilitated the return of 1,808 Palestinian detainees to Gaza and the West Bank. The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 13 October 2025: "A total of 1,968 detainees were released today". The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 13 October 2025 that it had facilitated the release and transfer of 3,472 detainees since October 2023 as part of ceasefire agreements. Earlier on 13 October 2025, the International Committee of the Red Cross said that in previous release operations it had facilitated the release and transfer of 1,931 detainees since October 2023.

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 27 February 2025 that in an overnight operation it had transferred 537 Palestinian detainees to Gaza and the West Bank. The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 27 February 2025: "In total 642 detainees were released today from places of detention in Israel."

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 15 February 2025 that it had transferred 343 Palestinian detainees from Israeli places of detention to Gaza and the West Bank. The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 15 February 2025: "A total of 369 detainees were released today." The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 15 February 2025 that six release operations under the ceasefire agreement had so far taken place, in which it had "safely facilitated the return of 24 hostages and 985 detainees."

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 8 February 2025 that its fifth release operation brought 174 detainees from Israeli places of detention to Gaza and the West Bank. The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 8 February 2025: "In total, 183 detainees were released today."

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 30 January 2025 that it had facilitated the release and transfer of 75 detainees from Israeli detention centres to Gaza and the West Bank. The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 30 January 2025: "In total, 110 Palestinian detainees were released today."

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 25 January 2025 that it had facilitated the release and transfer of 128 detainees from Israeli detention centres to Gaza and the West Bank. The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 25 January 2025 that its teams had also interviewed detainees before “a separate release and transfer organized by authorities”, and that “In total, 200 detainees were released today.”

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 20 January 2025 that it had facilitated the release and transfer of 90 Palestinian detainees from Israel. The ICRC said that the operation marked “the beginning of a multi-phase operation, as agreed by the parties, to bring hostages and detainees home.”

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 24 November 2023 that its teams had begun “a multi-day operation to facilitate the release and transfer of hostages held in Gaza and of Palestinian detainees to the West Bank.” The ICRC said that the parties to the conflict agreed to the details of the operation, “including who would be released and when”.

What prisoner release figures has Israel’s government given?

The Israel Prison Service said on 13 October 2025 that Israel had released 1,968 mostly Palestinian prisoners held in its jails.

A spokesperson for the Israel Prison Service said on 15 February 2025 that 369 Palestinian prisoners and detainees were released that day.

Israel’s Ministry of Justice said on 18 January 2025 that 737 prisoners and detainees would be freed as part of the agreement’s first phase. The ministry said in a statement that “The government approves” the “release (of) 737 prisoners and detainees” in the custody of the prison service. According to a decision of Israel’s government made early on 18 January 2025, Israel was set to release up to 1,904 Palestinian prisoners and detainees during the first, 42-day phase of its deal with Hamas.

The Israel Prison Service said early on 1 December 2023 that it had released 30 Palestinians from Israeli jails as part of the latest exchange for hostages under the truce deal with Hamas. The Israel Prison Service said on 29 November 2023: "During the night, 30 male and female security prisoners were released from a number of prison facilities." The Israel Prison Service said on 26 November 2023 that it had released 39 prisoners and detainees from a total of seven Israeli prisons.

Israel's government said on 22 November 2023 that it had approved the outline for the first stage, under which "at least 50 abductees" would be released over four days.

What release figures have Palestinian prisoners' bodies and WAFA given?

WAFA said on 13 October 2025 that "the first batch of 96 prisoners was freed from Ofer Prison". WAFA said on 13 October 2025 that the second batch included 154 prisoners serving life sentences, who would be transferred from the Gaza Strip to Egypt. WAFA said on 13 October 2025 that this was in addition to 1,718 detainees from the Gaza Strip "who were detained on October 7, 2023."

The Palestinian Prisoners' Information Office said on 27 February 2025 that 642 prisoners had been released overnight in the seventh phase of the Gaza ceasefire, of whom 46 were women or minors.

The Palestinian Prisoners' Information Office said on 15 February 2025 that 369 Palestinians were set to be released that day, including 333 Palestinians who had been detained in Gaza during the war. The Palestinian Prisoners Society said on 15 February 2025 that 333 Palestinians arrested in Gaza after the October 7 attack had arrived in the enclave that day.

October 2025 that over 870,000 residents had evacuated south from Gaza City. The Site Management Cluster said on 23 June 2026 that nearly 1,600 active displacement sites across Gaza were hosting an estimated 1.7 million people. UN OCHA, citing the Site Management Cluster, said on 15 October 2026 that an estimated 950,000 people were living in displacement sites at medium to high risk of flooding. UNRWA said on 4 November 2026 that 113 of its collective emergency shelters hosted approximately 60,000 internally displaced persons.

How many people has the Gaza Government Media Office said are displaced?

The Gaza Government Media Office said on 17 August 2026 that more than 2.15 million people in the Gaza Strip were displaced, among them about 867,000 people living in worn-out tents no longer fit for shelter. The office said that it was launching an urgent appeal on shelter ahead of the winter.

The Gaza Government Media Office said on 2 July 2026 that there were nearly 2 million displaced people in Gaza, living in 132,000 tents that had completely worn out.

The Gaza Government Media Office said on 22 December 2025 that more than 125,000 tents had gone out of service and were no longer fit to give the minimum of protection to more than 1.5 million displaced people.

The Gaza Government Media Office said on 24 September 2025 that nearly 335,000 people had had to leave their homes in Gaza City for the south, more than 60,000 of them in the previous three days. The office said in the same statement that more than 24,000 people had returned to their areas inside Gaza City.

The Gaza Government Media Office said on 20 September 2025 that nearly 270,000 people had had to leave their homes in Gaza City for the south, and that more than 22,000 had returned. The office said on 16 September 2025 that nearly 190,000 people had had to leave their homes in Gaza City for the south in the preceding days, and called the movement “forced displacement”.

How many people has Israel’s military said left Gaza City?

Gaza City is in the north of the Gaza Strip.

Israel’s military said on 3 October 2025 that “so far over 870,000 residents have evacuated south from Gaza City.” In the same post, the military said that it “once again calls on the Gazan residents to move to the Humanitarian Area for their safety.”

Israel’s military said on 21 September 2025 that more than 550,000 civilians had left Gaza City and moved southward. In a statement issued on 21 September 2025, the IDF Spokesperson, BG Effie Defrin, said that “until now, 550,000 people have moved south,” and that Israel “continues to ensure that corridors remain open for civilians to move south, toward safer areas.”

Israel’s military said on 10 September 2025 that it had begun “an effort to warn the civilian population in Gaza City” the day before, through voice messages, leaflets, text messages and phone calls. Its leaflet told residents: “For your safety, evacuate immediately via the Al-Rashid corridor to the humanitarian area in Al-Mawasi.”

How many displacement movements has the Site Management Cluster tracked in Gaza?

The Site Management Cluster is a coordination body of non-governmental organisations and United Nations agencies supporting displaced communities in Gaza. The cluster coordinates humanitarian organisations and United Nations agencies supporting displacement-affected communities across Gaza.

The Site Management Cluster said on 23 June 2026 that a new assessment had found nearly 1,600 active displacement sites across Gaza hosting an estimated 1.7 million people. The cluster said in the same release that humanitarian conditions across Gaza displacement sites "remain catastrophic despite relative improvements following the October 2025 ceasefire."

The Site Management Cluster said on 18 February 2026 that its count of displacement movements since 10 October 2025 stood at 832,865. The cluster said that since 10 October 2025, approximately 694,167 displacement movements had been observed crossing from south to north, primarily through Al-Rasheed Road.

The Site Management Cluster said on 18 February 2026 that "the numbers refer to displacement movements, and not individuals," and that "people are displaced multiple times, therefore what is reported is flow figures rather than stock figures." The cluster said that between 1 and 14 February 2026 it tracked 6,454 displacement movements, including 21 reverse movements from northern Gaza towards the southern governorates.

How many people has UN OCHA said live in Gaza's displacement sites?

In 1998, as part of the UN Secretary-General's programme of reform, the UN Department of Humanitarian Affairs became the Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA).

UN OCHA, citing the Site Management Cluster, said on 15 October 2026 that an estimated 950,000 people were living in displacement sites at medium to high risk of flooding, including more than 400,000 at high risk. UN OCHA, citing the cluster, said on 25 September 2026 that 451 displacement sites at high risk of flooding were hosting an estimated 464,402 people.

UN OCHA said on 12 February 2026 that "most people in Gaza continue to be displaced." Citing the Site Management and Protection clusters, UN OCHA said on 12 February 2026 that as of 11 February, at least two thirds of the population, 1.4 million of 2.1 million people, were estimated to reside in about 1,000 displacement sites.

UN OCHA said on 14 January 2026 that "nearly the entire population remains displaced, many multiple times." UN OCHA, citing the Site Management Cluster, said on 14 January 2026 that nearly 795,000 people were sheltering across 761 displacement sites in flood-prone areas.

UN OCHA, citing the Site Management Cluster, said on 12 November 2025 that as of 10 November, about 1 million people were residing in 862 displacement sites across the Gaza Strip, out of a total population of 2.1 million. UN OCHA said on 23 October 2025 that the cluster estimated that around 1 million people were residing in about 800 displacement sites as of 21 October, "noting that these figures fluctuate daily."

UN OCHA, citing the Site Management Cluster, said on 6 November 2025 that the total since 10 October 2025 had risen to 687,593 population movements, of which 559,247 were from southern to northern Gaza. UN OCHA said on 29 October 2025 that since 10 October 2025, cumulative tracking had identified over 502,000 movements from south to north of the Gaza Strip. UN OCHA said on 23 October 2025 that since 10 October 2025, about 546,000 movements of people had been tracked by the cluster's partners.

UN OCHA, citing the Site Management Cluster, said on 2 October 2025 that since mid-August there had been over 450,000 movements, about 404,000 of which were movements from northern to southern Gaza, mainly to Deir al Balah and Khan Younis. UN OCHA said on 25 September 2025 that the cluster had tracked more than 388,400 displacement movements between 14 August and 23 September 2025, the majority of them from Gaza City.

How many displaced people does UNRWA say live in its Gaza shelters?

The UN General Assembly established the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East on 8 December 1949. UNRWA manages collective emergency shelters in the Gaza Strip.

UNRWA said in its situation report of 4 November 2026 that 113 UNRWA collective emergency shelters hosted approximately 60,000 internally displaced persons. UNRWA said in the same report that it "continues to monitor the movement of displaced persons and displacement sites."

UNRWA said in its situation report of 15 April 2026 that an estimated 67,000 displaced people were living in 83 collective emergency shelters managed by the agency.

UNRWA said in its situation report of 7 January 2026 that as of 21 December 2025, 79,000 displaced people were estimated to be living in UNRWA collective emergency shelters and the surrounding areas, including in 85 displacement sites managed by the agency.

What figures have been given for displacement in Gaza?

The ceasefire between Israel and Hamas in the Gaza Strip took effect at noon local time on 10 October 2025. The Gaza Strip is a territory between Israel, Egypt and the Mediterranean Sea.

The Gaza Government Media Office, Israel's military, the Site Management Cluster, UN OCHA and UNRWA each gave figures on displacement in Gaza, each for the period and the definition it stated.

children. In figures UN OCHA published on 9 October 2025, the Gaza Health Ministry said that 461 malnutrition-related deaths, including 157 children, had been documented since October 2023, as of 7 October 2025. UNICEF Communication Manager Tess Ingram said on 9 December 2025 that at least 165 children were reported to have died of causes related to malnutrition during the war. The World Health Organization said in its emergency situation report dated 31 October 2026 that 9 malnutrition-related deaths among children aged 0 to 59 months were validated in 2026. Israel's military said on 12 August 2025 that its review of the ministry's July 2025 figures had verified "only a handful of cases".

How many malnutrition deaths has the Gaza Health Ministry stated?

The Gaza Health Ministry said on 16 October 2026, in a statement for World Food Day on its Telegram channel, that 466 deaths had been registered "due to malnutrition and starvation" since 2024. The Gaza Health Ministry said in the same statement that 157 children had died "due to malnutrition", and that older people made up the largest share of malnutrition deaths, at 189 older people. The ministry said that the war had "made hunger a daily reality".

The Gaza Health Ministry said on 11 October 2025, in its daily statistical report, that it had registered 463 "martyrs" as a result of "famine and malnutrition", among them 157 children. The Gaza Health Ministry said in the same report that 185 deaths, among them 42 children, had been registered since the IPC's announcement of famine in Gaza.

The Gaza Health Ministry said on 30 September 2025 that the total of deaths it had registered as a result of "famine and malnutrition" had reached 453 "martyrs", among them 150 children. The Gaza Health Ministry said in the same statement that 175 deaths, among them 35 children, had been registered since the IPC's announcement of famine in Gaza.

The Gaza Health Ministry said on 28 July 2025 that Gaza hospitals had registered 14 new deaths "as a result of famine and malnutrition" in the previous 24 hours. The Gaza Health Ministry said that the total of deaths from "famine and malnutrition" had risen to 147, among them 88 children.

The Gaza Health Ministry said on 22 July 2025, in an urgent statement, that Gaza hospitals had registered 15 deaths, among them 4 children, "as a result of famine and malnutrition" in the previous 24 hours. The Gaza Health Ministry said that the total of deaths from "famine and malnutrition" had reached 101, among them 80 children.

What has the IPC said about malnutrition deaths in Gaza?

The Integrated Food Security Phase Classification (IPC) says that it defines Famine as "an extreme deprivation of food", in which "starvation, death, destitution and extremely critical levels of acute malnutrition are or will likely be evident."

The IPC published an analysis of the Gaza Strip on 22 August 2025, covering 1 July to 15 August 2025 with a projection for 16 August to 30 September 2025. The analysis was conducted remotely from 30 July to 4 August 2025, and its conclusions were reviewed by the Famine Review Committee.

The IPC said in that analysis of 22 August 2025 that "non-trauma mortality in the Gaza Strip is likely underreported due to collapsed monitoring systems." The IPC said that "mortality among the population in Gaza Governorate is assessed to have reached the famine threshold."

The IPC said in the same analysis that "in the absence of reliable mortality data, data on public health and other contextual information were used to assess mortality trends for each area analysed, in accordance with the IPC protocols."

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:43 PM

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:43 PM

The IPC's Famine Review Committee said in its conclusions of 22 August 2025 that "increasing reports of malnutrition-related deaths suggest that the most vulnerable in society are beginning to succumb." The committee said that if an immediate and sustained ceasefire was not implemented and essential services were not restored, "avoidable deaths will increase exponentially."

Which statements on malnutrition deaths have Israel's military and COGAT issued?

COGAT, the Coordination of Government Activities in the Territories, is the Israeli unit that implements the government's civilian policy in the West Bank and in regard to the Gaza Strip. The unit reports to Israel's Minister of Defense.

Israel's military said in a post on X on 12 August 2025 that "Gaza's Ministry of Health claims 133+ malnutrition deaths in July alone, but failed to share identities." Israel's military said in the same post that "following the in-depth review, only a handful of cases were verified," and that "most 'malnutrition' deaths were due to severe pre-existing conditions."

COGAT said in its response to the IPC, dated 22 August 2025, that the IPC was "speculating wildly about mortality rates that even Hamas's own Health Ministry does not report." COGAT said in the same response that the IPC's reliance on UN data "makes independent verification of claims, such as thousands of malnourished children and recent hunger-related deaths, impossible."

COGAT and the Israel Ministry of Foreign Affairs said in a joint paper dated 11 September 2025 that "famine classification requires clear evidence of excess deaths." COGAT and the Israel Ministry of Foreign Affairs said in the same paper that "Gaza Ministry of Health figures were not only almost two orders of magnitude lower than the IPC protocol threshold, but also flat over time."

What malnutrition deaths has UN OCHA relayed from the Gaza Health Ministry?

In 1998, as part of the UN Secretary-General's programme of reform, the UN Department of Humanitarian Affairs became the Office for the Coordination of Humanitarian Affairs (OCHA). In 2025, UN OCHA issued its Humanitarian Situation Updates on the Gaza Strip every Wednesday or Thursday.

In figures UN OCHA published on 9 October 2025, the Gaza Health Ministry said that 461 malnutrition-related deaths, including 157 children, had been documented since October 2023, as of 7 October 2025.

In figures UN OCHA published on 18 September 2025, the Gaza Health Ministry said that 432 malnutrition-related deaths, including 146 children, had been documented since October 2023, as of 17 September 2025.

In figures UN OCHA published on 13 August 2025, the Gaza Health Ministry said that 235 malnutrition-related deaths, including 106 children, had been documented since October 2023, as of 13 August 2025. In figures UN OCHA published on 13 August 2025, the Gaza Health Ministry said that this included 170 deaths since 1 July 2025, of whom 45 were children.

In figures UN OCHA published on 30 July 2025, the Gaza Health Ministry said that as of 30 July 2025, malnutrition-related deaths had reached 154, including 89 children. In figures UN OCHA published on 30 July 2025, the Gaza Health Ministry said that on 24 July 2025 it had documented a total of 113 malnutrition-related deaths, including 81 children and 32 adults.

What have UNICEF and WHO said about malnutrition deaths in Gaza?

Organization (WHO) is the United Nations agency for health, founded in 1948. WHO EMRO publishes numbered Gaza emergency situation reports.

UNICEF Communication Manager Tess Ingram said at a briefing in Geneva on 9 December 2025 that "at least 165 children are reported to have died painful, preventable deaths related to malnutrition during the war."

UNICEF's Regional Director for the Middle East and North Africa, Edouard Beigbeder, said on 24 July 2025 that "in total, more than 100 people have died from malnutrition during this war, and 80 per cent of them are children." UNICEF's Regional Director said in the same statement that "since April this year, the reported number of children who have died from malnutrition has jumped from 52 to 80", citing the Palestinian Ministry of Health.

The World Health Organization said in its emergency situation report dated 31 October 2026 that "in 2026, nine malnutrition-related deaths among children aged 0-59 months were validated." The World Health Organization said in its report dated 30 June 2026 that "as of 1 June 2026, four confirmed malnutrition-related deaths among children aged 0-59 months had been reported."

The World Health Organization said in its report dated 30 April 2026 that "since January 2025, a total of 421 malnutrition-related deaths has been verified." The World Health Organization said in its report dated 31 January 2026 that "cumulatively, since October 2023, reported SAM-related outcomes have exceeded 421 deaths", SAM being severe acute malnutrition.

The World Health Organization said in its report dated 7 October 2025 that between 1 January and 24 September 2025, "a total of 369 verified deaths due to malnutrition were reported, including 97 children (with 77 less than 5 years old)."

The World Health Organization's Director-General, Tedros Adhanom Ghebreyesus, said on 7 August 2025 that "so far this year, 99 people have died from malnutrition, including 29 children under five," and that "these reported numbers are likely underestimates." The World Health Organization said on 27

HOW MUCH MILITARY AID DOES THE US GIVE ISRAEL?

US and Israeli government figures for US military aid to Israel: the 2016 memorandum, yearly FMF and missile defence, and the 2024 supplemental.

FIGURES 23 November 2026

US military aid | Memorandum of understanding | Foreign Military Financing | Missile defence | US Department of State | Israel's Ministry of Defense

Israel's Ministry of Defense said on 26 September 2024 that it had concluded negotiations in Washington for a $8.7 billion US aid package, of which $3.5 billion was for essential wartime procurement and $5.2 billion for air defense systems. The US Department of Defense said on 25 June 2024 that the national security supplemental President Biden signed carried "more than $14 billion in assistance for Israel". On 25 April 2025, the US Department of State said that, consistent with the memorandum of understanding for 2019 to 2028, "the United States annually provides $3.3 billion in FMF and $500 million for cooperative programs for missile defense." US President Donald Trump said on 3 November 2026 that "we give Israel $4 billion a year", and that the United States would stop by the end of the year.

What is the 2016 US-Israel memorandum of understanding on military aid?

The United States concluded a 10-year Memorandum of Understanding with Israel on security assistance for Fiscal Years 2019 to 2028. The memorandum of understanding between the United States and Israel on military assistance and missile defense was signed in the Treaty Room of the Department of State on 14 September 2016.

Under Secretary of State for Political Affairs Thomas A. Shannon, Jr., National Security Advisor Susan E. Rice and Israel's Acting National Security Advisor Jacob Nagel spoke at the signing.

Foreign Military Financing (FMF) is a program of Title 22 U.S. security assistance. Israel is authorized to use its annual FMF allocation to procure defense articles, services and training through the Foreign Military Sales system, through FMF-funded Direct Commercial Sales procurements and through Off Shore Procurement.

Through Off Shore Procurement, the current MOU allows Israel to spend a portion of its FMF on Israeli-origin rather than U.S.-origin defense articles, a portion set to decrease to zero in FY 2028.

The United States and Israel have signed a Mutual Defense Assistance Agreement (1952), a General Security of Information Agreement (1982), a Mutual Logistics Support Agreement (1991) and a Status of Forces Agreement (1994). Since 1983, the United States and Israel have met regularly via the Joint Political-Military Group.

What US military aid figures has Israel's government given?

Israel's Acting National Security Advisor Jacob Nagel said at the signing of the memorandum on 14 September 2016, on behalf of the prime minister of Israel, that the assistance would "cover a robust missile defense funding through the next decade for the first time". He said that it would help Israel "effectively plan and develop multi-layer missile defense systems".

Israel's Ministry of Defense said on 26 September 2024 that its Director General, Major General (Res.) Eyal Zamir, had concluded negotiations in Washington for "a substantial $8.7 billion U.S. aid package to support Israel's ongoing military efforts." In the same statement, Israel's Ministry of Defense said that the package comprised $3.5 billion for essential wartime procurement, already transferred to the ministry, and $5.2 billion designated for air defense systems, including the Iron Dome, David's Sling and an advanced laser system.

Israel's Prime Minister's Office said in a post on X on 6 November 2026: "U.S. military aid to Israel has always been a cross-the-aisle agreement." The office said in the same post: "Today, Israel has a strong and stable economy. The move by PM Netanyahu and President Trump from aid to partnership shows the strength and sophistication of our relationship, and its ability to adapt and stand strong over time."

Israel's Prime Minister's Office said in a post on X on 11 November 2026: "In 1996, Prime Minister Netanyahu said that Israel would gradually end U.S. financial support of $1.2 billion. He did just that." In the same post, the office said: "Thirty years later, Prime Minister Netanyahu said that Israel is strong enough economically to gradually end military support."

The post also quoted what Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said in May 2026: "I want to draw down to zero the American financial support."

What has the US Department of Defense said about aid to Israel?

The House of Representatives passed an aid package for Ukraine, Israel and the Indo-Pacific region, in the form of four separate bills, in April 2024. Joe Biden signed the bill of foreign aid to Ukraine, Israel and Taiwan into law on 24 April 2024.

The US Department of Defense said on 25 June 2024, in remarks by Secretary of Defense Lloyd J. Austin III welcoming Israel's Defense Minister Yoav Gallant to the Pentagon, that President Biden had signed the national security supplemental "with more than $14 billion in assistance for Israel".

What military aid figures has the US State Department given for Israel?

The US Department of State said on 13 September 2016 that the United States had concluded a new 10-year memorandum of understanding with Israel on security assistance for Fiscal Years 2019 to 2028. The Department said that the memorandum "constitutes the single largest pledge of bilateral military assistance in U.S. history."

In its paper "U.S. Security Cooperation with Israel" of 19 October 2023, the US Department of State's Bureau of Political-Military Affairs said that "consistent with the MOU, the United States annually provides $3.3 billion in FMF and $500 million for cooperative programs for missile defense." The US Department of State said in the same paper that since FY 2009, the United States had provided Israel with $3.4 billion in funding for missile defense, including $1.3 billion for Iron Dome support starting in FY 2011.

According to the US Department of State's paper of 19 October 2023, since its founding in 1948, the United States has provided Israel with over $130 billion in bilateral assistance. The US Department of State said in the same paper that as of October 2023, the United States had 599 active Foreign Military Sales cases with Israel, valued at $23.8 billion, and that from FY 2018 through FY 2022 it had authorized the permanent export of over $12.2 billion in defense articles to Israel through Direct Commercial Sales.

In its paper of 25 April 2025, the US Department of State said that "consistent with the MOU, the United States annually provides $3.3 billion in FMF and $500 million for cooperative programs for missile defense." The US Department of State said in the same paper that as of April 2025, the United States had 751 active Foreign Military Sales cases with Israel, valued at $39.2 billion.

Secretary of State Marco Rubio said in a press statement on 1 March 2025 that he had signed a declaration to use emergency authorities to expedite the delivery of approximately $4 billion in military assistance to Israel. The US Department of State said in the same statement that since taking office, the Trump Administration had approved "nearly $12 billion in major FMS sales to Israel."

Secretary of State Marco Rubio said on 9 November 2026 that President Trump wants the Foreign Military Financing portion of US aid to Israel to end "as soon as possible." Asked whether Israel could go without US military financing starting in 2027, Rubio said: "I think they could if they wanted to."

What has the White House said about military aid to Israel?

The White House's National Security Advisor, Susan E. Rice, said at the signing on 14 September 2016, on behalf of President Obama, that the memorandum

"commits to providing Israel $38 billion in military aid over 10 years, including $33 billion in foreign military financing funds and an unprecedented commitment of $5 billion for missile defense." Rice said in the same remarks that over the past eight years, the United States had provided Israel with "almost $24 billion in military aid", and had invested "over $3 billion in Iron Dome and other missile defense technologies".

The White House's Office of Management and Budget said in its request to Congress of 20 October 2023 that the request "would provide $4 billion to the Procurement, Defense-Wide account in the Department of Defense", for funds to be transferred to the government of Israel for the procurement of Iron Dome and David's Sling capabilities. In the same letter, the Office of Management and Budget said that the request would provide $1.2 billion for the development of the Iron Beam defense system, $3.5 billion in FMF funding for Israel and $4.4 billion to the Department of Defense for activities in response to the situation in Israel.

US President Donald Trump said in a telephone interview with Fox News on 3 November 2026: "As far as paying Israel, Bibi Netanyahu and I have made a deal that we give Israel $4 billion a year, and we made a deal months ago that we're stopping." Asked how the funding should be defined, Trump said in the same interview: "You can consider it barter. You can consider military aid or cash."

What US military aid figures for Israel have been given since 2016?

The US Department of State said on 25 April 2025 that the United States annually provides $3.3 billion in FMF and $500 million for cooperative programs for missile defense, consistent with the memorandum of understanding. Israel's Ministry of Defense said on 26 September 2024 that it had secured a $8.7 billion US aid package.

WHAT IS THE INTERNATIONAL STABILIZATION FORCE?

The International Stabilization Force in Gaza: what resolution 2803 and the plan provide, its command and contributors, its deployment and the withdrawal terms.

EXPLAINER 23 November 2026

International Stabilization Force | Resolution 2803 | Board of Peace | Comprehensive Plan to End the Gaza Conflict | Gaza Strip

Resolution 2803 authorises Member States working with the Board of Peace, and the Board of Peace itself, to establish a temporary International Stabilization Force in Gaza. The UN Security Council adopted the resolution on 17 November 2025 by 13 votes in favour, none against and 2 abstentions, according to the UN. Major General Jasper Jeffers of the United States was appointed Commander of the International Stabilization Force on 16 January 2026. In its report to the Security Council of 17 November 2026, the Board of Peace said that "the ISF has yet to be deployed".

What does resolution 2803 say about the International Stabilization Force?

Resolution 2803 authorises Member States working with the Board of Peace, and the Board of Peace itself, to establish a temporary International Stabilization Force in Gaza. The resolution provides that the force will deploy under unified command acceptable to the Board of Peace, with forces contributed by participating States, in close consultation and cooperation with Egypt and Israel.

The resolution's seventh paragraph reads in full that the Council "Authorizes Member States working with the BoP and the BoP to establish a temporary International Stabilization Force (ISF) in Gaza to deploy under unified command acceptable to the BoP, with forces contributed by participating States, in close consultation and cooperation with the Arab Republic of Egypt and the State of Israel, and to use all necessary measures to carry out its mandate consistent with international law, including international humanitarian law."

Resolution 2803 provides that the International Stabilization Force will work with Israel and Egypt, along with the newly trained and vetted Palestinian police force, to help secure border areas. The same paragraph of the resolution states the force's tasks: "The ISF shall work with Israel and Egypt, without prejudice to their existing agreements, along with the newly trained and vetted Palestinian police force, to help secure border areas; stabilize the security environment in Gaza by ensuring the process of demilitarizing the Gaza Strip, including the destruction and prevention of rebuilding of the military, terror, and offensive infrastructure, as well as the permanent decommissioning of weapons from non-state armed groups; protect civilians, including humanitarian operations; train and provide support to the vetted Palestinian police forces; coordinate with relevant States to secure humanitarian corridors; and undertake such additional tasks as may be necessary in support of the Comprehensive Plan."

The paragraph ends with the force's chain of guidance and its funding: "The ISF shall, (A) assist the BoP in monitoring the implementation of the ceasefire in Gaza, and enter into such arrangements as may be necessary to achieve the objectives of the Comprehensive Plan; and (B) operate under the strategic guidance of the BoP and will be funded through voluntary contributions from donors and BoP funding vehicles and governments".

Resolution 2803 provides that the international civil and security presences it authorises remain authorised until 31 December 2027, subject to further action by the Council, and that any further reauthorisation of the International Stabilization Force be in full cooperation and coordination with Egypt and Israel. The resolution calls upon Member States and international organisations to work with the Board of Peace to contribute personnel, equipment and financial resources to the force.

At the meeting of 17 November 2025, Pakistan said after the vote that "the establishment of the temporary International Stabilization Force could truly be stabilizing if guided by a clear peacekeeping mandate consistent with United Nations norms." The Russian Federation, which abstained, said: "What also raises questions is the mandate of the international stabilization force." The United States said before the vote that "The draft resolution authorizes the international stabilization force, a strong coalition of peacekeepers, many from Muslim-majority nations like Indonesia, Azerbaijan and others, to deploy under a unified command."

What does the Comprehensive Plan say about the stabilization force?

The Comprehensive Plan provides that the United States will work with Arab and international partners to develop a temporary International Stabilization Force to deploy immediately in Gaza. The plan provides that the force will train and support vetted Palestinian police forces in Gaza, consulting Jordan and Egypt, and that the force will be the long-term internal security solution.

The plan's point on the force, as annexed to resolution 2803, reads: "The United States will work with Arab and international partners to develop a temporary International Stabilization Force (ISF) to immediately deploy in Gaza. The ISF will train and provide support to vetted Palestinian police forces in Gaza, and will consult with Jordan and Egypt who have extensive experience in this field. This force will be the long-term internal security solution. The ISF will work with Israel and Egypt to help secure border areas, along with newly trained Palestinian police forces. It is critical to prevent munitions from entering Gaza and to facilitate the rapid and secure flow of goods to rebuild and revitalize Gaza. A deconfliction mechanism will be agreed upon by the parties."

The plan provides that if Hamas delays or rejects the proposal, its terms will proceed in areas handed over from the Israel Defense Forces to the force. In the plan's words: "In the event Hamas delays or rejects this proposal, the above, including the scaled-up aid operation, will proceed in the terror-free areas handed over from the IDF to the ISF."

The guarantors of the ceasefire, Egypt, Qatar, Türkiye and the United States, and the High Representative for Gaza developed and presented a road map to complete implementation of the Comprehensive Plan. The Board of Peace's first report says that the decommissioning process is sequenced to proceed in phases matched with commensurate implementation steps by Israel and other stakeholders. An International Stabilisation Force would be deployed to serve as a buffer, support the chain of custody for weapons, and protect humanitarian operations, according to the report.

Nickolay Mladenov, the Board of Peace's High Representative for Gaza, said at the Security Council on 21 May 2026 that the road map's twelfth principle "places the International Stabilization Force (ISF) between Israeli forces and NCAG-controlled areas. It is a buffer. It does not police Gaza. The Palestinian police police Gaza. It supports decommissioning, and it protects humanitarian operations." The Board of Peace said in its report of 17 November 2026 that under the road map, "At the end of the process only the NCAG will hold, store and render unusable weapons in Gaza, under ISF supervision."

Who commands and staffs the International Stabilization Force?

Major General Jasper Jeffers of the United States was appointed Commander of the International Stabilization Force on 16 January 2026. The White House said on 16 January 2026 that he "will lead security operations, support comprehensive demilitarization, and enable the safe delivery of humanitarian aid and reconstruction materials."

Azerbaijan's President Ilham Aliyev said on 5 January 2026 that Azerbaijan does not intend to participate in the force. "I have always maintained that the affairs of Arab countries should be resolved by the Arab countries themselves," he said. He said that Azerbaijan had been in contact with the US administration with a list of more than 20 questions about the operation of the force and had not received any clarification.

Indonesia's military said on 15 February 2026 that up to 8,000 troops were expected to be ready by the end of June for a potential deployment to Gaza. "Our troops are fully prepared and can be dispatched at short notice once the government gives formal approval," the military's spokesperson, Brig. Gen. Donny Pramono, said.

February 2026. Jeffers said at the meeting that "The ISF will do two things: stabilize the security environment in Gaza and enable civilian governance," and that Indonesia had agreed to fill the position of deputy commander of the force. Morocco's Foreign Minister Nasser Bourita said at the same meeting that Morocco would deploy "high-level military officers to the joint military command of the ISF."

The Board of Peace said in its report of 15 May 2026 that the declaration was signed by "the Republic of Albania, the Republic of Indonesia, the Republic of Kazakhstan, the Republic of Kosovo and the Kingdom of Morocco", "expressing their intention to contribute troops to the ISF." The same report says: "The ISF operates under the unified command of the United States through Major General Jasper Jeffers, and in close consultation and cooperation with the Arab Republic of Egypt and the State of Israel." Indonesia's Defence Minister Sjafrie Sjamsoeddin said to parliament in May 2026 that "we have not yet received any implementation guidelines." "Since the BoP has been left behind, the ISF has also been left behind," he said.

The United States said at the Security Council on 28 July 2026 that "Morocco officially signed up as a troop contributor to the International Stabilization Force (ISF) on 15 July, the first country to do so." On 26 August 2026, the United States said: "Countries as far as Uganda, Morocco and Kazakhstan have offered thousands of troops to this effort." Morocco said at the Council on 15 October 2026 that it had announced its willingness "to deploy officers from the Royal Armed Forces to take part in the international stabilization force".

The Board of Peace said in a post on X on 23 October 2026: "Important agreement between the International Stabilization Force and Albania that provides additional security operations support and operations planning capabilities for the mission in Gaza." Kosovo's Ministry of Defence said in a written response published on 26 October 2026: "Kosovo's EOD team is ready and will deploy once ISF is prepared to receive it." The Board of Peace said in its report of 17 November 2026 that "Morocco was the first country to conclude the Agreement on 17 July to provide support to humanitarian delivery in Gaza and training of the NCAG-led police through its contribution to the ISF." The same report says: "Representatives of Kosovo and the Board of Peace subsequently signed an agreement on 7 September in Pristina, followed by a signing ceremony in Albania on 21 October, concluding the country's operational planning and support contribution to the ISF."

Has the International Stabilization Force deployed in Gaza?

The Board of Peace said in its report to the Security Council of 17 November 2026 that "the ISF has yet to be deployed." Resolution 2803 requests the Board of Peace to provide a written report to the Security Council every six months.

The Board of Peace said in its first report, of 15 May 2026: "Preparations for deployment are well advanced." The report added: "Deployments are anticipated in phases, aligned to conditions on the ground and the status of implementation of the Comprehensive Plan, including decommissioning."

Israel's delegation said at the Security Council on 28 July 2026 that "the Israeli security cabinet approved the initial entry of the International Stabilization Force into Gaza so that we can start a pilot reconstruction project in Rafah, creating a humanitarian zone without Hamas control." Ramiz Alakbarov, the UN's Deputy Special Coordinator for the Middle East Peace Process, said at the same meeting: "I take note of the steps taken by the Israeli authorities on 26 July to enable the deployment of the ISF to Gaza."

Israel's Prime Minister's Office said on 20 August 2026: "Contrary to media reports, the political echelon has not approved the entry of the international force to the Gaza Strip." Mladenov said at the Security Council on 26 August 2026 that "The International Stabilization Force continues also to generate under the command of United States Major General Jasper Jeffers." He said: "Three things must be in place for the process to move forward: the ISF needs to be able to deploy; Israel's undertakings under the Sharm el-Sheikh protocol need to be implemented; and Hamas must adhere to its commitments." The United States said at the same meeting: "Tactical vehicles are already at the International Stabilization Force logistics base."

At the Security Council on 15 October 2026, the United States said: "The International Stabilization Force troops are preparing to deploy." The Russian Federation said at the same meeting: "Unresolved issues include the access of the International Stabilization Force to the Gaza Strip and their operations". Alakbarov, the UN's Acting Special Coordinator, said that the Comprehensive Plan "must be implemented in full", including "the deployment of the international stabilization force."

In its report of 17 November 2026, the Board of Peace said: "Preparations for deployment also continued with completion of the ISF logistics support area and advancement in the preparation of mission support sites and equipment contributions." The report calls on the Government of Israel "to take without delay the decisions required for the training, deployment and return of the civilian police and for the entry of the NCAG and the ISF".

How is the stabilization force tied to Israel's withdrawal from Gaza?

Resolution 2803 provides that, as the International Stabilization Force establishes control and stability, the Israel Defense Forces will withdraw from the Gaza Strip based on standards, milestones and timeframes linked to demilitarisation, save for a security perimeter presence. The resolution's words are: "As the ISF establishes control and stability, the Israel Defense Forces (IDF) will withdraw from the Gaza Strip based on standards, milestones, and timeframes linked to demilitarization that will be agreed between the IDF, ISF, the guarantors, and the United States, save for a security perimeter presence that will remain until Gaza is properly secure from any resurgent terror threat."

The plan provides that the Israel Defense Forces will progressively hand over territory to the force until they are withdrawn completely from Gaza, save for a security perimeter presence. The plan says that "As the ISF establishes control and stability, the Israel Defense Forces (IDF) will withdraw based on standards, milestones, and timeframes linked to demilitarization that will be agreed upon between the IDF, ISF, the guarantors, and the United States, with the objective of a secure Gaza that no longer poses a threat to Israel, Egypt, or its citizens." Under the road map, the Israel Defense Forces would withdraw in phases to the Gaza perimeter, contingent upon verified progress in decommissioning.

Pakistan said at the Security Council on 17 November 2025: "The ISF mandate will be effective only once there is a complete Israeli withdrawal." Egypt's Foreign Minister Badr Abdelatty said at the Council on 18 February 2026 that "Palestinian police officers must also be deployed to carry out their tasks in maintaining security, leading to Israel's full withdrawal from the Gaza Strip." Mladenov said on 21 May 2026 that the road map's thirteenth principle "commits Israel to a phased withdrawal of its forces to Gaza's perimeter, on an agreed timetable, tied to verified progress on decommissioning and the deployment of the ISF."

Egypt said at the Council on 15 October 2026 that it emphasised "deploying the international stabilization force and the Palestinian police, in parallel with the Israeli withdrawal". The Board of Peace said in its report of 17 November 2026: "The Roadmap defines the role of the ISF, provides for the phased withdrawal of Israeli forces in step with decommissioning". Israeli Defence Minister Israel Katz said on 18 November 2026 that any drawdown or redeployment of Israeli forces within the buffer zones would take place only after "Hamas is dismantled and Gaza is demilitarized".

What has been said about the International Stabilization Force's mandate?

Hamas said on 17 November 2025, before the vote on resolution 2803, that "Any international force must be directly subordinate to the UN". The Russian Federation said after the vote on 17 November 2025 that the Council was "leaving the Gaza Strip at the mercy of the Board of Peace and the international stabilization force, the working methods of which are still unknown to us."

Basem Naim, a senior Hamas official, said to the Associated Press on 7 December 2025: "We are welcoming a UN force to be near the borders, supervising the ceasefire agreement, reporting about violations, preventing any kind of escalations." He said: "But we don't accept that these forces have any kind of mandates authorizing them to do or to be implemented inside the Palestinian territories." Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said the same day: "We know that there are certain missions that this force could do." He continued: "There are certain things they can't do, maybe the main task they can't do, but we will see."

US President Donald Trump said in a post on 15 February 2026: "Very importantly, Hamas must uphold its commitment to full and immediate demilitarization." Egypt's Foreign Minister said at the Security Council on 18 February 2026 that "the formation and deployment of the international stabilization force must be expedited to monitor the ceasefire and ensure the continued flow of humanitarian aid." The United States said at the same meeting that the force, "for which we have seen thousands of soldiers pledged, will create security, preserve peace and establish a durable terror-free environment."

Hamas spokesperson Hazem Qassem said to AFP on 20 February 2026: "we want peacekeeping forces that monitor the ceasefire, ensure its implementation, and act as a buffer." He said that the forces should act "without interfering in Gaza's internal affairs".

Frequently asked questions

Who authorised the International Stabilization Force?

Resolution 2803 authorises Member States working with the Board of Peace, and the Board of Peace itself, to establish a temporary International Stabilization Force in Gaza. The UN Security Council adopted the resolution on 17 November 2025 by 13 votes in favour, none against and 2 abstentions, according to the UN.

How long is the International Stabilization Force authorised for?

Resolution 2803 provides that the international civil and security presences it authorises remain authorised until 31 December 2027, subject to further action by the Council, and that any further reauthorisation of the International Stabilization Force be in full cooperation and coordination with Egypt and Israel.

Which countries has the Board of Peace thanked for supporting the force?

The Board of Peace said in its report to the Security Council of 17 November 2026: "The Board of Peace thanks and expresses its sincere appreciation to Egypt, Jordan, Morocco, Albania, Kosovo and Kazakhstan for their contributions and support to the ISF."

Is Indonesia sending troops to the International Stabilization Force?

Indonesia's military said on 15 February 2026 that up to 8,000 troops were expected to be ready by the end of June for a potential deployment to Gaza. Indonesia's Defence Minister Sjafrie Sjamsoeddin said to parliament in May 2026 that "we have not yet received any implementation guidelines."

Did Azerbaijan join the International Stabilization Force?

Azerbaijan's President Ilham Aliyev said on 5 January 2026 that Azerbaijan does not intend to participate in the force. The United States had said on 17 November 2025 that the force would include peacekeepers "from Muslim-majority nations like Indonesia, Azerbaijan and others".

Where is the International Stabilization Force's headquarters?

ISF Commander Maj. Gen. Jasper Jeffers said on 19 February 2026 that the US had established a joint operation center that would be the headquarters of the force. The United States said at the Security Council on 26 August 2026: "Tactical vehicles are already at the International Stabilization Force logistics base."

Who does the International Stabilization Force report to?

Under the resolution, the force operates under the strategic guidance of the Board of Peace and is funded through voluntary contributions from donors, Board of Peace funding vehicles and governments. Resolution 2803 requests the

WHAT IS THE IPC?

The IPC: what it is, its phases and Famine review, how it is governed, its Gaza analyses since December 2023, and dated statements on its role.

PROFILE 23 November 2026

IPC | Integrated Food Security Phase Classification | Famine Review Committee | Gaza Strip | food insecurity

nutrition analysis to inform decisions. Its global partners include the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), the World Food Programme (WFP), the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), the World Health Organization (WHO) and the World Bank. At the global level, the IPC is governed by the IPC Global Steering Committee, composed of senior officers representing its partner organisations.

What is the Integrated Food Security Phase Classification?

The Integrated Food Security Phase Classification (IPC) describes itself as a multi-stakeholder global initiative aimed at enhancing food security and nutrition analysis to inform decisions. The IPC was created in 2004.

Its global partners include the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), the World Food Programme (WFP), the United Nations Children's Fund (UNICEF), the World Health Organization (WHO), the World Bank, the Famine Early Warning Systems Network (FEWS NET), Oxfam, Save the Children and CARE International. Governments, UN agencies, NGOs and other stakeholders use the IPC classification to determine the severity and extent of acute and chronic food insecurity and acute malnutrition situations within countries.

The IPC uses three scales: Acute Food Insecurity, Chronic Food Insecurity and Acute Malnutrition. An IPC analysis gives a snapshot of the current severity of acute food insecurity and a projection of future conditions.

What are the IPC's five phases of acute food insecurity?

The IPC Acute Food Insecurity scale classifies areas in five phases: Minimal/None (Phase 1), Stressed (Phase 2), Crisis (Phase 3), Emergency (Phase 4) and Catastrophe/Famine (Phase 5). The IPC says in its brochure on its scales that Phase 5 is "Catastrophe (household classification) / Famine (area classification)."

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:51 PM

The IPC describes Phase 1 (Minimal/None) as households that are able to meet essential food and non-food needs without engaging in atypical and unsustainable strategies to access food and income. It describes Phase 2 (Stressed) as households that have minimally adequate food consumption but are unable to afford some essential non-food expenditures without engaging in stress-coping strategies.

The IPC says in its brochure on its scales that in Phase 3 (Crisis), households either "Have food consumption gaps that are reflected by high or above-usual acute malnutrition" or "Are marginally able to meet minimum food needs but only by depleting essential livelihood assets or through crisis-coping strategies."

The IPC describes Phase 4 (Emergency) as households that either have large food consumption gaps reflected in very high acute malnutrition and excess mortality, or are able to mitigate large food consumption gaps only by employing emergency livelihood strategies and asset liquidation.

For Phase 5 (Catastrophe/Famine), the IPC says in the same brochure: "Households have an extreme lack of food and/or other basic needs even after full employment of coping strategies. Starvation, death, destitution and extremely critical acute malnutrition levels are evident."

The IPC's Acute Malnutrition scale has five phases: Acceptable, Alert, Serious, Critical and Extremely Critical.

How does the IPC classify an area in Famine?

The IPC said on 30 August 2025 that acute malnutrition reaches famine levels when at least 30% of children aged 6 to 59 months have a weight-for-height Z-score (WHZ) below minus 2 standard deviations or oedema. The IPC said on 30 August 2025 that, measured by mid-upper arm circumference (MUAC), the threshold is at least 15% of children aged 6 to 59 months with a MUAC below 125 mm or oedema, where evidence shows a rapid deterioration of underlying drivers of acute malnutrition.

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:51 PM

The IPC said on 30 August 2025 that its mortality threshold for Famine "requires a crude death rate of 2 deaths per 10,000 people per day." It said in the same response: "The key principle is the convergence of evidence: famine is not classified based on MUAC alone, but when food deprivation, malnutrition, and mortality all indicate catastrophic conditions."

The Famine Review Committee (FRC) is an ad hoc committee of international technical experts in food security, livelihoods, nutrition and health. A Famine review is mandatory for any Famine classification and is conducted before the analysis team releases its findings.

The FRC report is made publicly available on the IPC website along with the analysis team's report. The FRC was established in 2014 and was originally called the Emergency Review Committee. The FRC has conducted Famine reviews for Ethiopia, the Gaza Strip, Somalia, South Sudan, Sudan and Yemen.

How is the IPC governed?

At the global level, the IPC is governed by the IPC Global Steering Committee, composed of senior officers representing its partner organisations. At the country level, IPC implementation is led by the IPC Technical Working Group, hosted by the government and composed of representatives of the government, United Nations agencies, specialised agencies and NGOs.

The IPC Global Support Unit activates the Famine Review Committee when an IPC analysis shows a potential or already identified Famine classification, or when technical consensus on a potential Famine classification breaks down, and serves as its chair and secretariat.

What has the IPC published on the Gaza Strip since December 2023?

On 21 December 2023, the IPC released its analysis of the Gaza Strip for 24 November to 7 December 2023, with a projection for 8 December 2023 to 7 February 2024, and the Famine Review Committee reviewed its classifications.

The IPC said on 21 December 2023: "There is a risk of Famine and it is increasing each day that the current situation of intense hostilities and restricted humanitarian access persists or worsens." The IPC said on 21 December 2023 that, between 8 December 2023 and 7 February 2024, "the entire population in the Gaza Strip (about 2.2 million people) is classified in IPC Phase 3 or above (Crisis or worse)."

On 18 March 2024, the IPC released its analysis for 15 February to 15 March 2024, with a projection for 16 March to 15 July 2024, with a Famine Review Committee report.

The IPC said on 18 March 2024: "The latest evidence confirms that Famine is imminent in the northern governorates of the Gaza Strip and projected to occur anytime between mid-March and May 2024." It said that, in its most likely scenario for the projection period, "both North Gaza and Gaza Governorates are classified in IPC Phase 5 (Famine) with reasonable evidence."

On 25 June 2024, the IPC released its analysis for 1 May to 15 June 2024, with a projection for 16 June to 30 September 2024.

The IPC said on 25 June 2024: "A high risk of Famine persists across the whole Gaza Strip as long as conflict continues and humanitarian access is restricted." The IPC said on 25 June 2024 that the whole territory was classified in Emergency (IPC Phase 4) and that over 495,000 people were "still facing catastrophic levels of acute food insecurity (IPC Phase 5)."

On 17 October 2024, the IPC released its analysis for September to October 2024, with a projection for November 2024 to April 2025.

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:51 PM

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:51 PM

The IPC said on 17 October 2024: “One year into the conflict, the risk of Famine persists across the whole Gaza Strip.” The IPC said on 17 October 2024 that, between September and October 2024, “the whole territory is classified in IPC Phase 4 (Emergency),” with nearly 133,000 people “facing catastrophic food insecurity (IPC Phase 5).”

On 8 November 2024, the Famine Review Committee published an alert on the Gaza Strip. The IPC’s Famine Review Committee said on 8 November 2024: “There is a strong likelihood that famine is imminent in areas within the northern Gaza Strip.”

On 12 May 2025, the IPC released its analysis for 1 April to 10 May 2025, with a projection for 11 May to 30 September 2025.

The IPC said on 12 May 2025: “Nineteen months into the conflict, the Gaza Strip is still confronted with a critical risk of Famine.” The IPC said on 12 May 2025 that, from 11 May to the end of September 2025, “the whole territory is classified in Emergency (IPC Phase 4),” including 470,000 people “in Catastrophe (IPC Phase 5).”

On 29 July 2025, the IPC issued an alert on the Gaza Strip, based on evidence available until 25 July 2025.

The IPC said on 29 July 2025: “The worst-case scenario of Famine is currently playing out in the Gaza Strip.” It said in the alert that an alert “does not classify areas or provide population estimates and does not constitute a Famine classification.”

The IPC published an analysis of the Gaza Strip on 22 August 2025, covering 1 July to 15 August 2025 with a projection for 16 August to 30 September 2025. The analysis was conducted remotely from 30 July to 4 August 2025, and its conclusions were reviewed by the Famine Review Committee.

The IPC said on 22 August 2025 that, as of 15 August 2025 and with reasonable evidence, Famine (IPC Phase 5) “is confirmed in Gaza Governorate.” It said that between mid-August and the end of September 2025, “conditions are expected to further worsen with Famine projected to expand to Deir al-Balah and Khan Younis.”

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:51 PM

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:51 PM

The IPC said on 22 August 2025 that 641,000 people were “expected to face catastrophic conditions (IPC Phase 5)” by the end of September 2025. It said: “Against this backdrop, mortality among the population in Gaza Governorate is assessed to have reached the famine threshold.” It also said: “In the absence of reliable mortality data, data on public health and other contextual information were used to assess mortality trends for each area analysed, in accordance with the IPC protocols.”

On 30 August 2025, the IPC published a response to issues raised following its Famine classification in the Gaza Strip.

On 19 December 2025, the IPC released its analysis for 16 October to 30 November 2025, with a projection for 1 December 2025 to 15 April 2026, with a Famine Review Committee statement.

The IPC said on 19 December 2025: “Following a significant reduction in conflict, a proposed peace plan, and improved access for both humanitarian and commercial food deliveries, food security conditions have improved in the Gaza Strip. However, the situation remains critical.” The IPC said on 19 December 2025 that, from 1 December 2025 to 15 April 2026, about 1,900 people would be “in Catastrophe (IPC Phase 5), reflecting a reduction in the most extreme conditions.”

On 23 July 2026, the IPC released its analysis for 16 April to 30 June 2026, with a projection for 1 July to 31 December 2026.

The IPC said on 23 July 2026: “The entire Gaza Strip is classified in IPC Phase 3 (Crisis).” The IPC said on 23 July 2026 that between mid-April and 30 June 2026, 212,000 people were “in Emergency (IPC Phase 4).”

What has been said about the IPC's role in Gaza?

COGAT said on 22 August 2025 that it "firmly rejects the findings of the latest IPC report published on August 22, specifically the claim of famine in Gaza city." COGAT head Maj. Gen. Ghassan Alian also said on 22 August 2025: "Instead of providing a professional, neutral and responsible assessment, the report adopts a biased approach riddled with severe methodological flaws, thereby undermining its credibility and the trust the international community is able to place in it."

Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs said on 22 August 2025 that the IPC "bent its own rules to fit Hamas's campaign. They lowered famine thresholds, ignored criteria and laundered Hamas lies." It also said: "The IPC could not find famine, so they forged one."

Israel's Prime Minister's Office said on 22 August 2025: "The IPC report is an outright lie."

UN Secretary-General António Guterres said on 22 August 2025, of the results of the IPC's analysis: "It is a man-made disaster, a moral indictment." He also said: "Famine is not about food; it is the deliberate collapse of the systems needed for human survival."

Algeria, China, Denmark, France, Greece, Guyana, Pakistan, Panama, the Republic of Korea, the Russian Federation, Sierra Leone, Slovenia, Somalia and the United Kingdom, members of the UN Security Council, said in a joint statement on 27 August 2025: "We trust the IPC's work and methodology." They said of the IPC data on Gaza: "It clearly and unequivocally confirms Famine in the Gaza Governorate."

US acting Ambassador to the UN Dorothy Shea said at the Security Council on 27 August 2025: "We can only solve problems with credibility and integrity. Unfortunately, the recent report from the IPC doesn't pass the test either."

The IPC said on 30 August 2025: "The IPC has not changed its standards for famine classification in Gaza." It said in the same response: "These issues should not divert attention from the most critical matter of stopping the Famine, preventing it from spreading further, and averting further loss of life and catastrophic suffering in the Gaza Strip."

COGAT and the Israel Ministry of Foreign Affairs said in a joint paper on 11 September 2025: “Famine classification requires clear evidence of excess deaths.” They said that “Gaza Ministry of Health figures were not only almost two orders of magnitude lower than the IPC protocol threshold, but also flat over time.”

The Gaza Health Ministry said on 30 September 2025, in Arabic, that “since the IPC’s announcement of famine in Gaza, 175 deaths have been registered, among them 35 children, to date.”

COGAT said on 23 July 2026 that the IPC’s analysis had overlooked Israeli data on the number of trucks entering Gaza.

Frequently asked questions

When was the IPC created?

The IPC was created in 2004. The Integrated Food Security Phase Classification (IPC) describes itself as a multi-stakeholder global initiative aimed at enhancing food security and nutrition analysis to inform decisions.

Which organisations are partners in the IPC?

The Integrated Food Security Phase Classification’s global partners include the Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations (FAO), the World Food Programme (WFP), the United Nations Children’s Fund (UNICEF), the World Health Organization (WHO), the World Bank, the Famine Early Warning Systems Network (FEWS NET), Oxfam, Save the Children and CARE International.

What is the difference between Famine and Catastrophe in the IPC scale?

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:51 PM

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:51 PM

The IPC says in its brochure on its scales that Phase 5 of its Acute Food Insecurity scale is “Catastrophe (household classification) / Famine (area classification).” The IPC Acute Food Insecurity scale classifies areas in five phases: Minimal/None (Phase 1), Stressed (Phase 2), Crisis (Phase 3), Emergency (Phase 4) and Catastrophe/Famine (Phase 5).

What is the IPC’s Famine Review Committee?

The Famine Review Committee (FRC) is an ad hoc committee of international technical experts in food security, livelihoods, nutrition and health. A Famine review is mandatory for any Famine classification and is conducted before the analysis team releases its findings.

When did the IPC classify Famine in Gaza Governorate?

The IPC said on 22 August 2025 that, as of 15 August 2025 and with reasonable evidence, Famine (IPC Phase 5) “is confirmed in Gaza Governorate.” Its analysis covered 1 July to 15 August 2025 with a projection for 16 August to 30 September 2025.

Which governorates did the IPC project Famine would spread to in 2025?

The IPC said on 22 August 2025 that between mid-August and the end of September 2025, “conditions are expected to further worsen with Famine projected to expand to Deir al-Balah and Khan Younis.”

Does an IPC alert classify Famine?

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:51 PM

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:51 PM

The IPC said on 29 July 2025, in its alert on the Gaza Strip, that an alert "does not classify areas or provide population estimates and does not constitute a Famine classification."

What did the IPC say about Gaza in December 2025?

The IPC said on 19 December 2025: "Following a significant reduction in conflict, a proposed peace plan, and improved access for both humanitarian and commercial food deliveries, food security conditions have improved in the Gaza Strip. However, the situation remains critical."

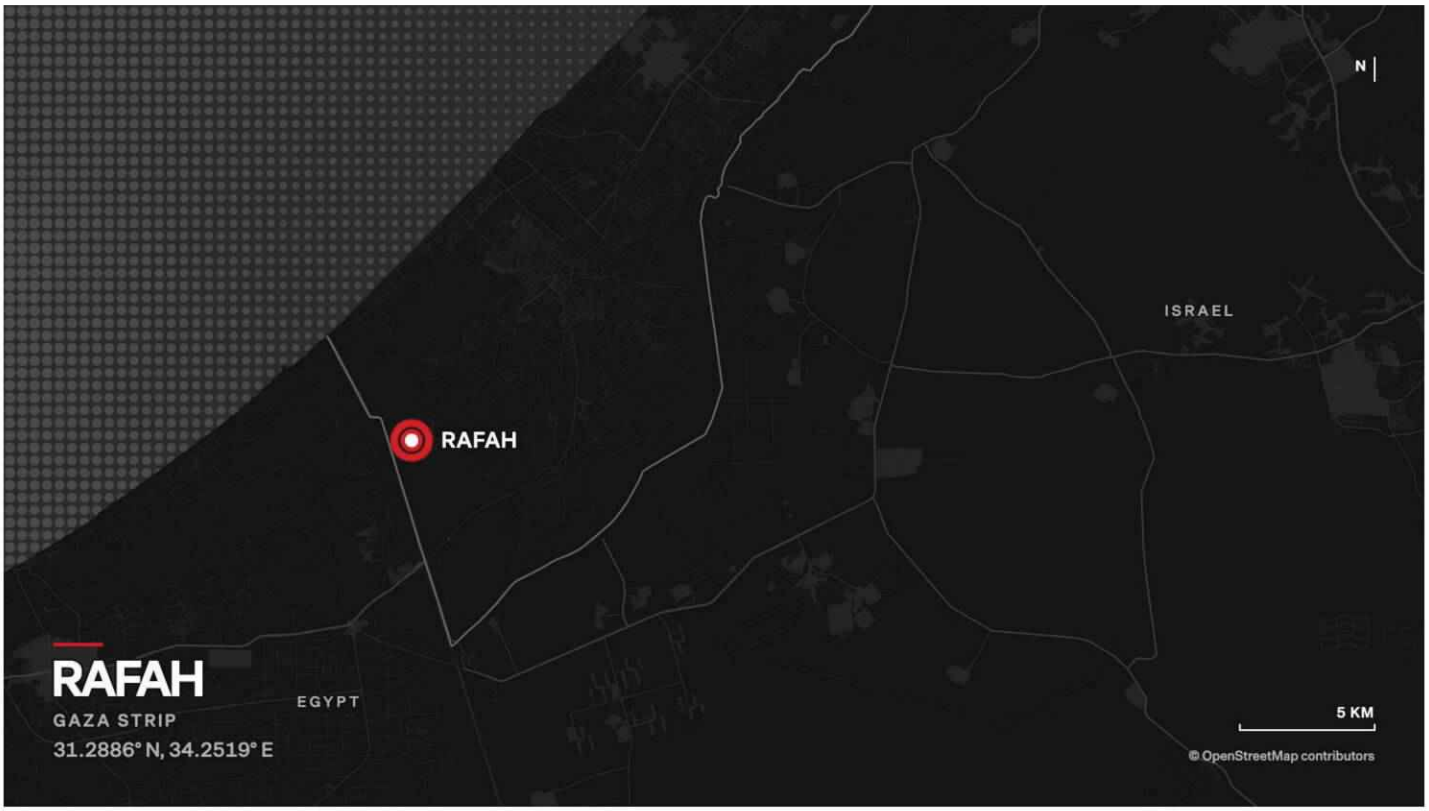
WHAT IS THE RAFAH CROSSING?

The Rafah crossing between the Gaza Strip and Egypt: where it is, how it is run, its dated history, and dated statements on its role.

PROFILE 23 November 2026

Rafah crossing | Rafah | Gaza Strip | Egypt | EUBAM Rafah | crossings



The Rafah crossing is on the border between the Gaza Strip and Egypt, and it is the Gaza Strip's only connection to Egypt. The Agreed Principles for Rafah Crossing of 15 November 2005 provide that Rafah will be operated by the Palestinian Authority on its side and Egypt on its side, and name the European Union as the third party. The Rafah Crossing Point reopened on 2 February 2026 for a controlled number of passengers in both directions.

Where is the Rafah crossing?

The Rafah crossing is on the border between the Gaza Strip and Egypt. The Rafah crossing is the Gaza Strip's only connection to Egypt, and the only crossing of the Gaza Strip not shared with Israel.

The Rafah crossing is the southernmost exit from the Gaza Strip. It is the only exit from the Gaza Strip that does not lead to Israeli territory.

The Kerem Shalom crossing is on the border of Egypt, Israel and the Gaza Strip, a few kilometres from the Rafah crossing.

The Gaza Strip is a territory between Israel, Egypt and the Mediterranean Sea. The Gaza Strip is divided into five governorates: North Gaza, Gaza, Deir al-Balah, Khan Younis and Rafah.

The Rafah refugee camp, established in 1949, is in the south of the Gaza Strip near the Egyptian border.

Who runs the Rafah crossing under the Agreement on Movement and Access?

On 15 November 2005, negotiators from Israel and the Palestinian Authority reached an agreement on movement and access from and to Gaza, set out in two documents: the Agreement on Movement and Access and the Agreed Principles for Rafah Crossing. US Secretary of State Condoleezza Rice, European Union High Representative Javier Solana and James Wolfensohn, the international community's envoy for the Israeli disengagement from Gaza, facilitated the negotiations.

The Agreement on Movement and Access states: "It represents the commitments of the Government of Israel (GoI) and the Palestinian Authority (PA)." The Agreed Principles for Rafah Crossing state: "Rafah will be operated by the Palestinian Authority on its side, and Egypt on its side, according to international standards, in accordance with Palestinian law and subject to the terms of this agreement."

On who may cross, the Agreed Principles for Rafah Crossing state: "Use of the Rafah crossing will be restricted to Palestinian ID card holders and others by exception in agreed categories with prior notification to the GoI and approval of senior PA leadership." The text provides that "The PA will notify the GoI 48 hours in advance of the crossing of a person in the excepted categories- diplomats, foreign investors, foreign representatives of recognized international organizations and humanitarian cases." It adds: "The GoI will respond within 24 hours with any objections and will include the reasons for the objections".

On security, the Agreed Principles for Rafah Crossing state: "The PA will act to prevent the movement of weapons and explosives at the Rafah crossing." The text also states: "Security services from Israel, PA, the U.S., and Egypt will continue to coordinate on security issues and will participate in the security working group."

On the third party, the Agreed Principles for Rafah Crossing state: "The 3rd party will have the authority to ensure that the PA complies with all applicable rules and regulations concerning the Rafah crossing point and the terms of this agreement." The text names it: "The 3rd party will be the European Union." It also provides: "Rafah will be the only crossing point between the Gaza Strip and Egypt (with the exception of Kerem Shalom for the agreed period)."

The Comprehensive Plan to End the Gaza Conflict provides that opening the Rafah crossing in both directions will be subject to the same mechanism implemented under the agreement of 19 January 2025.

What does EUBAM Rafah do at the Rafah crossing?

EUBAM Rafah is a civilian mission of the European Union, established in 2005. EUBAM Rafah was established to support the implementation of the Agreement on Movement and Access between the Government of Israel and the Palestinian Authority.

On 3 November 2026, EUBAM Rafah said of its mandate: "EUBAM Rafah is mandated to monitor and support the Palestinian border officials' operations of the Rafah Crossing Point."

EU High Representative Kaja Kallas said on 31 January 2025 that the European Union had deployed a monitoring mission at the Rafah crossing. Kaja Kallas said of the mission: "It will support Palestinian border personnel and allow the transfer of individuals out of Gaza, including those who need medical care."

The European External Action Service said on 2 February 2026: "At the request of the parties EUBAM Rafah is there to facilitate the traffic of a controlled number of passengers, and to monitor and support the Palestinian border personnel in carrying out operations at the Rafah Crossing Point".

The World Health Organization said on 10 April 2026: "Patients are received at the Rafah crossing by the PA, which verifies identities alongside the European Union Border Assistance Mission, before the patients cross to the Egyptian side."

On its crossing data page, with figures running to 5 September 2026, EUBAM Rafah said: "The border crossing is functional from Sundays to Thursdays with Fridays and Saturdays being closed."

How have Egypt and Israel described their roles at the Rafah crossing?

Egypt's Ministry of Foreign Affairs said on 7 May 2024 that more than a million people depended on the Rafah crossing as the main lifeline of the Gaza Strip, as the safe outlet for the wounded and sick to leave for treatment, and for the entry of humanitarian and relief aid. The ministry called on all international parties to intervene and exert pressure to defuse the crisis and allow diplomatic efforts to succeed.

Israel's military said on 7 May 2024 that its troops had established control of the Gazan side of the Rafah crossing.

Egypt's Foreign Minister Sameh Shoukry said on 3 June 2024 that it was difficult for the Rafah crossing to continue operating without a Palestinian administration. He said that the crossing could not operate again unless Israel relinquished control and handed it back to Palestinians on the Gaza side.

Israel's Prime Minister's Office said on 25 January 2026 that, as part of President Trump's 20-point plan, Israel had agreed to a limited reopening of the Rafah Crossing for pedestrian passage only, subject to a full Israeli inspection mechanism. The office said that the reopening was conditioned upon the return of all living hostages and a 100% effort by Hamas to locate and return all deceased hostages.

COGAT is the Israeli unit that implements the government's civilian policy in regard to the Gaza Strip. COGAT said on 13 August 2026 that it coordinates medical evacuations with the World Health Organization, and that people leaving Gaza need a valid request from a receiving country and the required security screening. It said that medical evacuations were in no sense restricted by Israel and were wholly dependent on the receiving country's request.

What has happened at the Rafah crossing since 2005?

The Agreement on Movement and Access and the Agreed Principles for Rafah Crossing were reached on 15 November 2005. EUBAM Rafah's mission started on 25 November 2005.

EUBAM Rafah suspended its operations at the Rafah Crossing Point on 13 June 2007.

The first humanitarian aid convoy since the war began arrived in the Gaza Strip through the Rafah crossing on 21 October 2023.

Israeli forces took control of the Gaza side of the Rafah crossing on 7 May 2024.

The Rafah crossing was closed from May 2024 until it reopened on 1 February 2025. EUBAM Rafah redeployed to the Rafah Crossing Point alongside the Palestinian Authority in January 2025, for the first time since 2007.

EUBAM Rafah's operations paused in March 2025.

EUBAM Rafah deployed to the Rafah Crossing Point on 1 February 2026, at the request of the parties. The Rafah Crossing Point reopened on 2 February 2026 for a controlled number of passengers in both directions.

COGAT said on 28 February 2026 that the crossings into the Gaza Strip were closed, the Rafah crossing among them. COGAT said on 15 March 2026 that the Rafah crossing would open on 18 March for limited movement of people in both directions.

The World Health Organization said on 26 March 2026 that the Rafah crossing between the Gaza Strip and Egypt re-opened on 18 March 2026. The World Health Organization said that it suspended medical evacuations via the Rafah crossing from 23 to 25 March 2026, and that they resumed on 26 March 2026.

The Gaza Health Ministry said on 8 October 2026 that the Rafah crossing remained closed to the evacuation of patients who met the conditions and were on the approved travel lists.

What has been said about the Rafah crossing's role since 2009?

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:54 PM

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:54 PM

The UN Security Council adopted resolution 1860 on 8 January 2009. The resolution calls upon member states to intensify efforts to ensure the sustained reopening of the crossing points on the basis of the 2005 Agreement on Movement and Access between the Palestinian Authority and Israel.

Egypt said on 19 October 2023 that the roads across the border at the Rafah crossing needed to be repaired after they were hit by Israeli airstrikes.

UN Secretary-General António Guterres said on 20 October 2023, at the Egyptian side of the Rafah crossing, that it was impossible to be in Rafah and not to feel a broken heart. He said that the UN was engaging with Egypt, Israel and the United States to have the waiting aid trucks moving to where they were needed, in a sustained effort.

Hamas said on 7 May 2024 that Israel's seizure of the Rafah crossing aimed to undermine ceasefire efforts.

UN Secretary-General António Guterres said on 7 May 2024 that the closure of both the Rafah and Kerem Shalom crossings was especially damaging to an already dire humanitarian situation. He said that both crossings had to be reopened immediately.

Israel's Foreign Minister Israel Katz said on 14 May 2024 that he had told the UK and Germany about the need to persuade Egypt to reopen the Rafah crossing. He said that the key to preventing a humanitarian crisis in Gaza was now in the hands of Egypt.

Egypt's Foreign Minister Sameh Shoukry said on 14 May 2024, replying to Israel Katz, that Israel was trying to shift the blame for blocked aid.

The International Court of Justice ordered Israel on 24 May 2024, by thirteen votes to two, to maintain open the Rafah crossing for unhindered provision at scale of urgently needed basic services and humanitarian assistance.

Israel's National Security Council and Ministry of Foreign Affairs said on 24 May 2024 that Israel would continue to enable the Rafah crossing to remain open for the entry of humanitarian assistance from the Egyptian side of the border.

On 1 February 2025, the World Health Organization said that 34 children and three adults, along with 39 companions, had crossed out of Gaza to receive treatment in Egypt.

Israel's Prime Minister's Office said on 18 October 2025 that the Rafah crossing would remain closed until further notice. The office said that its opening would be considered based on the manner in which Hamas fulfils its part in returning the deceased hostages and implementing the agreed framework.

EU High Representative Kaja Kallas said on 2 February 2026 that the opening of the Rafah crossing marked a concrete and positive step in the peace plan.

The National Committee for the Administration of Gaza said on 2 February 2026 that the reopening of the Rafah crossing was the beginning of a long process to reconnect what had been torn apart.

The World Health Organization said on 3 February 2026 that on 2 February it had supported the medical evacuation of five patients and seven companions to Egypt via the Rafah crossing, the first medical evacuation through that route since 2025.

COGAT said on 4 February 2026 that the Rafah crossing remained open. COGAT said that it had not received the coordination details it needed from the World Health Organization to facilitate the crossing.

The Gaza Health Ministry said on 15 February 2026 that, although the partial operation of the Rafah land crossing was announced on 2 February 2026, the numbers allowed to travel remained very limited. The Gaza Health Ministry called for the Rafah land crossing to be opened permanently and regularly.

In figures running to 5 September 2026, EUBAM Rafah said that 11,684 people had crossed the Rafah Crossing Point, including 5,707 entries, 5,977 exits and 2,224 medical cases.

On 29 October 2026, the Gaza Health Ministry said that 2,614 patients and wounded had been evacuated for treatment abroad through the Rafah crossing since February. The Gaza Health Ministry renewed its call to open the Rafah land crossing.

On 3 November 2026, EUBAM Rafah said that from 25 November 2005 until 9 June 2007, a total of 443,975 passengers crossed the border between the Gaza Strip and Egypt at the Rafah Crossing Point. On 3 November 2026, EUBAM Rafah said that in that period 229,429 persons left Gaza to enter Egypt and 214,117 entered the Gaza Strip from Egypt.

On 13 November 2026, UN OCHA said that the cumulative number of returnees since the opening of the Rafah crossing in February was over 7,000 people.

documents: the Agreement on Movement and Access and the Agreed Principles for Rafah Crossing. The Agreed Principles for Rafah Crossing provide that Rafah will be operated by the Palestinian Authority on its side and Egypt on its side.

Who may use the Rafah crossing under the 2005 agreement?

The Agreed Principles for Rafah Crossing of 15 November 2005 state: "Use of the Rafah crossing will be restricted to Palestinian ID card holders and others by exception in agreed categories with prior notification to the GoI and approval of senior PA leadership."

When did EUBAM Rafah first work at the Rafah crossing?

EUBAM Rafah's mission started on 25 November 2005. EUBAM Rafah suspended its operations at the Rafah Crossing Point on 13 June 2007, and redeployed to the Rafah Crossing Point alongside the Palestinian Authority in January 2025, for the first time since 2007.

What did the International Court of Justice order about the Rafah crossing?

The International Court of Justice ordered Israel on 24 May 2024, by thirteen votes to two, to maintain open the Rafah crossing for unhindered provision at scale of urgently needed basic services and humanitarian assistance. Israel's National Security Council and Ministry of Foreign Affairs said on 24 May 2024 that Israel would continue to enable the Rafah crossing to remain open for the entry of humanitarian assistance from the Egyptian side of the border.

WHAT IS UNRWA?

UNRWA: its founding resolution and mandate renewals, its work in Gaza, the 2024 reviews, the Knesset laws, the ICJ opinion and dated statements on its role.

PROFILE 23 November 2026

UNRWA | Gaza Strip | United Nations | General Assembly | International Court of Justice

The United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East (UNRWA) was established by the UN General Assembly in resolution 302 (IV) of 8 December 1949. Resolution 302 (IV) established the Agency to carry out, in collaboration with local governments, the direct relief and works programmes recommended by the Economic Survey Mission. On 5 December 2025, in resolution 80/78, the General Assembly decided to extend the mandate of UNRWA until 30 June 2029.

Which UN resolution created UNRWA?

UNRWA, the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East, was established by the UN General Assembly in resolution 302 (IV) of 8 December 1949. UNRWA began its operations on 1 May 1950.

Resolution 302 (IV) says, in its paragraph 7, that the General Assembly "Establishes the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East: (a) To carry out in collaboration with local governments the direct relief and works programmes as recommended by the Economic Survey Mission; (b) To consult with the interested Near Eastern Governments concerning measures to be taken by them preparatory to the time when international assistance for relief and works projects is no longer available".

Under resolution 302 (IV), the Secretary-General appoints the Agency's Director, who is the chief executive officer of the Agency and responsible to the General Assembly for the operation of the programme. Resolution 302 (IV) requests the Director to submit an annual report on the work of the Agency to the General Assembly.

On 13 December 2019, in resolution 74/83, the General Assembly decided to extend the mandate of UNRWA until 30 June 2023. On 12 December 2022, in resolution 77/123, the General Assembly decided to extend the mandate of UNRWA until 30 June 2026. On 5 December 2025, in resolution 80/78, the General Assembly decided to extend the mandate of UNRWA until 30 June 2029.

Each of the three resolutions extends the mandate without prejudice to the provisions of paragraph 11 of General Assembly resolution 194 (III).

Resolution 80/78 states that the General Assembly "Affirms the necessity for the continuation of the work of the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East and the importance of its unimpeded operation and its provision of services, including emergency assistance, for the well-being, protection and human development of the Palestine refugees and for the stability of the region, pending the just resolution of the question of the Palestine refugees". The same resolution says that the Agency has played an essential role "in ameliorating the plight of the Palestine refugees through the provision of education, health, relief and social services".

How does UNRWA operate in the Gaza Strip?

The UN Secretary-General said on 9 December 2024, in a letter to the Presidents of the General Assembly and the Security Council: "In Gaza specifically, UNRWA has been the main provider of basic and essential services, providing education to approximately 300,000 children in 288 schools and 2 training centres, healthcare services to around 900,000 patients and around 3.5 million patient consultations annually in 22 primary health clinics, and emergency assistance to approximately 1.1 million people." He said in the same letter: "Under the current crisis in Gaza, UNRWA is the backbone of the United Nations humanitarian relief operations".

UNRWA said on 31 January 2025 that its staff were still providing aid to people in Gaza who depend on them "for their sheer survival".

UNRWA said in its situation report of 4 November 2026: "Around 10,500 Palestinian UNRWA personnel continue to provide services and assistance to people in the Gaza Strip." It said in the same report: "A total of 113 UNRWA collective emergency shelters host approximately 60,000 internally displaced persons."

UNRWA also said in the report of 4 November 2026: "Additional classrooms at the Rehabilitation Centre for the Visually Impaired in Gaza City are being established to increase education capacity. Rehabilitation work is also ongoing to establish a health facility at the Gaza Training Centre to enhance and consolidate health service delivery in Northern Gaza."

UNRWA said in the same report: "The Israeli authorities have not granted the Agency's international staff visas or permits to enter the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including Gaza, since the end of January 2025."

What happened after the allegations against UNRWA staff in January 2024?

UNRWA Commissioner-General Philippe Lazzarini said on 26 January 2024: "To protect the agency's ability to deliver humanitarian assistance, I have taken the decision to immediately terminate the contracts of these staff members and launch an investigation in order to establish the truth without delay." The UN Secretary-General's spokesperson, Stéphane Dujarric, said the same day: "The Secretary-General is horrified by this news."

After the allegations of January 2024 against UNRWA staff, the UN Secretary-General ordered the UN Office of Internal Oversight Services (OIOS) to investigate, and appointed an independent review panel, headed by former French Foreign Minister Catherine Colonna, to assess whether the agency was doing everything it could to ensure neutrality. The panel published its report in April 2024.

The United Nations in Palestine said on 23 April 2024 that the panel's report reads: "Israel made public claims that a significant number of UNRWA employees are members of terrorist organisations. However, Israel has yet to provide supporting evidence of this." Catherine Colonna, head of the review group, said at UN Headquarters: "The set of rules and the mechanisms and procedures in place [at UNRWA] are the most elaborate within the UN system, precisely because it is such a difficult issue to work in such a complex and sensitive environment."

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:57 PM

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:57 PM

Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs spokesperson, Oren Marmorstein, said on 22 April 2024: "The Colonna report ignores the severity of the problem, and offers cosmetic solutions that do not deal with the enormous scope of Hamas' infiltration of Unrwa." He said that the review was an "effort to avoid the problem and not address it head on".

The UN Secretary-General "accepts the recommendations" contained in the panel's report, his spokesperson said on 22 April 2024. UNRWA's Commissioner-General, Philippe Lazzarini, said of the report: "UNRWA is firmly dedicated to applying UN values and humanitarian principles."

The UN said on 5 August 2024 that OIOS investigators had made findings in relation to 19 UNRWA staff. UN Deputy Spokesperson Farhan Haq said: "In one case, no evidence was obtained by OIOS to support the allegations of the staff member's involvement, while in nine other cases, the evidence obtained by OIOS was insufficient to support the staff members' involvement."

According to the UN, the evidence obtained by OIOS in the remaining nine cases "indicated that the UNRWA staff members may have been involved in the 7 October attacks." Commissioner-General Philippe Lazzarini said on 5 August 2024: "I have decided that in the case of these remaining nine staff members, they cannot work for UNRWA. All contracts of these staff members will be terminated in the interest of the Agency."

Farhan Haq said on 5 August 2024: "However, one thing I'd like to point out is that since information used by Israeli officials to support the allegations have remained in Israeli custody, OIOS was not able to independently authenticate most of the information provided to it." He said that, in the Secretary-General's view, "any involvement in these attacks would constitute a major betrayal of trust".

What do the Knesset's October 2024 laws on UNRWA provide?

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:57 PM

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:57 PM

On 28 October 2024, the Knesset enacted two laws concerning UNRWA: the Law to Cease UNRWA Operations and the Law to Cease UNRWA Operations in the Territory of the State of Israel. Each law provides that it comes into force three months from the date of its publication. The two laws came into effect on 30 January 2025.

The Law to Cease UNRWA Operations provides that the invitation to UNRWA based on an exchange of letters between Israel and UNRWA of 14 June 1967 expires on 7 October 2024. It provides that a government authority shall not have any contact with UNRWA or anyone acting on its behalf.

In Israel's unofficial translation, which the UN Secretary-General sent to the General Assembly and the Security Council on 9 December 2024, the Law to Cease UNRWA Operations reads: "The invitation to UNRWA, based on an exchange of letters between Israel and UNRWA from 6 Sivan 5727 (14 June A.D. 1967), will expire on 5 Tishrei 5785 (7 October A.D. 2024)."

The Law to Cease UNRWA Operations in the Territory of the State of Israel provides that UNRWA shall not operate any representative office, provide any services or carry out any activities, directly or indirectly, within the sovereign territory of the State of Israel. In the same translation, that law reads: "UNRWA (United Nations Relief and Works Agency) shall not operate any representative office, provide any services or carry out any activities, directly or indirectly, within the sovereign territory of the State of Israel."

The UN Secretary-General said in the same letter of 9 December 2024: "I understand that the laws were published on 30 October 2024."

What did the International Court of Justice say about UNRWA in 2025?

By resolution 79/232 of 19 December 2024, the General Assembly requested an advisory opinion from the International Court of Justice. The Court delivered its advisory opinion on 22 October 2025, in the proceedings entitled Obligations of

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:57 PM

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:28:57 PM

Israel in relation to the Presence and Activities of the United Nations, Other International Organizations and Third States in and in relation to the Occupied Palestinian Territory.

The International Court of Justice said in the opinion of 22 October 2025: "The Court considers that, in the current circumstances, it is not possible to replicate the capacity of the United Nations, acting through UNRWA, to ensure that the population of the Gaza Strip is adequately provided for. UNRWA cannot be replaced on short notice and without a proper transition plan." It said: "The Court concludes that, under these circumstances, the United Nations, acting through UNRWA, has been an indispensable provider of humanitarian relief in the Gaza Strip."

The Court said, by ten votes to one, that Israel's obligations include "to agree to and facilitate by all means at its disposal relief schemes on behalf of the population of the Occupied Palestinian Territory so long as that population is inadequately supplied, as has been the case in the Gaza Strip, including relief provided by the United Nations and its entities, in particular the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East, other international organizations and third States, and not to impede such relief".

The Court also said, by ten votes to one, that "the State of Israel has an obligation to co-operate in good faith with the United Nations by providing every assistance in any action it takes in accordance with the Charter of the United Nations, including the United Nations Relief and Works Agency for Palestine Refugees in the Near East". Vice-President Sebutinde voted against both paragraphs.

Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs said on 22 October 2025 that it categorically rejected the advisory opinion. It said that the opinion was "entirely predictable from the outset regarding Unrwa". The ministry said that Israel would "not co-operate with an organisation that is infested with terror activities".

UNRWA Commissioner-General Philippe Lazzarini said on 22 October 2025 that the opinion was "unambiguous".

What has been said about UNRWA's role since January 2024?

The US Department of State said on 26 January 2024: "The Department of State has temporarily paused additional funding for UNRWA while we review these allegations and the steps the United Nations is taking to address them." It said in the same statement: "UNRWA plays a critical role in providing lifesaving assistance to Palestinians, including essential food, medicine, shelter, and other vital humanitarian support."

Germany paused funding to UNRWA on 27 January 2024. Germany's Federal Foreign Office said on X the same day: "We expect Lazzarini to make it clear within UNRWA's workforce that all forms of hatred and violence are totally unacceptable and will not be tolerated."

Hamas said on 27 January 2024 that it condemned the termination of employee contracts "based on information derived from the Zionist enemy".

Israeli Foreign Minister Israel Katz said on X on 27 January 2024: "In Gaza's rebuilding, @UNRWA must be replaced with agencies dedicated to genuine peace and development."

The UK Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office said on 27 January 2024: "The UK is temporarily pausing any future funding of UNRWA whilst we review these concerning allegations."

UNRWA Commissioner-General Philippe Lazzarini said on X on 27 January 2024: "Palestinians in Gaza did not need this additional collective punishment." He said in a statement the same day: "It is shocking to see a suspension of funds to the Agency in reaction to allegations against a small group of staff, especially given the immediate action that UNRWA took by terminating their contracts and asking for a transparent independent investigation."

The UN Secretary-General said on 28 January 2024: "I strongly appeal to the governments that have suspended their contributions to, at least, guarantee the continuity of UNRWA's operations." He said in the same statement: "But the tens of thousands of men and women who work for UNRWA, many in some of the most dangerous situations for humanitarian workers, should not be penalized."

Japan's Foreign Minister, Yoko Kamikawa, said on 2 April 2024: "Japan will lift the moratorium on its financial contributions to UNRWA and provide assistance while ensuring and confirming the appropriateness of Japan's funds."

Germany's Federal Foreign Office and Federal Ministry for Economic Cooperation and Development said in a joint statement on 24 April 2024 that the German government would soon resume cooperation with UNRWA.

The UK Foreign, Commonwealth and Development Office said on 19 July 2024 that "the UK will lift the pause on funding to the UN Relief and Works Agency (UNRWA), the key aid delivery body operating in Gaza." Foreign Secretary David Lammy told Parliament: "UNRWA is absolutely central to these efforts. No other agency can get aid into Gaza at the scale needed."

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said in a statement on 28 October 2024: "Unrwa workers involved in terrorist activities against Israel must be held accountable. Since avoiding a humanitarian crisis is also essential, sustained humanitarian aid must remain available in Gaza now and in the future." He said the same day that "we stand ready to work with our international partners to ensure Israel continues to facilitate humanitarian aid to civilians in Gaza in a way that does not threaten Israel's security".

The UN Secretary-General said on 28 October 2024 that, if implemented, the laws would "likely prevent UNRWA from continuing its essential work." He said: "I am bringing this matter to the attention of the UN General Assembly and will keep the Assembly closely informed as the situation develops."

UNRWA Commissioner-General Philippe Lazzarini said on X on 28 October 2024: "This is the latest in the ongoing campaign to discredit UNRWA and delegitimize its role towards providing human-development assistance and services to Palestine refugees." He said the same day: "These bills increase the suffering of the Palestinians and are nothing less than collective punishment."

The UN Secretary-General said on 9 December 2024 that "there is currently no realistic alternative to UNRWA which could adequately provide the services and assistance required."

Israel's Ambassador to the UN, Danny Danon, said at the UN on 28 January 2025: "This legislation is about what is happening in Israel; it's not about what's happening in Gaza, in Jordan, in Lebanon. But we will not allow UNRWA to work from Israel." He told reporters the same day: "I think it's going to be a gradual process until other agencies will step in and will take their positions."

Frequently asked questions

When was UNRWA created?

UNRWA was established by the UN General Assembly in resolution 302 (IV) of 8 December 1949. UNRWA began its operations on 1 May 1950.

What does UNRWA's founding resolution say the Agency is for?

Resolution 302 (IV) established UNRWA to carry out, in collaboration with local governments, the direct relief and works programmes recommended by the Economic Survey Mission. Under resolution 302 (IV), the Agency's Director is responsible to the General Assembly for the operation of the programme.

How long does UNRWA's mandate run?

On 5 December 2025, in resolution 80/78, the General Assembly decided to extend the mandate of UNRWA until 30 June 2029. The previous renewal, resolution 77/123 of 12 December 2022, had extended it until 30 June 2026.

How many people does UNRWA employ in Gaza?

UNRWA said on 4 November 2026 that "Around 10,500 Palestinian UNRWA personnel continue to provide services and assistance to people in the Gaza Strip."

What did the UN investigation into UNRWA staff conclude?

UN Deputy Spokesperson Farhan Haq said on 5 August 2024 that OIOS investigators had made findings in relation to 19 UNRWA staff. According to the UN, in nine of those cases the evidence obtained by OIOS "indicated that the UNRWA staff members may have been involved in the 7 October attacks," and UNRWA's Commissioner-General said that their contracts would be terminated.

What did the Colonna review of UNRWA say?

The United Nations in Palestine said on 23 April 2024 that the panel's report, led by Catherine Colonna, reads: "Israel made public claims that a significant number of UNRWA employees are members of terrorist organisations. However, Israel has yet to provide supporting evidence of this." Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs spokesperson said on 22 April 2024 that the report "ignores the severity of the problem".

When did Israel's laws on UNRWA take effect?

The Knesset enacted two laws concerning UNRWA on 28 October 2024: the Law to Cease UNRWA Operations and the Law to Cease UNRWA Operations in the Territory of the State of Israel. The two laws came into effect on 30 January 2025.

What did the ICJ say about UNRWA in October 2025?

the reporting period. Egypt's plan, adopted by the extraordinary Arab summit on 4 March 2025, says that the estimated financial requirements for the reconstruction plan total $53 billion. Palestinian Prime Minister Mohammad Mustafa said on 3 October 2026 that the destruction in the Gaza Strip was estimated to require around $73 billion to rebuild. The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said in their final assessment, released on 20 April 2026, that recovery and reconstruction needs in the Gaza Strip were estimated at around US$71.4 billion.

Which assessments and plans have put a price on rebuilding Gaza?

The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations conducted the Gaza Strip Interim Damage Assessment, a summary note dated 29 March 2024 with preliminary estimates for October 2023 to January 2024. The World Bank released the interim damage assessment on 2 April 2024.

The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations conducted the Gaza and West Bank Interim Rapid Damage and Needs Assessment, released on 18 February 2025, which covers damages incurred between 8 October 2023 and 8 October 2024. The European Union and the United Nations released the final Gaza Rapid Damage and Needs Assessment, jointly conducted with the World Bank, on 20 April 2026. The final assessment covers damages incurred between 8 October 2023 and 9 October 2025, and builds on the interim assessments of April 2024 and February 2025.

Egypt prepared a plan titled Early Recovery, Reconstruction, and Development of Gaza, dated March 2025. The extraordinary Arab summit held in Egypt on 4 March 2025 adopted the plan.

The Palestinian government's Gaza Recovery and Reconstruction Implementation Program (GRRIP) builds on the Arab plan adopted by the extraordinary Arab summit in Cairo in March 2025. WAFA published the address in which Palestinian Prime Minister Mohammad Mustafa presented the program on 16 October 2025.

Resolution 2803 welcomed the establishment of the Board of Peace as a transitional administration to coordinate funding for the redevelopment of Gaza.

What reconstruction figures has the Board of Peace given for Gaza?

The Board of Peace held its inaugural meeting in Washington on 19 February 2026. The Board of Peace established the Gaza Reconstruction and Development Fund (GRAD), with the World Bank Group as its limited trustee.

Israeli Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said on 19 February 2026 that there would be no reconstruction of Gaza before demilitarisation. US President Donald Trump said on 19 February 2026 that nine members of the Board of Peace had agreed to pledge $7 billion toward a Gaza relief package. Trump said on 19 February 2026 that the United States was pledging $10 billion for the Board of Peace.

The Board of Peace said in its report to the UN Security Council of 15 May 2026 that it had received USD 17 billion in pledges for reconstruction purposes during the reporting period. In the same report of 15 May 2026, the Board of Peace said that it was preparing a phased reconstruction plan, and that total reconstruction investments across Gaza were projected to exceed USD 30 billion. According to the report, full reconstruction cannot be unlocked until verified demilitarisation proceeds.

Israel's Prime Minister's Office said on 17 August 2026 that Israel and the Board of Peace had agreed that demilitarisation should be prompt and completed before any reconstruction. US envoy Jared Kushner said on 17 August 2026 that Gaza would not be allowed to be rebuilt until demilitarisation occurs.

What does Egypt's plan adopted in Cairo say Gaza's reconstruction costs?

The Cairo Statement issued by the summit endorses the plan as a comprehensive Arab initiative and welcomes the convening of an international conference in Cairo to address recovery and reconstruction in the Gaza Strip.

Egypt's plan, adopted on 4 March 2025, says that the estimated financial requirements for the reconstruction plan total $53 billion. An early recovery phase of six months, covering mine and unexploded ordnance removal, debris clearance, temporary housing and the renovation of partially damaged buildings, will cost $3 billion, according to Egypt's plan of 4 March 2025.

Egypt's plan, adopted on 4 March 2025, says that a first stage of reconstruction, extending until 2027, will cost $20 billion. Egypt's plan of 4 March 2025 also says that a second stage of reconstruction, extending until 2030 and covering industrial zones, fishing and commercial ports and an airport, will cost $30 billion. According to the plan, a trust fund will be established under international supervision as a financing mechanism.

Hamas said on 4 March 2025 that it welcomed the summit's outcome and valued Arab leaders' rejection of attempts to transfer Palestinians from their territories in Gaza. Israel's Foreign Ministry spokesperson, Oren Marmorstein, said on 4 March 2025 that the Egyptian plan failed to address the realities of the situation and remained rooted in outdated perspectives. The White House National Security Council spokesman, Brian Hughes, said on 4 March 2025 that the proposal did not address the reality that Gaza was uninhabitable, and that President Trump stood by his vision to rebuild Gaza free from Hamas.

What reconstruction figures has the Palestinian Authority given for Gaza?

Palestinian Prime Minister Mohammad Mustafa said in the address WAFA published on 16 October 2025 that the Gaza Recovery and Reconstruction

Implementation Program defines a five-year framework valued at US$67 billion.

A six-month emergency phase focused on early recovery is valued at US$3.5 billion, according to Palestinian Prime Minister Mohammad Mustafa on 16 October 2025. Palestinian Prime Minister Mohammad Mustafa said on 16 October 2025 that a three-year reconstruction and recovery phase is valued at around US$30 billion, and that the third phase will be the reconstruction phase.

The Palestinian Ministry of Public Works and Housing said on 28 October 2025 that its early recovery and reconstruction plan for the Gaza Strip had a total estimated value of USD 21 billion.

Palestinian Prime Minister Mohammad Mustafa said on 3 October 2026 that the destruction in the Gaza Strip was estimated to require around $73 billion to rebuild.

What do World Bank, EU and UN assessments put Gaza's needs at?

The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations say in their assessments that damage assessment quantifies physical destruction using baseline values and pre-conflict costs. In the same texts, the World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations say that loss assessment evaluates disruptions in terms of lost income, increased costs, employment losses and displacement-induced costs, and that needs assessment determines the financial resources needed for reconstruction and recovery.

The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said in their interim damage assessment of 29 March 2024 that around US$18.5 billion in direct damages had been caused to the built infrastructure of the Gaza Strip by the end of January 2024.

The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said in their interim assessment released on 18 February 2025 that recovery and reconstruction needs across the Gaza Strip were estimated at US$53.2 billion. In the same assessment of 18 February 2025, the World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said that the short-term needs in the first three years were emerging to be around US$20 billion. The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said on 18 February 2025 that total estimated physical damages were around US$29.9 billion. In the assessment of 18 February 2025, the World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said that economic and social losses amounted to US$19.1 billion.

The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said in their final assessment, released on 20 April 2026, that recovery and reconstruction needs were estimated at around US$71.4 billion. In the final assessment of 20 April 2026, the World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said that physical damage was estimated at US$35.2 billion. The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said on 20 April 2026 that economic losses were estimated at US$22.7 billion.

The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said on 20 April 2026 that immediate recovery needs for the first eight months were estimated at US$10.8 billion, short-term recovery needs over 18 months at US$15.5 billion, and medium to long-term needs over three to five years at US$45.1 billion. In the final assessment of 20 April 2026, the World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said that the highest recovery and reconstruction needs were in the housing sector, at US$16.2 billion.

The European Union and the United Nations said on 20 April 2026 that recovery and reconstruction needs in Gaza were estimated at $71.4 billion over the next decade, including $26.3 billion required in the first eighteen months. In their joint statement of 20 April 2026, the European Union and the United Nations said that a sustained ceasefire and adequate security are minimum conditions, and that without a set of enabling conditions neither recovery nor reconstruction can succeed.

children and armed conflict dated 3 June 2024 names Israeli armed and security forces as a “Party that kills and maims children” and a “Party that engages in attacks on schools and/or hospitals”, according to the UN Secretary-General. The UN Independent International Commission of Inquiry on the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and Israel said on 23 June 2026 that it had documented “a consistent pattern of children being deliberately targeted by the Israeli security forces in Gaza.” Israel’s Permanent Mission to the UN in Geneva said on 23 June 2026 that Israel “consistently strives to minimize harm to children even in situations of conflict” and rejected the suggestion that it deliberately targets children “in the strongest terms”.

What have UNICEF and the Secretary-General said about targeting children in Gaza?

The United Nations International Children’s Emergency Fund (UNICEF) was established in 1946, in the aftermath of World War II.

UNICEF said on 1 November 2023, in a statement on attacks on Jabaliya camp in the Gaza Strip: “Children have endured too much already. The killing and captivity of children must stop. Children are not a target.” UNICEF said in the same statement: “Refugee camps, settlements for the internally displaced, and the civilians inhabiting them are all protected under international humanitarian law (IHL). Parties to conflict have an obligation to respect and protect them from attack.” The statement said that UNICEF “reiterates its urgent call to all parties to the conflict for an immediate humanitarian ceasefire, to ensure the protection of all children”.

The UN Secretary-General issued reports on children and armed conflict to the General Assembly and the Security Council dated 3 June 2024, 17 June 2025 and 16 June 2026. The reports cover January to December 2023, January to December 2024 and January to December 2025. Annex I of each report names parties that commit grave violations affecting children in situations of armed conflict on the agenda of the Security Council.

Annex I of the report dated 3 June 2024 names Israeli armed and security forces, among State actors, as a "Party that kills and maims children" and a "Party that engages in attacks on schools and/or hospitals", according to the UN Secretary-General. The UN Secretary-General said in the report: "I am appalled by the dramatic increase and unprecedented scale and intensity of grave violations against children in the Gaza Strip, Israel and the occupied West Bank, including East Jerusalem". The Secretary-General said in a later paragraph: "I am shocked by the unprecedented number of children killed and maimed by Israeli armed and security forces in the Gaza Strip and the occupied West Bank, including East Jerusalem." The Secretary-General said in the same paragraph: "I reiterate my calls upon Israel to abide by international humanitarian law and human rights law and ensure that civilians, including children, and civilian infrastructure are not targeted". He added: "I further urge Israel to pursue accountability for violations against children."

Annex I of the report dated 17 June 2025 names Israeli armed and security forces again, for the same two violations, according to the UN Secretary-General. The UN Secretary-General said in the report: "I am deeply alarmed by the continued increase in grave violations against children perpetrated by Israeli armed and security forces, notably the high number of children killed and maimed, attacks on schools and hospitals". The Secretary-General said in the same paragraph: "I reiterate my calls upon Israel to abide by international humanitarian law and international human rights law, including its obligations to respect the special protections afforded to children, to protect schools and hospitals and to comply with the principles of distinction, proportionality and precautions in attacks". The Secretary-General said in a later paragraph: "I urge Israel to develop and sign an action plan with the United Nations to end and prevent the killing and maiming of children and attacks on schools and hospitals".

Annex I of the report dated 16 June 2026 names Israeli armed and security forces as a "Party that kills and maims children" and a "Party that engages in attacks on schools and/or hospitals", according to the UN Secretary-General. The UN Secretary-General said in the report: "I welcome the ceasefire in the Gaza Strip and the release of all Israeli hostages held in Gaza." The Secretary-General said in the next paragraph: “I am gravely alarmed by the staggering increase in grave violations against children perpetrated by Israeli armed and security forces, the high number of children killed and maimed, attacks on schools and hospitals”. He added: “I again urge Israel to abide by international humanitarian law and international human rights law, including its obligations to respect the special protections afforded to children”.

What has the Commission of Inquiry said about targeting children in Gaza?

The UN Human Rights Council established the UN Independent International Commission of Inquiry on the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and Israel on 27 May 2021. The Commission issued a conference room paper dated 18 June 2026 for the Human Rights Council’s sixty-second session. The paper was released on 23 June 2026. Srinivasan Muralidhar chairs the Commission.

The Commission said in the paper’s summary: “The paper describes the deliberate targeting and killing of Palestinian children, including post-ceasefire since the October 2025 Gaza peace plan.” The Commission said in the body of the paper: “The Commission has investigated and documented cases demonstrating a consistent pattern of children being deliberately targeted by the Israeli security forces in Gaza.” It said in the same paragraph: “These include cases of children being shot while trying to evacuate with their families and in places of refuge such as displacement camps, food distribution sites or other locations across Gaza.” The Commission said in a later section that “Palestinian children in Gaza have been directly targeted in various ways by the Israeli security forces since 7 October 2023, including during evacuations, at shelters”.

The Commission said through its chair, Srinivasan Muralidhar, on 23 June 2026: “The evidence shows that Palestinian children have been deliberately targeted and killed by the Israeli security forces.” The Commission said through its chair on the same day: “Even after the October 2025 ceasefire, children continue to be killed and seriously injured, with continued disregard by Israel for the ceasefire and for the protection owed to Palestinian children under international law."

Chris Sidoti, a member of the Commission, said at a press conference in Geneva on 23 June 2026: "There can be no doubt in anyone who reads today's report that every international legal norm has been violated by the actions of the Israeli authorities towards Palestinian children and they need to be held accountable."

The Secretary-General transmitted to the General Assembly's eighty-first session a report of the UN Independent International Commission of Inquiry on the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and Israel, in an advance unedited version dated 14 October 2026. The Commission said in that report: "The Israeli government and security forces have deliberately carried out acts inflicting death and severe bodily and mental harm on Palestinian children, amounting to age-based persecution of children in Gaza." The Commission said in the same paragraph: "The Commission also found that the killing and harming of children and sexual and gender-based violence are included among elements that established specific intent of the Israeli authorities to commit genocide against the Palestinian group in Gaza."

What have organisations said about children being targeted in Gaza?

Human Rights Watch said on 20 June 2025, of the Secretary-General's report of that year and its annex: "The Israeli authorities have starved, killed, and maimed thousands of Palestinian children in Gaza and are responsible for ongoing war crimes, crimes against humanity, and acts of genocide." Human Rights Watch said in the same dispatch: "Russian forces were added to the list in 2023, and Israeli forces were included for the first time in 2024."

Save the Children said on 23 June 2026 that "a UN Commission of Inquiry report saying that children in Gaza and the West Bank were deliberately targeted by Israeli authorities and security forces must mark a turning point". Save the Children said through Ahmad Alhendawi, its regional director for the Middle East, North Africa, and Eastern Europe, on the same day: "The report clearly reveals the extent of the harm inflicted upon Palestinian children in Gaza and the West Bank. The world can no longer turn a blind eye to this. No child should ever be a target."

Save the Children said through Janti Soeripto, President and CEO of Save the Children US, on 29 October 2026, of the Commission's report to the General Assembly: "The U.N. Commission's report is a disturbing, but not surprising, confirmation of the deliberate violence against children in the occupied Palestinian territory. The harm to Palestinian children is not collateral." Soeripto said in the same statement: "In Gaza and the West Bank, there is no safe place to be a child."

What have Israel, Palestine and Gaza's education ministry said about targeting children?

The UN Secretary-General's office called Israel's mission to the UN on 7 June 2024 to inform it that Israel's military would be named in the annex of the Secretary-General's annual report on children and armed conflict.

Israel's Ambassador to the UN, Gilad Erdan, said on 7 June 2024 that Israel has "the most moral army in the world." Erdan said on the same day: "The only one who is blacklisted today is the secretary-general, whose decisions since the war started, and even before, are rewarding terrorists and incentivizing them to use children for terror acts". In a statement the same day, the ambassador said: "I am utterly shocked and disgusted by this shameful decision." In a post on X that day, Erdan said that the decision "is simply outrageous and wrong because Hamas has been using children for terrorism and uses schools and hospitals".

Israeli Foreign Minister Israel Katz said on 7 June 2024 that the decision "will have consequences for Israel's relations with the UN." Katz said on X on the same day: “The shameful decision by the UN Secretary-General Antonio Guterres to include the IDF in the blacklist is an act of villainy.”

Riyad Mansour, the Palestinian envoy to the UN, said on 7 June 2024 that the decision “will not bring back tens of thousands of our children who were killed by Israel over decades and will not restore normal life for the children who were permanently disabled by its actions.” Mansour said on the same day: “But it is an important step in the right direction towards ending the double standards and the culture of impunity Israel has enjoyed for far too long and that left our children vulnerable to its consequences.”

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said on 7 June 2024: “The UN has put itself on the blacklist of history today when it joined the supporters of the Hamas murderers. The IDF is the most moral army in the world and no delusional decision by the UN will change that.”

Israel’s Permanent Mission to the UN in Geneva said on 23 June 2026 that Israel rejected what it called the Commission’s “second defamatory advocacy report”. The mission said in a statement on the same day: “Israel dismisses this libelous sham.” It said in the same statement that “every child deserves protection”. In a rebuttal, the mission said that Israel “consistently strives to minimize harm to children even in situations of conflict” and that Israel rejected the suggestion it deliberately targets children “in the strongest terms”.

Israel’s Ambassador to the UN, Danny Danon, said on 25 June 2026, of the Commission’s paper: “this is not an investigative report. It is a political blood libel disguised as a U.N. document.” Danon said on the same day that Israel “will continue to defend its citizens and fight terrorism”.

Gaza’s Ministry of Education and Higher Education said on 20 October 2026, in a statement the Gaza Government Media Office posted, that “the continued targeting of school students and children in the Gaza Strip” would have grave consequences (a working translation of the ministry’s Arabic).

WHO HAS SAID WHAT ABOUT ISRAELI FORCES IN SOUTHERN LEBANON AND SYRIA?

What UN bodies, governments, Hezbollah and Israel's government have said about Israeli forces in southern Lebanon and in Syria since late 2024, dated.

POSITIONS 23 November 2026 Lebanon Syria UNIFIL UNDOF Golan Heights

The United Nations Disengagement Observer Force (UNDOF) said on 13 December 2024 of Israeli military activity in the area of separation in the Golan:

"UNDOF has informed its Israeli counterparts that these actions constitute a violation of the 1974 Disengagement Agreement." The spokesperson for the UN Secretary-General said on 17 December 2024: "The presence of the Israeli Defense Forces in the buffer zone is a violation of the 1974 Disengagement Agreement." The UN Special Coordinator for Lebanon and UNIFIL's Head of Mission said on 18 February 2025 that another delay in the withdrawal of Israeli forces from southern Lebanon "continues a violation of United Nations Security Council resolution 1701 (2006)." Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said on 8 December 2024 that Israel's takeover of Syrian army positions was "a temporary defensive position until a suitable arrangement is found".

What do the 2024 ceasefire and 1974 agreement say about Israeli forces?

The United States and France announced a cessation of hostilities between Lebanon and Israel on 26 November 2024. The announcement provides that Israel and Lebanon will implement a cessation of hostilities beginning at 04:00 on 27 November 2024. It provides that from that hour the Government of Lebanon will prevent Hezbollah and all other armed groups in Lebanon from carrying out any operations against Israel, and "Israel will not carry out any offensive military operations against Lebanese targets".

The announcement provides that Israel will withdraw its forces in a phased manner south of the Blue Line, and that in parallel the Lebanese Armed Forces will deploy to positions in the Southern Litani Area. It provides that a Mechanism hosted by UNIFIL, chaired by the United States and including France, will coordinate the plan for the phased withdrawal and deployment. The Permanent Representatives of France and the United States sent the announcement to the President of the Security Council with a letter dated 29 November 2024, issued as document S/2024/870.

(UNIFIL) is a peacekeeping mission in south Lebanon, established by the Security Council in 1978. Security Council resolution 2790 of 28 August 2025 extended UNIFIL's mandate for a final time until 31 December 2026, and requested UNIFIL to cease its operations on that date.

The Golan Heights is a plateau south-west of Damascus. Israel seized the Golan from Syria in 1967. The UN Secretary-General transmitted the text of the Agreement on Disengagement between Israeli and Syrian forces to the Security Council in a report dated 30 May 1974, document S/11302/Add.1.

The 1974 agreement provides that all Israeli military forces will be west of the line designated Line A, and all Syrian military forces east of the line designated Line B. It provides that the area between Line A and Line B will be an area of separation, in which the United Nations Disengagement Observer Force will be stationed. The agreement states that it is not a peace agreement. The Security Council established the United Nations Disengagement Observer Force (UNDOF) by resolution 350 (1974) to supervise the agreement's implementation, and resolution 2824 of 25 June 2026 renewed UNDOF's mandate until 31 December 2026.

What have UN bodies said about Israeli forces in southern Lebanon?

The UN Special Coordinator for Lebanon and UNIFIL's Head of Mission said in a joint statement on 18 February 2025: "Today marks the end of the period set for the withdrawal of the Israel Defense Forces south of the Blue Line and the parallel Lebanese Armed Forces deployment to positions in southern Lebanon." They said: "Another delay in this process is not what we hoped would happen, not least because it continues a violation of United Nations Security Council resolution 1701 (2006)." The joint statement said that "The Israel Defense Forces have withdrawn from population centres in southern Lebanon", and called on both parties "to meet their obligations."

The UN Secretary-General said in a report dated 12 March 2025 that by 18 February the Israel Defense Forces had "retained a presence in five locations along the Blue Line, in the vicinity of Aytarun, Hula, Labbunah, Marwahin and Sarda." He said in the same report: "The presence of the Israel Defense Forces north of the Blue Line is a violation of Lebanese sovereignty and territorial integrity and resolution 1701 (2006), and undermines the efforts of the Lebanese authorities to extend State authority throughout all of its territory."

The UN Security Council adopted resolution 2790 on 28 August 2025. The resolution "Calls on the Government of Israel to withdraw its forces north of the Blue Line, including from the five positions held in Lebanese territory, and to lift the designated buffer zones north of the Blue Line". It also notes "with grave concerns the continuous violations" of the cessation of hostilities arrangement of 26 November 2024.

UNIFIL said on 14 November 2025 that a concrete wall built by the Israel Defense Forces southwest of Yaroun "crossed the Blue Line". UNIFIL said in the same statement: "Israeli presence and construction in Lebanese territory are violations of Security Council resolution 1701 and of Lebanon's sovereignty and territorial integrity. We again call on the IDF to respect the Blue Line in its full length and withdraw from all areas north of it."

UNIFIL said on 3 March 2026 that its peacekeepers had observed Israeli soldiers "crossing into Lebanese areas near Markaba, Al Adeisse, Kfar Kela and Ramyah before returning south of the Blue Line." UNIFIL said in its statement of 3 March 2026 that since the cessation of hostilities understanding, "the IDF has maintained five positions" inside Lebanon, "in violation of resolution 1701."

The UN Secretary-General said in a report dated 11 March 2026 that "the Israel Defense Forces remained present in five positions and maintained two "buffer zones" north of the Blue Line." He said: "I urge the Israeli authorities to fulfil their obligations under resolution 1701 (2006) to withdraw from all areas north of the Blue Line and to cease violations of the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Lebanon."

The Secretary-General said in a report dated 9 July 2026 that the Israel Defense Forces had intensified operations in Lebanon from March 2026, "expanding its ground presence north of the Blue Line, unilaterally declaring a "forward defence line" several kilometres north of the Blue Line and advancing north of the Litani River." He said in the same report: "The unilateral declaration by the Israel Defense Forces of a "forward defence line" north of the Blue Line is in direct violation of the sovereignty and territorial integrity of Lebanon and resolution 1701 (2006)."

What have UN bodies said about Israeli forces in Syria?

The United Nations Disengagement Observer Force said on 13 December 2024 that it had observed "a significant increase in Israel Defense Forces (IDF) movements within the area of separation and along the ceasefire line" since 7 December. UNDOF said: "UNDOF has informed its Israeli counterparts that these actions constitute a violation of the 1974 Disengagement Agreement." It urged all parties to "cease all military activities in the area of separation, and uphold the terms of the 1974 agreement to preserve stability in the Golan."

The spokesperson for the UN Secretary-General, Stéphane Dujarric, said on 17 December 2024 that the Israel Defense Forces had deployed in the area of separation at key locations, "including Mount Hermon". He said: "The presence of the Israeli Defense Forces in the buffer zone is a violation of the 1974 Disengagement Agreement." Dujarric said: "There is an agreement. It needs to be respected."

The UN Secretary-General said in a report dated 3 June 2025 that the situation in the Golan "continued to be characterized by the presence and activities of the Israel Defense Forces in the area of separation, affecting the operations of UNDOF". He said: "All actions that are inconsistent with the Agreement are unacceptable and must cease." He also said: "There should be no military forces and activities in the area of separation other than those of UNDOF."

The spokesperson for the Secretary-General said on 19 November 2025, of a visit by Israel's Prime Minister to troops in the area: "This very public visit is concerning to say the least." He said: "We call on Israel to respect the 1974 disengagement agreement."

The Secretary-General said in a report dated 2 June 2026 that he was "deeply concerned about the continued violations of the 1974 Disengagement Agreement, including breaches of the ceasefire, as well as the continued presence and activities of the Israel Defense Forces in the area of separation and beyond, in violation of the territorial integrity and sovereignty of the Syrian Arab Republic." He said in the same report: "I welcome that both parties to the 1974 Disengagement Agreement continue to express commitment to the terms of the Agreement."

The Secretary-General said in Damascus on 25 July 2026: "Violations of Syria's sovereignty and territorial integrity are unacceptable and must cease." He said: "What is happening in the region around the Golan Heights is totally unacceptable." Asked about Israel's actions in Syria, he said: "We consider that the present situation is intolerable and that that situation needs to stop."

What have governments said about Israeli forces in southern Lebanon?

US President Joe Biden said on 26 November 2024, announcing the cessation of hostilities, that "Israel will gradually withdraw its remaining forces". He said that "the Lebanese Army and the State Security Forces will deploy and take control of their own territory once again."

French President Emmanuel Macron said in Beirut on 17 January 2025: "We need a total withdrawal of the Israeli army."

Lebanese President Joseph Aoun said on 7 February 2025 that "permanent stability in the South is closely linked to the completion of Israel's withdrawal".

Lebanon's Permanent Representative to the United Nations said in identical letters dated 25 November 2025, written "On instructions from the Government of Lebanon", that "Lebanon calls upon the Security Council" to compel Israel "to withdraw immediately south of the Blue Line from all areas in Lebanon", "including the five border posts", and "to allow Lebanese civilians to return to their villages on the border."

French Foreign Minister Jean-Noël Barrot said on 24 March 2026, of Israeli plans for southern Lebanon: "We urge the Israeli authorities to refrain from such ground operations, which would have major humanitarian consequences and would exacerbate the country's already dire situation."

Lebanon's Permanent Representative to the United Nations said in identical letters dated 30 March 2026 that the Government of Lebanon "calls upon the United Nations, and in particular the Security Council" to compel Israel to "withdraw its forces to the internationally recognized borders". The letter said: "The Government of Lebanon reiterates that it was not its choice to involve Lebanon in this war."

Lebanese Prime Minister Nawaf Salam said on 3 September 2026: "We will continue working until all our prisoners are released, the fate of the missing is revealed, and a complete Israeli withdrawal from Lebanese territory is achieved."

What have governments said about Israeli forces in Syria?

Ahmad al-Sharaa, then leader of Syria's new administration, said at a press conference in Damascus on 16 January 2025: "Israel advanced into the buffer zone under the pretext of the presence of Iranian militias, but this excuse no longer holds after Damascus was liberated."

Syrian Foreign Minister Asaad al-Shibani said in an interview broadcast on 16 January 2025: "Israel must respect Syria's sovereignty just as they seek security for their own borders and homes."

Syria's Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Expatriates said on 19 November 2025 that the Israeli Prime Minister's visit to southern Syria was "a serious violation of Syria's sovereignty and territorial integrity". The ministry called on the international community to push for a total Israeli withdrawal and a return to the 1974 Disengagement Agreement, according to The Jerusalem Post.

Syrian Foreign Minister Asaad al-Shibani said in Damascus on 25 July 2026 that Israeli military operations in Syria formed a "direct threat to the security of the region".

How have Hezbollah and Israel described Israel's troops in Lebanon and Syria?

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said from the Golan Heights on 8 December 2024 of the 1974 agreement: "Last night, it collapsed. The Syrian army abandoned its positions." He said: "We gave the Israeli army the order to take over these positions to ensure that no hostile force embeds itself right next to the border of Israel. This is a temporary defensive position until a suitable arrangement is found."

Israel's Permanent Mission to the United Nations told the Security Council in a letter on 9 December 2024 that Israel had taken "limited and temporary measures" in the area. Ambassador Danny Danon wrote: "Our actions are solely focused on safeguarding our security."

Hezbollah's Secretary-General, Naim Qassem, said in a televised address on 27 January 2025: "We do not accept any justification to extend for one moment or one day."

Israeli Defence Minister Israel Katz said on Mount Hermon on 28 January 2025: "The IDF will remain at the summit of the Hermon and the security zone indefinitely to ensure the security of the communities of the Golan Heights and the north, and all the residents of Israel." He said: "We will not be dependent on others for our security."

Qassem said in a televised speech on 16 February 2025: “Israel must withdraw completely on Feb. 18, it has no pretext, no five points or other details... this is the agreement.”

Israel’s military spokesperson, Lieutenant Colonel Nadav Shoshani, said on 17 February 2025: “We need to remain at those points at the moment to defend Israeli citizens, to make sure this process is complete and eventually hand it over to the Lebanese armed forces.” He said: “Basically the security situation is very, very complex.”

Netanyahu said on 23 February 2025 that Israeli forces would remain on the “Syrian side of Mt. Hermon and the buffer zone in the Golan Heights for an unlimited period of time”.

Katz’s office said on 14 March 2025 that he had “clarified that the IDF will remain at the five points that control the buffer zone in Lebanon, indefinitely, for the sake of protecting the residents of the north”.

Israel’s military said on 14 November 2025, after UNIFIL’s statement on the wall near Yaroun: “The wall does not cross the Blue Line.”

Netanyahu said to troops in the buffer zone in Syria on 19 November 2025: “We attach immense importance to our capability here.” He said: “This is a mission that can develop at any moment, but we are counting on you.”

The Chief of the General Staff of the Israel Defense Forces, Eyal Zamir, said on 14 December 2025: “Our presence at these points enables better security for residents alongside freedom of operation for the troops.”

Netanyahu said on 19 February 2026: “Buffer zones or demilitarized zones, several kilometres wide along the borders of the State, are a necessary requirement.” He said: “In light of the above, the IDF remains in the buffer zones in Lebanon and Syria.”

Katz said on 3 March 2026: “Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu and I have authorized the [Israel Defense Forces] to advance and seize additional

WHO HAS SAID WHAT ABOUT OBSTACLES TO A GAZA CEASEFIRE?

What the Board of Peace, Egypt, Qatar, the United States, Israel's government and Hamas have said is holding up the Gaza ceasefire's next phase, dated.

POSITIONS 23 November 2026 Board of Peace Hamas Gaza ceasefire Gaza Strip

The Board of Peace said in its report to the UN Security Council dated 15 May 2026 that "the principal obstacle to full implementation remains Hamas' refusal to accept verified decommissioning, relinquish coercive control, and permit a genuine civilian transition in Gaza." The Board said in its second report, delivered on 17 November 2026, that the absence of decisions by Israel's government on the return of civilian police to Gaza "continues to impede full implementation of the Comprehensive Plan." Hamas said on 19 May 2026 that the Board's first report ignored Israel's "failure to uphold the majority of its commitments". Israel's delegation to the UN Security Council said on 21 May 2026 that the ceasefire framework was in deadlock because of "one central obstacle: Hamas refuses to disarm."

What does the Gaza peace plan say happens after the ceasefire?

The ceasefire between Israel and Hamas in the Gaza Strip took effect at noon local time on 10 October 2025. In October 2025, Israel's government and Hamas agreed to the first phase of US President Donald Trump's Comprehensive Plan to End the Gaza Conflict, dated 29 September 2025.

UN Security Council resolution 2803 of 17 November 2025 refers to the role of the United States, Qatar, Egypt and Türkiye "in having facilitated the ceasefire in the Gaza Strip". The Comprehensive Plan to End the Gaza Conflict is annexed to UN Security Council resolution 2803, which endorsed the plan on 17 November 2025.

The plan provides that Gaza will be demilitarised under the supervision of independent monitors. Resolution 2803 welcomed the establishment of the Board of Peace as a transitional administration to coordinate funding for the redevelopment of Gaza, and authorised a temporary International Stabilization Force in Gaza, both until 31 December 2027, subject to further action by the Council.

The Comprehensive Plan provides that Israeli forces will withdraw to an agreed line to prepare for a hostage release, and that battle lines will remain frozen until conditions are met for a complete staged withdrawal. Resolution 2803 provides that, as the International Stabilization Force establishes control and stability, the Israel Defense Forces will withdraw from the Gaza Strip based on standards, milestones and timeframes linked to demilitarisation, save for a security perimeter presence.

A committee of Palestinian technocrats, the National Committee for the Administration of Gaza, was appointed in January 2026.

What is the Board of Peace's road map for Gaza?

The guarantors of the ceasefire, Egypt, Qatar, Türkiye and the United States, and the High Representative for Gaza developed and presented a road map to complete implementation of the Comprehensive Plan. The road map establishes the National Committee for the Administration of Gaza as the sole legitimate transitional authority, responsible for civilian governance and security.

The core security obligation under the road map is the complete decommissioning of weapons, subject to international verification. Under the road map, the Israel Defense Forces would withdraw in phases to the Gaza perimeter, contingent upon verified progress in decommissioning.

The Board of Peace's first report says that the decommissioning process is sequenced to proceed in phases matched with commensurate implementation steps by Israel and other stakeholders. An International Stabilisation Force would be deployed to serve as a buffer, support the chain of custody for weapons, and protect humanitarian operations, according to the report. Reconstruction would begin under the authority of the National Committee for the Administration of Gaza in certified decommissioned areas, according to the report.

Hamas agreed in July 2026 to the road map.

What has the Board of Peace said about Gaza ceasefire obstacles?

Resolution 2803 requests the Board of Peace to provide a written report to the Security Council every six months. The Board of Peace's first report, dated 15 May 2026, covers developments from 17 November 2025 to 14 May 2026 and was circulated as Security Council document S/2026/418.

The Board of Peace said in that report: "At this stage, the principal obstacle to full implementation remains Hamas' refusal to accept verified decommissioning, relinquish coercive control, and permit a genuine civilian transition in Gaza." The Board said in the same report that ceasefire violations "continue to occur on a near daily basis, some of which are serious". It also said: "Reconstruction cannot commence where weapons have not been laid down."

The Security Council met on 21 May, 28 July, 26 August and 28 September 2026 on the situation in the Middle East, including the Palestinian question. Nickolay Mladenov, High Representative for Gaza of the Board of Peace, briefed the Council on 21 May and 26 August 2026.

Nickolay Mladenov, the Board of Peace's High Representative for Gaza, said to the Security Council on 21 May 2026 that "implementation cannot advance through Palestinian obligations alone." He said in the same briefing: "The continued killings, Israeli restrictions and delays affecting humanitarian flows are not abstract issues." He asked the Council "to urge Hamas to accept the road map without further delay and to urge Israel to uphold its obligations under the ceasefire."

Mladenov said to the Council on 26 August 2026: "The first risk is the distance between what has been agreed and what is happening on the ground." Mladenov said in the same briefing: "Israeli strikes have continued since the road map was accepted, and Palestinian civilians are still being killed." Of a further strike on a munitions depot, he said: "It only delays the demilitarization that would happen, and it obstructs the civilian transition that should take place to ensure that remilitarization will not be possible in the future."

Mladenov said in the same briefing of 26 August 2026: "The second risk runs in the opposite direction. Hamas has committed to ceasing all military activities.

That commitment is still to be met in full." He said that "three things must be in place for the process to move forward: the ISF needs to be able to deploy; Israel's undertakings under the Sharm el-Sheikh protocol need to be implemented; and Hamas must adhere to its commitments."

The Board of Peace delivered its second report to the Security Council on 17 November 2026. The Board of Peace said in that report: "The distance between what has been agreed and what is happening on the ground nonetheless remains the principal risk to the process." The Board said in the report: "The absence of decisions by the government of Israel on the necessary conditions and arrangements for the training, deployment and return of civilian police to Gaza continues to impede full implementation of the Comprehensive Plan."

The Board of Peace said in the same report: "Every day that Israel continues strikes against Hamas targets, it delays putting Hamas' agreement to the roadmap to the test." It said: "Neither party may treat the other's delay as license for its own inaction, and together these obligations are the only route to Israeli withdrawal and reconstruction at scale."

What have governments said about Gaza ceasefire obstacles?

Egypt's delegation to the UN Security Council said on 28 July 2026 that Egypt, "in coordination with the United States, Qatar and Türkiye, is working to support the full implementation of all phases" of the Comprehensive Plan. The delegation said in the same statement that Israel continued to take "unilateral escalatory measures" in the Palestinian territories, "thereby undermining the opportunity to end the conflict". It said: "Israel must refrain from obstructing prompt recovery and reconstruction efforts throughout the Gaza Strip, and Israel must ultimately withdraw fully from the Strip."

The foreign ministers of Saudi Arabia, the United Arab Emirates, Jordan, Pakistan, Indonesia and the ceasefire mediators said in a joint statement on 16

August 2026 on Israel's rejection of the road map that Israel "now bears responsibility for obstructing the efforts to bring peace in Gaza."

US envoy Jared Kushner said in an interview with Fox News on 17 August 2026: "We will not allow Gaza to be rebuilt until demilitarization occurs."

Qatar's delegation to the UN Security Council, speaking for the Arab Group, said on 26 August 2026 that the Group "condemns Israel's declared rejection of the road map" for implementing the Comprehensive Plan. It said: "These positions constitute a direct rejection of the Comprehensive Plan, jeopardize its implementation and gravely undermine collective efforts for a just and lasting peace."

The United States' delegation to the UN Security Council said on 26 August 2026, through Ambassador Michael Waltz: "Once Hamas demonstrates full compliance with their commitments, Israel will begin its phased, and eventually complete, withdrawal from the Gaza Strip." Waltz said in the same statement: "We will be frozen in a cycle of humanitarian aid rather than rebuilding, until Hamas disarms and demilitarizes." He also said: "Therefore, believe me when I say that we will judge Hamas by what it does, not only by what it says."

The foreign ministers of the United Arab Emirates, Saudi Arabia, Oman, Qatar, Kuwait, Jordan, Lebanon, Egypt, Algeria, Palestine, Libya, Mauritania, Djibouti, Somalia, Turkey, Pakistan, Indonesia and Sudan said in a joint statement on 14 November 2026 that continued Israeli attacks on Palestinian civilians "undermine the ceasefire agreement and efforts to restore security and stability in the Gaza Strip". WAFA's list of the same statement's signatories does not include Palestine.

What have Israel's government and Hamas said about Gaza ceasefire obstacles?

Khalil al-Hayya, Hamas's chief negotiator, said on 24 December 2025 that Israeli violations of the ceasefire were aimed at hindering the move to the next phase of the ceasefire deal.

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said on 24 December 2025 that Hamas had made clear it had no plan to disarm as foreseen under the October truce deal.

Hamas said on 19 May 2026 that the Board of Peace's first report ignored Israel's "failure to uphold the majority of its commitments" in the ceasefire deal, including restrictions on crossings and on the entry of material for infrastructure and shelter. Hamas asked the Security Council and Nickolay Mladenov, the Board of Peace's High Representative for Gaza, to compel Israel to fulfil its commitments under the deal's first phase, "foremost among them the cessation of the daily aggression against our Palestinian people in Gaza."

Israel's delegation to the UN Security Council said on 21 May 2026: "For months, the ceasefire framework has remained trapped in deadlock, not because there is no path forward, no international plan or no humanitarian mechanism, but because there is one central obstacle: Hamas refuses to disarm." The delegation said in the same statement: "Disarmament cannot be treated as a secondary or symbolic issue, because it is the very condition on which any sustainable future in Gaza depends."

Israel's delegation to the UN Security Council said on 28 July 2026, through Ambassador Danny Danon: "But while Israel upholds its end of the deal, the main problem remains: Hamas has refused to disarm."

Doron Spielman, a spokesperson for the Prime Minister's Office, said on 2 August 2026: "The most important concern for Israel is that nothing can happen before Hamas completely and truly disarms". He said to the Associated Press the same day: "Disarming means physically giving up the weapons. Nothing less."

Basem Naim, a senior Hamas official, said on 9 August 2026 that Hamas expected the mediators and the United States to "press Netanyahu and his government to adhere to the roadmap." Hamas said in a statement after Netanyahu's remarks: "We will continue to engage positively and responsibly with efforts aimed at completing the implementation of the roadmap."

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said at the cabinet meeting on 9 August 2026 that Israel rejected the Board of Peace's road map. He said: "The IDF will not carry out any withdrawal until Hamas is genuinely disarmed." He also said that it would need to be "genuine disarmament, not fictitious disarmament."

The Prime Minister's Office said on 17 August 2026, after a meeting with US envoy Jared Kushner and the Board of Peace, that Israel and the Board agreed that the demilitarisation "should be prompt and completed before any reconstruction."

Israel's delegation to the UN Security Council said on 26 August 2026: "But the Plan cannot succeed while Hamas remains armed." The delegation said in the same statement: "Disarmament must come first." It also said: "That is why Hamas' disarmament cannot rest on promises. It must be complete, verifiable and irreversible."

Hamas said on 1 September 2026 that Israeli attacks were undermining the ceasefire agreement, and that it had asked the mediators and the Board of Peace envoy, Nickolay Mladenov, to press Israel.

Israel's delegation to the UN Security Council said on 28 September 2026: "When the Council debates the obstacles to peace, it must confront the entire picture. Hamas must disarm in Gaza."

Basem Naim, a senior Hamas official, said on 18 November 2026 that the Board of Peace's second report was "pure disinformation", and that the Board was providing cover to Israel to evade its commitments under the plan.

Israeli Defence Minister Israel Katz said in a statement on 18 November 2026 that any drawdown or redeployment of Israeli forces would take place only after "Hamas is dismantled and Gaza is demilitarized".

WHO HAS SAID WHAT ABOUT THE IDF'S CODE OF ETHICS?

What the IDF's code of ethics, the Spirit of the IDF, says, and what the UN Commission of Inquiry, Human Rights Watch and Israeli officials have said about it.

Israel, said on 19 June 2024: "I don't know whether it's one of the most moral armies in the world or not, but what I do have expertise in and what I do have authority to do is make assessments of criminal conduct." The Commission said in a paper it issued on 23 June 2026 that "Israeli soldiers in Gaza filming themselves destroying and mocking children's toys raise serious ethical, disciplinary, and legal concerns". Eyal Zamir, the IDF's Chief of the General Staff, said on 27 April 2026: "There is erosion, but we must not give up on our values or compromise on our norms."

What values does the IDF's code of ethics set out?

The Spirit of the IDF is the IDF's code of ethics. The IDF publishes the Spirit of the IDF in English on its website, on a page titled "The Spirit of the Israel Defense Forces: What Guides Us".

The page lists four fundamental values: defense of the State of Israel and its residents, patriotism and loyalty to Israel, human dignity, and statehood. The page lists ten further values derived from them, among them human life, purity of arms and discipline.

The IDF's page says that the Spirit of the IDF "outlines our values and, together with the practical rules derived from, constitutes our ethical code, guiding our soldiers and commanders in their day-to-day and operational activities." On the defense of the State, the code says: "The purpose of the IDF is to protect Israel and its independence and ensure the security of its residents." On patriotism and loyalty, it says that "patriotism and commitment and devotion to the State of Israel and its people are at the very core of service in the IDF."

The value of human dignity reads, in the IDF's words: "The IDF and our soldiers are obligated to protect human dignity. Every individual is of inherent value, regardless of their ethnicity, religion, nationality, gender or status." Under statehood, the code says: "The IDF is the people's army, the State of Israel's military, subject to the law and government of the State of Israel." The same value says: “IDF soldiers will operate with their mission, the IDF’s values and the security of Israel as their priority.”

The IDF’s code says, under purity of arms: “An IDF soldier will only exercise their power or use their weapon in order to fulfill their mission and only when necessary. They will maintain their humanity during combat and routine times. The soldier will not use their weapon or power to harm uninvolved civilians and prisoners and will do everything in their power to prevent harm to their lives, bodies, dignity and property.”

The code’s value of human life says: “An IDF soldier will recognize the critical importance of human life and behave in a safe and measured manner at all times. During combat, the soldier will put themselves and their fellow soldiers at risk only to the extent required to fulfill their mission.”

Under discipline, the IDF’s code says: “An IDF soldier will operate to the best of their ability to fulfill what is required of them in a complete and successful manner and in accordance with the orders they were given and the values of the IDF. The soldier will ensure they are only giving out legal orders, and do not follow illegal orders.”

The value of perseverance in the mission and pursuit of victory says that an IDF soldier will act and operate with courage in the face of every danger and challenge presented, and will persevere in their mission with determination and wisdom, even if it means risking their life. Under reliability and trustworthiness, the code says: “An IDF soldier will present things entirely and precisely as they are.”

Under responsibility, the IDF’s code says that a soldier will see themselves as an active partner in ensuring the security of the State of Israel and its residents. The code says that the soldier will show continuous involvement, initiative and diligence, will operate within the framework of their authority, and will be willing to accept consequences for their actions if need be.

Under personal example, the code says that an IDF soldier will conduct themselves in the manner that is required of them and in the manner they expect their fellow soldiers to act. Its value of professionalism says that a soldier will aspire to gain the professional knowledge, skills and expertise required to fulfill their position in the IDF.

The code's value of camaraderie says that an IDF soldier will operate out of commitment and devotion to their fellow soldiers, and will always extend other servicemembers a helping hand when they are in need of assistance, despite any difficulty or risk. Under a sense of mission, the code says that a soldier will see their service as a vocation and will be intent on contributing as much as possible to defend the State of Israel and its residents.

What have UN bodies said about the IDF's code of ethics?

The UN Human Rights Council established the UN Independent International Commission of Inquiry on the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and Israel on 27 May 2021. Chris Sidoti was a member of the commission.

Chris Sidoti, a member of the UN Commission of Inquiry, said at a press conference on 19 June 2024, as UN News published his words: "I don't know whether it's one of the most moral armies in the world or not, but what I do have expertise in and what I do have authority to do is make assessments of criminal conduct." He said in the same remarks that the Commission had made assessments of criminal conduct in relation to the recent events, that these could be seen in its report, and that "the only conclusion you can draw is that the Israeli army is one of the most criminal armies in the world".

The UN Commission of Inquiry issued a report on 23 June 2026. Srinivasan Muralidhar was the Commission's chair when the report was issued. The paper was prepared for the Human Rights Council's sixty-second session.

In that paper of 23 June 2026, the UN Commission of Inquiry said that it "examines how Israeli soldiers mock and weaponize symbols of childhood in Gaza, raising ethical, disciplinary and legal questions about the conduct of the Israeli security forces during the ground invasion of Gaza."

The Commission said that the IDF's Chief of Staff had urged Israeli soldiers in a letter of February 2024 "not to take anything that is not ours." It said: "The Commission has not found any evidence that the letter made any difference in the conduct of Israeli soldiers in Gaza who continued misusing and damaging children's toys through October 2025, including after the ceasefire agreement."

The paper says: "However, the Commission is not aware of the Israeli security forces opening any investigation into such incidents." The Commission said that it "concludes that they are not isolated or personally motivated acts", citing "the number of examples documented by the Commission, across different geographical locations and during different time periods".

The Commission said in the same paper that the acts were "conducted by different units of the Israeli security forces with no disciplinary consequences against the Israeli soldiers". In its conclusions, the Commission said that "Israeli soldiers in Gaza filming themselves destroying and mocking children's toys raise serious ethical, disciplinary, and legal concerns".

What have organisations said about the IDF's code of ethics?

Human Rights Watch said on 24 September 2010, in a commentary titled "Yes, War Does Have Rules": "The military brass repeatedly points to the 'Spirit of the IDF' as evidence that it provides its soldiers with ethical training."

The organisation said in the same commentary that the Spirit of the IDF is both an "ethical code to which we all aspire", a phrase it attributed to an Israeli military spokesman, and a guide to conduct, and that the mixture may confuse soldiers and commanders alike. It said that Israel's army "is accountable to universal standards of behavior under the laws of war", and "not just a set of unenforceable ideals".

The organisation said: "It is essential for the Israeli military to teach its soldiers and commanders to reject behavior that is not just embarrassing to Israel and harmful to civilians, but illegal."

What have Israel's military and government said about the IDF's code?

The IDF's military justice system is headed by the Military Advocate General. Criminal investigations are conducted by a department of the IDF Military Police Criminal Investigation Division, and the unit's work is directed by the Military Advocate General. Major General Yifat Tomer-Yerushalmi, the former Military Advocate General, resigned on 31 October 2025. Major General Itay Offir assumed office as Military Advocate General in November 2025.

IDF Chief of the General Staff Lt. Gen. Herzi Halevi said in a letter to troops on 20 February 2024, as The Times of Israel reported: "We act like human beings and, unlike our enemy, maintain our humanity." He said in the same letter: "We must be careful not to use force where it is not required." He said in the letter that troops were "not to take anything that is not ours".

The Military Advocate General, Maj. Gen. Yifat Tomer-Yerushalmi, said in a letter to commanders on 21 February 2024: "We have encountered cases of unacceptable conduct that deviate from IDF values and protocols." She said that the cases included inappropriate statements that encourage unacceptable phenomena, unjustified use of force, including against detainees, looting, and destruction of civilian property contrary to protocols.

Tomer-Yerushalmi said in the letter: "Some incidents go beyond the disciplinary domain, and cross the criminal threshold." She said that these acts and statements "are contrary to the IDF as a professional, moral, and dignified army, and they have no place in the IDF". Cases were being investigated, after which the Military Advocate General Corps would decide if criminal or disciplinary measures need to be taken, according to Tomer-Yerushalmi.

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said on 20 May 2025, replying to remarks by the chairman of the Democrats Party, as The Jerusalem Post reported: "The IDF is the most moral army in the world, and our soldiers are fighting a battle for our very existence."

The IDF said of a soldier's video, in a statement The Times of Israel reported on 8 January 2026, that it represented "a grave incident that does not accord with the values of the IDF and with the standards expected of combat soldiers and their commanders." The army said that it would weigh whether the soldier could return to combat after his prison sentence.

IDF Chief of the General Staff Lt. Gen. Eyal Zamir said to the IDF's senior command staff on 27 April 2026, as Ynetnews reported: "There is erosion, but we must not give up on our values or compromise on our norms." Of a patch he showed commanders, he said: "This is a rebellion against IDF values." On reports of looting in combat areas, Zamir said: "If there were such incidents, we will investigate them."

National Security Minister Itamar Ben-Gvir said in a statement on 15 October 2026 that he would change the IDF's code of ethics if he is named defense minister. His proposal says: "The purpose of the IDF is to achieve victory and decisively defeat the enemies of the State of Israel and the Jewish people, while safeguarding the security of the state, its citizens, and its residents."

According to Ben-Gvir's plan, the principle of "Purity of Arms" would be replaced with "Righteousness of Arms". The plan says that "the IDF and its soldiers are committed to preserving human dignity". National Security Minister Itamar Ben-Gvir said on 15 October 2026 that the revised code would establish the principle "If someone comes to kill you, rise early and kill him first" as a moral guideline for soldiers carrying out their missions.

The statements on the IDF's code of ethics, in the order of this page:

October 2023 to 7 October 2026. Israel's military said, in figures Ynet published on 27 June 2024, that 16% of buildings in the Gaza Strip had been destroyed since the start of the war, for the period ending 31 May 2024. The UN Environment Programme said on 23 September 2025 that more than 61 million tons of debris would require clearing, sorting and recycling or disposal, in a report covering the period up to 1 September 2025. UN OCHA said on 28 October 2026, citing UNOSAT, that 82% of all structures in the Gaza Strip were destroyed or damaged as of 16 June 2026. The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said in their assessment released on 20 April 2026 that approximately 371,888 homes, equivalent to 76.6% of all units, had been directly affected.

How many homes has the Gaza Government Media Office said were destroyed?

The Gaza Government Media Office publishes updates of its main statistics on the war on its Telegram channel. Its update of 7 October 2026 covers the period from 7 October 2023 to 7 October 2026.

The Ministry of Public Works and Housing said, in a statement the Gaza Government Media Office published on 21 November 2026, that about 410,000 housing units had been damaged, of which 335,000 were totally demolished and 75,000 had become uninhabitable. The Ministry of Public Works and Housing said in the same statement that this meant the destruction of about 80% of the Strip's buildings.

The Gaza Government Media Office said on 7 October 2026 that 227,703 buildings and 510,000 housing units had been damaged from 7 October 2023 to 7 October 2026. In the same update of 7 October 2026, the Gaza Government Media Office said that 335,000 buildings and housing units had been totally destroyed and 75,000 partially destroyed and left uninhabitable, and that its total of buildings and housing units totally demolished or uninhabitable was 410,000. According to the Gaza Government Media Office's update of 7 October 2026, more than 100,000 housing units were partially destroyed and habitable, and the rate of comprehensive destruction in the Gaza Strip was more than 90%.

The Gaza Government Media Office said in its press statement of 10 October 2025, read by its Director General, that nearly 300,000 housing units had been totally destroyed and 200,000 others severely or partially. In the same statement of 10 October 2025, the Gaza Government Media Office said that civilian infrastructure had been demolished at a rate of 90%.

The Gaza Government Media Office said on 23 March 2025 that about 165,000 housing units had been totally destroyed, about 115,000 severely destroyed and left uninhabitable, and about 200,000 partially destroyed, from 7 October 2023 to 23 March 2025. According to the Gaza Government Media Office's update of 23 March 2025, the rate of destruction in the Gaza Strip was more than 88%.

How many Gaza buildings has Israel's military said were destroyed?

Israel's military said, in figures Ynet published on 27 June 2024, that 16% of buildings in the Gaza Strip had been destroyed since the start of the war, for the period ending 31 May 2024.

In figures JNS published on 30 June 2024, Israel's military said that 35,952 permanent structures in the Gaza Strip had been destroyed, after an analysis using digital aerial mapping by Unit 9900 of its Intelligence Corps. In the same figures JNS published on 30 June 2024, Israel's military said that 84,276 temporary structures, including sheds and tents, had been destroyed.

Israel's military said in the same Ynet report that, unlike the UN and media outlets, it collects almost daily visual evidence using advanced drones and other technological means in addition to satellite imagery. It said that its data would be presented to the various international tribunals and investigations into Israel's conduct in the war.

How much debris has UNEP estimated in the Gaza Strip?

The UN Environment Programme (UNEP) published a preliminary assessment of the environmental impact of the conflict in Gaza on 18 June 2024, in response to an official request from the State of Palestine in December 2023. UNEP issued its second assessment of environmental damage in the Gaza Strip on 23 September 2025, covering the period up to 1 September 2025.

The UN Environment Programme said on 23 September 2025 that, on current estimates, more than 61 million tons of debris would require clearing, sorting and recycling or disposal, some of it contaminated with asbestos and industrial chemicals and wastes.

The UN Environment Programme said on 18 June 2024 that an estimated 39 million tonnes of debris had been generated by the conflict.

How many structures in Gaza has UNOSAT counted as damaged?

The United Nations Satellite Centre (UNOSAT) provides United Nations funds, programmes and specialized agencies with satellite analysis, training and capacity development, at their request. UNOSAT's comprehensive damage assessments of the Gaza Strip are maps based on satellite images collected on a stated date and compared with images collected on earlier dates.

UN OCHA said on 28 October 2026, citing UNOSAT, that 82% of all structures in the Gaza Strip were destroyed or damaged as of 16 June 2026.

UNOSAT said on 31 October 2025 that, as of 11 October 2025, approximately 81% of all structures in the Gaza Strip were damaged. UNOSAT said in its assessment of 31 October 2025 that it identified 123,464 destroyed structures, 17,116 severely damaged structures, 33,857 moderately damaged structures and 23,836 possibly damaged structures, for a total of 198,273 affected structures. UNOSAT said on 31

October 2025 that an estimated 320,622 housing units had been damaged, and that the assessment was a preliminary analysis that had not yet been validated in the field.

UNOSAT said on 5 August 2025 that, in images collected on 8 July 2025, it identified 102,067 destroyed structures, 17,421 severely damaged structures, 41,895 moderately damaged structures and 31,429 possibly damaged structures, for a total of 192,812 structures. UNOSAT said in its assessment of 5 August 2025 that these corresponded to around 78% of the total structures in the Gaza Strip and a total of 282,904 estimated damaged housing units.

UNOSAT said on 13 December 2024 that, in images collected on 1 December 2024, it identified 60,368 destroyed structures, 20,050 severely damaged structures, 56,292 moderately damaged structures and 34,102 possibly damaged structures, for a total of 170,812 structures. UNOSAT said in its assessment of 13 December 2024 that these corresponded to around 69% of the total structures in the Gaza Strip and a total of 245,123 estimated damaged housing units.

What have the World Bank, EU and UN said about Gaza's damage?

The World Bank and the United Nations released the Gaza Interim Damage Assessment on 2 April 2024, with financial support of the European Union. The Interim Damage Assessment covers damage to physical infrastructure between October 2023 and the end of January 2024. The World Bank, the United Nations and the European Union released the Gaza and West Bank Interim Rapid Damage and Needs Assessment on 18 February 2025, based on data from October 2023 to October 2024. The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations conducted the Gaza Strip Rapid Damage and Needs Assessment of April 2026, which covers damages incurred between 8 October 2023 and 9 October 2025.

In their assessment released on 20 April 2026, the World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said that approximately 371,888 homes, equivalent to 76.6% of all units, had been directly affected. The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said in the same assessment of 20 April 2026 that nearly 84.6% of the total impacted units had been destroyed, and that before the most recent crisis Gaza was estimated to have roughly 485,361 housing units.

According to the World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations in their assessment of 20 April 2026, physical damage caused by the conflict was estimated at US$35.2 billion, with the housing sector's damages at US$18.0 billion. The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said in the same assessment of 20 April 2026 that an estimated 68 million tons of debris covered the Gaza Strip, including infectious and medical waste.

The World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said on 18 February 2025 that damages to physical structures alone in Gaza were estimated at about $30 billion, with housing accounting for 53% of total damages. In the same release of 18 February 2025, the World Bank, the European Union and the United Nations said that funding was needed for the management of 41 to 47 million tons of rubble and debris.

The World Bank and the United Nations said on 2 April 2024 that the cost of damage to critical infrastructure in Gaza was estimated at around $18.5 billion, for damage between October 2023 and the end of January 2024. The World Bank and the United Nations said in the same release of 2 April 2024 that an estimated 26 million tons of debris and rubble had been left.

COGAT is the Israeli unit tasked with coordinating and facilitating humanitarian initiatives in Gaza, in coordination with the international community.

What kind of Israeli body is COGAT?

COGAT, the Coordination of Government Activities in the Territories, is the Israeli unit that implements the government's civilian policy in the West Bank and in regard to the Gaza Strip. The unit reports to Israel's Minister of Defense.

COGAT is the Israeli unit tasked with coordinating and facilitating humanitarian initiatives in Gaza, in coordination with the international community. COGAT publishes data on aid to Gaza on its own website.

COGAT's Coordination and Liaison Administration for the Gaza Strip issues entry permits into Israel.

COGAT said on 17 December 2023 that UN aid trucks would "undergo security checks and be transferred directly to Gaza via Kerem Shalom". COGAT said on 13 August 2026 that it coordinates medical evacuations with the World Health Organization.

Who heads COGAT and its Gaza liaison administration?

The post COGAT names as Head of COGAT is held by Major General Yoram Halevy. The Head of COGAT is a member of the IDF's General Staff. The unit reports to Israel's Minister of Defense.

COGAT's other position holders include the Head of the Coordination and Liaison Administration (CLA) for Gaza and the Head of the Civil Administration. COGAT's Coordination and Liaison Administration for the Gaza Strip issues entry permits into Israel.

COGAT's Civil Coordination branch works with representatives of the Palestinian Civil Committee in the Gaza Strip. COGAT's division for coordination and liaison with international organisations works with UN agencies, governmental aid agencies and non-governmental international organisations.

COGAT's School for Coordination and Liaison trains its soldiers, commanders and officers.

How did aid reach Gaza through the crossings from October 2023?

The Kerem Shalom crossing was closed after the attack of 7 October 2023, and aid was delivered to Gaza solely through the Rafah crossing with Egypt. The Rafah crossing is on the border between the Gaza Strip and Egypt.

The Kerem Shalom crossing opened for aid trucks on 17 December 2023, for the first time since the outbreak of the war. The Kerem Shalom crossing is on the border of Egypt, Israel and the Gaza Strip, a few kilometres from the Rafah crossing.

The Security Council adopted resolution 2720 on 22 December 2023. UN Security Council Resolution 2720 (2023) established the UN2720 Mechanism for Gaza, operated by UNOPS, to accelerate the provision of humanitarian relief consignments to Gaza.

The Zikim crossing is in the north of the Gaza Strip.

What aid arrangements has Gaza had since the October 2025 ceasefire?

The ceasefire between Israel and Hamas in the Gaza Strip took effect at noon local time on 10 October 2025.

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:29:15 PM

US Central Command opened a Civil-Military Coordination Center (CMCC) in Israel on 17 October 2025.

The Comprehensive Plan to End the Gaza Conflict provides that opening the Rafah crossing in both directions will be subject to the same mechanism implemented under the agreement of 19 January 2025.

EUBAM Rafah is a civilian mission of the European Union, established in 2005. EUBAM Rafah deployed to the Rafah Crossing Point on 1 February 2026, at the request of the parties, to facilitate the traffic of a controlled number of passengers and to monitor and support the Palestinian border personnel at the crossing. The Rafah Crossing Point reopened on 2 February 2026 for a controlled number of passengers in both directions.

UN Security Council Resolution 2720 (2023) established the UN2720 Mechanism for Gaza, operated by UNOPS, to accelerate the provision of humanitarian relief consignments to Gaza.

What has been said about COGAT's role in Gaza?

Martin Griffiths, the UN emergency relief chief, said on 7 December 2023 that there were "promising signs" in negotiations in the COGAT committee on aid access to Gaza through the Kerem Shalom crossing. He said that the committee "meets daily and nightly".

COGAT said in a statement on 17 December 2023: "Starting today (Dec. 17), UN aid trucks will undergo security checks and be transferred directly to Gaza via Kerem Shalom, to abide by our agreement with the US." Colonel Elad Goren, head of the civil department at COGAT, said the same day that humanitarian agencies had not increased their capacity to distribute aid to meet the demand from the influx of Gazans who had fled to the south of the enclave on Israeli advice.

Jens Laerke, a spokesperson for UN OCHA, said on 9 April 2024 that COGAT counts trucks that it screens and sends across the border while OCHA counts trucks that arrive at its warehouses, and that "between those two, there are issues." He said that trucks screened by COGAT are typically only half full, in line with its requirements.

On 7 May 2024, Jens Laerke of UN OCHA said: "We currently do not have any physical presence at the Rafah crossing as our access to go to that area for coordination purposes has been denied by COGAT."

Jens Laerke of UN OCHA said on 21 June 2024: "Of course, we welcome any initiative that aims at facilitated aid delivery and we did reach an understanding with COGAT on coordinated movements intended to facilitate safe movements of humanitarian aid." He said: "In reality, as we hear from the ground, it has come to very little."

UNICEF spokesperson James Elder said on 25 October 2024 that COGAT "does not provide reasons for refusals" of medical evacuations of children. He said: "Only a list of approved patients is provided by Israel's COGAT, which controls Gaza's entry and exit points. The status of others is not shared."

The US State Department's Principal Deputy Spokesperson, Vedant Patel, said on 14 November 2024: "Particularly, we anticipate that the IDF and COGAT may make some adjustments to the list of items, the dual-use items, that would be allowed in."

The Gaza Government Media Office said on 12 August 2025 that a statement issued by COGAT was "nothing but a leap in the air" and "a desperate attempt to cover up an internationally documented crime".

On 22 August 2025, the Prime Minister's Office said, citing COGAT and the Ministry of Defense, that "101,000 trucks, 2 million tons of aid have entered Gaza facilitated by Israel since October 7."

On 14 October 2025, COGAT said that from 15 October 2025 it would allow only 300 of the previously agreed 600 aid trucks from the UN and other NGOs to enter the Gaza Strip, ending the flow of commercial goods.

COGAT said in a paper dated 15 December 2025 that "today's aid mechanism operates through seven inspection and transfer points that handle humanitarian supplies and commercial goods entering Gaza". According to the paper, the transfer and offloading points are Kerem Shalom in southern Gaza, Kisufim in central Gaza and Zikim in northern Gaza.

On 4 February 2026, COGAT said that the Rafah crossing remained open, but that it had not received the necessary coordination details from the World Health Organization to facilitate the crossing.

COGAT said that crossings into the Gaza Strip were closed on 28 February 2026, and that the closures included the Rafah crossing.

On 15 March 2026, COGAT said that the Rafah crossing would open on Wednesday 18 March 2026 for limited movement of people in both directions.

In its report of 9 July 2026, COGAT said: "Through the CMCC coordination framework, Israel works closely with the United States and other international partners to monitor humanitarian operations, share operational data, and advance practical solutions that facilitate the humanitarian response in the Gaza Strip." The report said that health products "were approved by Israel through the UN2720 mechanism, operated in cooperation with UNOPS, for UN agencies and international organizations."

COGAT said on 13 August 2026 that it coordinates medical evacuations with the World Health Organization. It said: "Medical evacuations are in no sense restricted by the State of Israel but are wholly dependent on the receiving country's request; without the official request, COGAT cannot coordinate a patient's leave."

On 13 August 2026, COGAT said that around 5,800 Gazans needing medical treatment had exited to Egypt since Israel agreed in February 2026 to a limited reopening of the Rafah border crossing.

Asked by the Associated Press on 16 September 2026 whether it would allow in machinery to help with a building collapse in Gaza City, COGAT said that the Israeli government's policy is that heavy machinery is allowed into Gaza.

COGAT said on 14 October 2026 that Gazan merchants had told it that they had stopped coordinating the entry of their trucks in response to a 10,000 shekel fee imposed by Hamas on each truck entering Gaza and a demand for 30% of all of their sales in Gaza to be carried out in cash. On 14 October 2026, COGAT said that the merchants' decision would cut the total number of trucks entering Gaza each day to around 300.

COGAT's deputy spokesperson, Kantorovich, said on 15 October 2026: "We were prepared to coordinate the entry of their trucks as usual, but the vendors informed us that they were cancelling the coordination due to Hamas's taxation mechanism and threats against them."

The Gaza Government Media Office said on 15 October 2026 that it was following "the false statement" issued by COGAT. The office said: "We categorically deny imposing any government taxes or fees on commercial trucks."

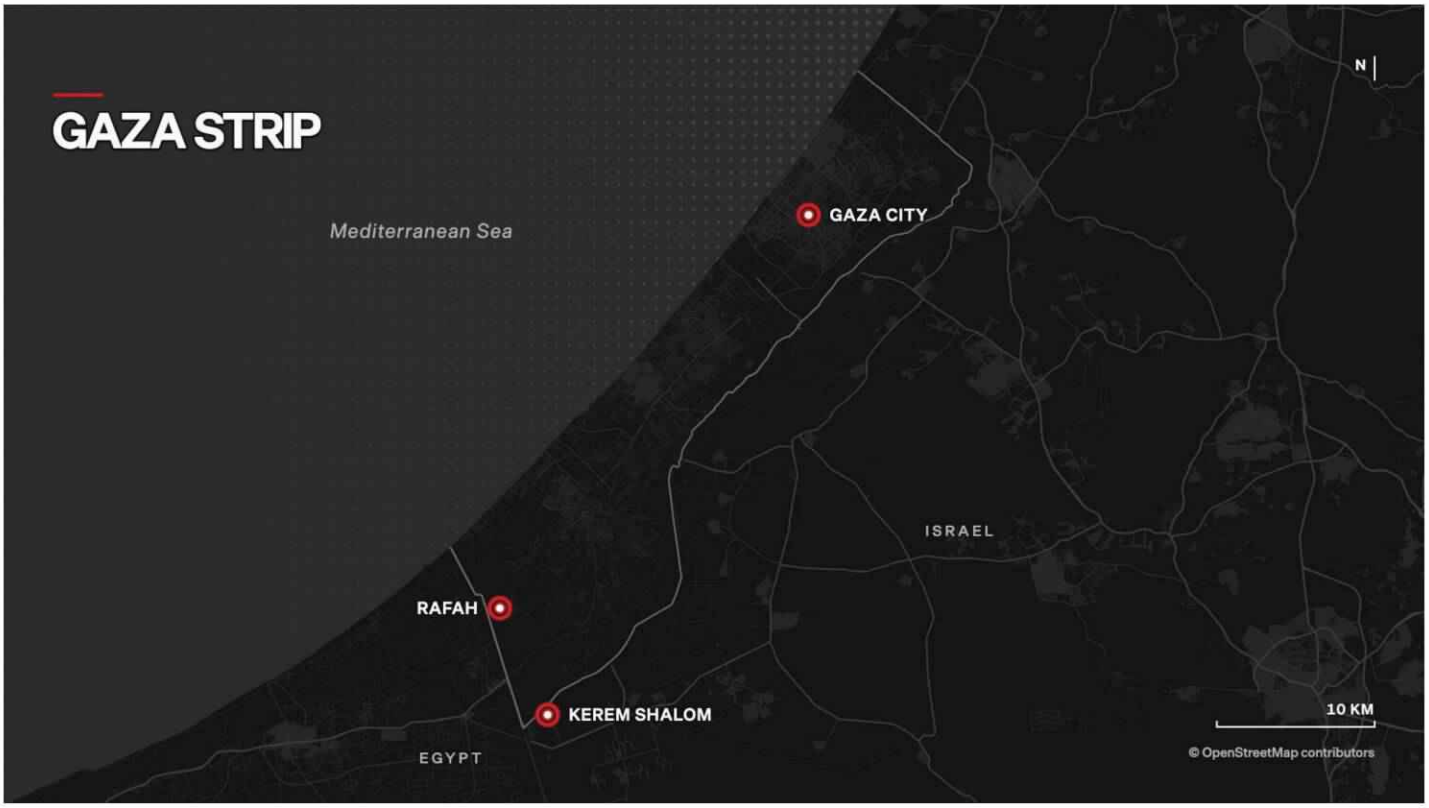
Courts and Law

WHO HAS SAID WHAT ABOUT THE LEGALITY OF THE GAZA BLOCKADE?

What Israel's Supreme Court, UN bodies, Turkey, the ICRC, Human Rights Watch, Amnesty International and Israel's government have said about the Gaza blockade.

POSITIONS 23 November 2026 Supreme Court of Israel Palmer report ICRC Gaza Strip



The Supreme Court of Israel, sitting as the High Court of Justice, ruled on 30 January 2008 on a petition against the reduction of fuel and electricity supplies to the Gaza Strip, and said that it had "been persuaded that this reduction does not breach the State of Israel's humanitarian duties within the context of the armed conflict". The Court's judgment ended: "Therefore, for the reasons set out above, the petition is denied." Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs said on 8 December 2023: "Moreover, Hamas's consistent use of the maritime areas to conduct attacks and smuggle arms necessitated a naval blockade imposed by Israel in 2009 in accordance with international law."

What has Israel's Supreme Court ruled on the Gaza blockade?

The petition in HCJ 9132/07, Jaber Al-Bassiouni Ahmed and others v. Prime Minister and Minister of Defence, was directed against the decision to reduce or limit the supply of fuel and electricity to the Gaza Strip. The Supreme Court of Israel, sitting as the High Court of Justice, gave judgment on 30 January 2008. President D. Beinisch wrote the judgment, and Justices E. Hayut and J. Elon agreed.

The Supreme Court said in its judgment of 30 January 2008: "The petition before us is directed against the respondents' decision to reduce or limit the supply of fuel and electricity to the Gaza Strip." The Court said that "The respondents' decision to limit the supply of fuel and electricity to the Gaza Strip was made as a part of the State of Israel's operations against the continuous terrorism." The Court said that it had already ruled on the fuel supply: "We were therefore not persuaded at that stage, on the basis of the data presented to us, that the respondents' decision to reduce the amount of fuel allowed into the Gaza Strip through the border crossings with Israel currently violates the basic humanitarian needs of the Gaza Strip."

The Rafah crossing is on the border between the Gaza Strip and Egypt. The Kerem Shalom crossing is on the border of Egypt, Israel and the Gaza Strip, a few kilometres from the Rafah crossing.

The Supreme Court said that "The question before us is whether the various restrictions upon the supply of fuel and electricity to the Gaza Strip harm the essential humanitarian needs of the residents of the Gaza Strip." It said in the same paragraph: "The respondents are required to discharge their duties under international humanitarian law, which requires them to allow the Gaza Strip to receive only what is needed in order to provide the essential humanitarian needs of the civilian population."

On the reduction of electricity, the Court said that "we have been persuaded that this reduction does not breach the State of Israel's humanitarian duties within the context of the armed conflict taking place between it and the Hamas organization that controls the Gaza Strip." It described its own role: "We have said, on more than one occasion, that we do not intervene in the question of the effectiveness or the wisdom of the security measures adopted by those responsible for security, but only in the question of their legality."

In its conclusion, the Supreme Court said that the industrial diesel to be supplied and the electricity supplied through the power lines from Israel "are capable of satisfying the essential humanitarian needs of the Gaza Strip at the present." The judgment ended: "Therefore, for the reasons set out above, the petition is denied."

What have UN bodies said about the legality of the Gaza blockade?

UN High Commissioner for Human Rights Navi Pillay said on 18 November 2008, of the Israeli blockade of Gaza: "This is in direct contravention of international human rights and humanitarian law. It must end now." The High Commissioner's release said that she "recalled the Occupying Power's obligation to fully cease all measures that are inconsistent with its obligations under international law." She said in the same release that "a full lifting of the blockade followed by a strong humanitarian response will be adequate to relieve the massive humanitarian suffering evident in Gaza today."

UN High Commissioner for Human Rights Navi Pillay said on 31 May 2010 that there was an "almost unanimous international view that the continued blockade of Gaza is both inhumane and illegal." Pillay said in the same release: "The blockade lies at the heart of so many of the problems plaguing the Israel-Palestine situation, as does the impression that the Israeli Government treats international law with perpetual disdain." She also said: "If the blockade had been lifted, there would be no need for flotillas like this."

On 31 May 2010, Israeli forces intercepted a convoy of six vessels bound for Gaza, which had departed from Turkey. The UN Secretary-General established the Panel of Inquiry on the 31 May 2010 Flotilla Incident on 2 August 2010. Sir Geoffrey Palmer chaired the Panel, with Alvaro Uribe as Vice-Chair, and its other members were Joseph Ciechanover of Israel and Özdem Sanberk of Turkey.

Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon received the Panel's report on 2 September 2011. The report was adopted on the agreement of the Chair and Vice-Chair. The UN Secretary-General's Panel of Inquiry on the 31 May 2010 Flotilla Incident said in the report: "Israel faces a real threat to its security from militant groups in Gaza. The naval blockade was imposed as a legitimate security measure in order to prevent weapons from entering Gaza by sea and its implementation complied with the requirements of international law."

The Panel said in the same report: "We therefore treat the naval blockade as separate and distinct from the controls at the land crossings." It said: "[A] blockade in those circumstances is a legitimate exercise of the right of self-defence." It said: "While we are unable to conclude that the combined effects of the naval blockade and the crossings policy rendered the naval blockade disproportionate, we can make the policy judgment that the procedures applied by Israel in relation to land access to Gaza are unsustainable and need to be changed." It said: "For one, it would be illegal if its imposition was intended to starve or to collectively punish the civilian population." It said: "The Panel therefore concludes that Israel's naval blockade was legal."

The Panel said in the same report: “As a final point, the Panel emphasizes that if necessary, the civilian population in Gaza must be allowed to receive food and other objects essential to its survival.”

The Panel of Inquiry recommended in the report that “Israel should continue with its efforts to ease its restrictions on movement of goods and persons to and from Gaza with a view to lifting its closure and to alleviate the unsustainable humanitarian and economic situation of the civilian population.” It also recommended: “Bearing in mind its consequences and the fundamental importance of the freedom of navigation on the high seas, Israel should keep the naval blockade under regular review, in order to assess whether it continues to be necessary.”

Special Rapporteurs are part of the Special Procedures of the Human Rights Council. The UN Special Rapporteurs on the right to food, on health, on water and sanitation, on extreme poverty, and on the Palestinian territories occupied since 1967 said in a joint statement on 13 September 2011: “In pronouncing itself on the legality of the naval blockade, the Palmer Report does not recognize the naval blockade as an integral part of Israel’s closure policy towards Gaza which has a disproportionate impact on the human rights of civilians.” The special rapporteurs said in the same statement: “The Israeli blockade of Gaza must end immediately and the people of Gaza must be afforded protection in line with international law.” They also said: “Israel’s siege of Gaza is extracting a human price that disproportionately harms Palestinian civilians.” They said in the closing paragraph: “It is not the Hamas Government that is being punished, but ordinary Gazans.”

What has Turkey’s government said about the legality of the Gaza blockade?

Turkey’s Foreign Minister Ahmet Davutoglu said on 2 September 2011, at a news conference in Ankara on the Panel of Inquiry’s report: “Turkey does not recognize Israel's blockade of Gaza. It will secure the study of this blockade at the International Court of Justice."

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:29:18 PM

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:29:18 PM

Davutoglu said on 2 September 2011 that some of the report's findings were questionable and that Turkey did not recognize the legitimacy of the blockade of Gaza. He said that Palmer and the deputy of the panel had exceeded their authority in including views which were more political than legal.

Turkey's Foreign Minister said at the same news conference: "Turkey does not accept this... We are determined to bring the matter to international legal forums."

What have organisations said about the legality of the Gaza blockade?

Human Rights Watch said on 22 January 2008: "Of particular concern is Israel's economic blockade of Gaza, which under the current occupation amounts to collective punishment against civilians." Juliette de Rivero, Geneva director at Human Rights Watch, said the same day: "Palestinian rocket fire into civilian areas can't justify the Israeli blockade against Gaza's civilians." Human Rights Watch said in the same release: "Under the Fourth Geneva Convention, Israel is obliged to ensure the provision of food and medical supplies to the civilian population to the fullest extent possible."

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 14 June 2010: "The whole of Gaza's civilian population is being punished for acts for which they bear no responsibility. The closure therefore constitutes a collective punishment imposed in clear violation of Israel's obligations under international humanitarian law." Béatrice Mégevand-Roggo, the ICRC's head of operations for the Middle East, said in the same release: "Israel's right to deal with its legitimate security concerns must be balanced against the Palestinians' right to live normal, dignified lives." The ICRC said in the same release: "Under international humanitarian law, Israel must ensure that the basic needs of Gazans, including adequate health care, are met."

Human Rights Watch said on 21 June 2010 that the Israeli Cabinet decision to ease the blockade of Gaza "is a step toward ending a policy that amounts to unlawful collective punishment of Gaza's civilians, but fails to address severe Israeli restrictions on exports and freedom of movement". Human Rights Watch said in the same release that it "called on the international community to press Israel to meet its international obligations to remove unlawful restrictions on the flow of goods into Gaza, and to lift unnecessary restrictions on exports and the free movement of people."

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 13 October 2023: "The instructions issued by the Israeli authorities for the population of Gaza City to immediately leave their homes, coupled with the complete siege explicitly denying them food, water and electricity, are not compatible with international humanitarian law."

Human Rights Watch said on 18 October 2023: "The collective punishment of the population is a war crime." It said in the same release that the total blockade had worsened the crisis resulting from "Israel's unlawful 16-year closure of Gaza", and that "The laws of war do not prohibit sieges or blockades of enemy forces, but they may not include tactics that prevent civilians' access to items essential for their survival, such as water, food, and medicine."

Agnès Callamard, Amnesty International's Secretary General, said on 2 October 2025, of Israel's interception of the Global Sumud Flotilla: "This interception is not just about blocking aid; it is a calculated act of intimidation intended to punish and silence critics of Israel's genocide and its unlawful blockade on Gaza." She said in the same statement: "They must also press Israel to lift its suffocating 18-year blockade and allow humanitarian aid to be delivered through all crossings into and throughout Gaza now."

What has Israel's government said about the legality of the Gaza blockade?

Israel declared a formal end to military rule in the Gaza Strip on 11 September 2005. The last Israeli troops left the Gaza Strip at dawn on 12 September 2005, when the last officer shut the Kissufim border.

Israel's Ministerial Committee on National Security Affairs said in its decision of 19 September 2007, as the Supreme Court quoted it: "Additional restrictions will also be placed upon the Hamas regime, so that the passage of goods to the Gaza Strip will be limited, the supply of fuel and electricity will be reduced and restrictions will be imposed upon the movement of persons to and from the Strip." The Committee said in the same decision: "The restrictions will be implemented after considering the legal ramifications of the humanitarian situation in the Gaza Strip, in order to prevent a humanitarian crisis."

According to the Supreme Court's judgment of 30 January 2008, the State of Israel said before the Court that it conducts itself in accordance with the rules of international law and respects its humanitarian obligations under the laws of war. The judgment says that counsel for the State "told the court that the state recognizes that it has a duty not to prevent the supply of basic humanitarian needs to the Gaza Strip". According to the same judgment, the State said that this duty does not require it "to allow the passage of unessential goods or amounts of goods that exceed what is required for basic humanitarian needs".

Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs said in a paper updated to 2 November 2023: "As Israel does not exercise effective control over the Gaza Strip, the legal framework governing the present hostilities is not the law of belligerent occupation, but rather the rules of LOAC, in particular those governing the conduct of hostilities." The Ministry said in the same paper that "The powers exercised by Israel with respect to Gaza since its Disengagement from this territory in 2005, when its military and civilian presence was entirely removed, derive primarily from LOAC and Israel's sovereign rights under international law more broadly, as well as Israeli-Palestinian agreements where applicable." The Ministry said in the same paper that "there is no 'siege' on Gaza (even though a siege on enemy forces is not unlawful under international law subject to certain safeguards, as is also evident from the military manuals of various states)."

Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs said on 8 December 2023: "Moreover, Hamas's consistent use of the maritime areas to conduct attacks and smuggle arms necessitated a naval blockade imposed by Israel in 2009 in accordance with international law." The Ministry said in the same paper: "Over the years, Israel has eased the restrictions in the use of the maritime zone by Gazans when the security situation so allowed."

The Israeli Navy said in a radio message to vessels of the Global Sumud Flotilla on 29 April 2026: "This is the Israeli Navy. Attempts to breach the lawful maritime security blockade of the Gaza Strip constitute a violation of international law." The Navy said in the same message: "If you wish to legally transfer aid to Gaza, you may do so through established and recognized channels."

When did each body speak about the Gaza blockade?

Israel's Ministerial Committee on National Security Affairs issued its decision on the Gaza Strip on 19 September 2007, and the Supreme Court of Israel gave judgment on the challenge to it on 30 January 2008. The Israeli Navy's radio message to the Global Sumud Flotilla is dated 29 April 2026.

Israel and Özdem Sanberk of Turkey. Secretary-General Ban Ki-moon received the Panel's report on 2 September 2011.

What did the Palmer report say about the naval blockade of Gaza?

The UN Secretary-General's Panel of Inquiry said in its report, received on 2 September 2011: "The Panel therefore concludes that Israel's naval blockade was legal." The Panel said in the same report: "We therefore treat the naval blockade as separate and distinct from the controls at the land crossings."

What did the Palmer report say about the land crossings into Gaza?

The UN Secretary-General's Panel of Inquiry said in its report of September 2011 that "the procedures applied by Israel in relation to land access to Gaza are unsustainable and need to be changed." It recommended that Israel "continue with its efforts to ease its restrictions on movement of goods and persons to and from Gaza with a view to lifting its closure".

When does Israel say it imposed the naval blockade of Gaza?

Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs said on 8 December 2023 that Hamas's use of the sea "necessitated a naval blockade imposed by Israel in 2009 in accordance with international law." The Ministry said in the same paper that Israel has eased the restrictions in the maritime zone "when the security situation so allowed."

What was the Al-Bassiouni case before Israel's Supreme Court?

The petition in HCJ 9132/07, Jaber Al-Bassiouni Ahmed and others v. Prime Minister and Minister of Defence, was directed against the decision to reduce or limit the supply of fuel and electricity to the Gaza Strip. The Supreme Court of Israel, sitting as the High Court of Justice, gave judgment on 30 January 2008, and said: "Therefore, for the reasons set out above, the petition is denied."

What did the ICRC say about the Gaza closure in 2010?

The International Committee of the Red Cross said on 14 June 2010 that "The closure therefore constitutes a collective punishment imposed in clear violation of Israel's obligations under international humanitarian law." The ICRC said in the same release: "The only sustainable solution is to lift the closure."

Does Turkey recognise Israel's naval blockade of Gaza?

Turkey's Foreign Minister Ahmet Davutoglu said on 2 September 2011: "Turkey does not recognize Israel's blockade of Gaza. It will secure the study of this blockade at the International Court of Justice." He said at the same news conference that Turkey was "determined to bring the matter to international legal forums."

What did UN special rapporteurs say about the Palmer report?

UN special rapporteurs on food, health, water and sanitation, extreme poverty and the Palestinian territories said on 13 September 2011 that the Palmer report "does not recognize the naval blockade as an integral part of Israel's closure policy towards Gaza". They said in the same statement: "Israel's siege of Gaza is extracting a human price that disproportionately harms Palestinian civilians."

What did the Israeli Navy tell the Gaza flotilla in April 2026?

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:29:18 PM

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:29:18 PM

The Israeli Navy said in a radio message to vessels of the Global Sumud Flotilla on 29 April 2026: "Attempts to breach the lawful maritime security blockade of the Gaza Strip constitute a violation of international law." The Navy said in the same message: "If you wish to legally transfer aid to Gaza, you may do so through established and recognized channels."

over crimes he said included “Intentionally directing attacks against a civilian population as a war crime”. Pre-Trial Chamber I of the International Criminal Court said on 21 November 2024 that there were “reasonable grounds to believe” that both men bear criminal responsibility “as civilian superiors for the war crime of intentionally directing attacks against the civilian population of Gaza”. Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said on 21 November 2024 that the Court was “falsely accusing” him and the former defence minister “of deliberately targeting civilians, this when we do everything in our power to avoid civilian casualties.” Hamas said on 12 November 2026 that it had not used Nasser Hospital in Khan Younis as a base for operations.

What has the International Criminal Court said about targeting civilians in Gaza?

Article 8 of the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court lists, among the war crimes in international armed conflict, intentionally directing attacks against the civilian population as such or against individual civilians not taking direct part in hostilities. The Rome Statute lists the same act among the war crimes in armed conflicts not of an international character.

The State of Palestine acceded to the Rome Statute of the International Criminal Court on 2 January 2015, and the Statute entered into force for it on 1 April 2015. The Prosecutor announced the opening of the investigation into the Situation in the State of Palestine on 3 March 2021.

The Office of the Prosecutor of the International Criminal Court said on 20 May 2024 that the crimes for which it sought warrants against the Prime Minister and the Minister of Defence of Israel included “Intentionally directing attacks against a civilian population as a war crime contrary to articles 8(2)(b)(i), or 8(2)(e)(i)”. The Prosecutor said in the same statement: “Nothing can justify the taking of hostages or the targeting of civilians.”

Pre-Trial Chamber I of the International Criminal Court issued warrants of arrest for Benjamin Netanyahu and Yoav Gallant on 21 November 2024. The Chamber said: “Finally, the Chamber assessed that there are reasonable grounds to believe that Mr Netanyahu and Mr Gallant bear criminal responsibility as civilian superiors for the war crime of intentionally directing attacks against the civilian population of Gaza.”

The Chamber said in the same release: “In this regard, the Chamber found that the material provided by the Prosecution only allowed it to make findings on two incidents that qualified as attacks that were intentionally directed against civilians.” It also said: “The Chamber also found that the alleged crimes against humanity were part of a widespread and systematic attack against the civilian population of Gaza.”

What have UN bodies said about the targeting of civilians in Gaza?

Report A/HRC/56/26 of the UN Independent International Commission of Inquiry on the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and Israel covers the period between 7 October and 31 December 2023. The report went to the Human Rights Council’s fifty-sixth session, which ran from 18 June to 12 July 2024.

The Commission said in that report, dated 14 June 2024, that “the war crimes of starvation as a method of warfare; murder or wilful killing; intentionally directing attacks against civilians and civilian objects; forcible transfer” and other crimes “had been committed”.

The UN Human Rights Office published a thematic report on attacks in Gaza from October to December 2023, dated 19 June 2024. The report details six incidents from 7 October to 2 December 2023.

The UN Human Rights Office said in that report: “The requirement to select means and methods of warfare that minimize or avoid civilian harm appears to have been systematically violated in Israel's bombing campaign." The Office said of three of the strikes it examined that "the IDF has not specified publicly what the military objective was, raising serious concerns over targeting." It also said: "Furthermore, under IHL the presence of PAGs within the civilian population does not deprive the population in the Gaza Strip of its civilian character." The Office said in its conclusion: "When committed intentionally, such violations may amount to war crimes."

Srinivasan Muralidhar, chair of the UN Independent International Commission of Inquiry on the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and Israel, said on 23 June 2026, in a statement accompanying its report on children: "The evidence shows that Palestinian children have been deliberately targeted and killed by the Israeli security forces."

What have governments said about the targeting of civilians in Gaza?

US President Joe Biden said on 12 December 2023, at a campaign reception in Washington, of Israel's support abroad: "But they're starting to lose that support by the indiscriminate bombing that takes place."

The US Department of State said on 16 September 2025, through a spokesperson, of the Commission of Inquiry's report: "Israel went to war in self-defense and has consistently taken steps to minimize civilian casualties."

The foreign ministers of the United Arab Emirates, Saudi Arabia, Oman, Qatar, Kuwait, Jordan, Lebanon, Egypt, Algeria, Palestine, Libya, Mauritania, Djibouti, Somalia, Turkey, Pakistan, Indonesia and Sudan said in a joint statement on 14 November 2026 that they condemned "continued Israeli attacks on Palestinian civilians, including the targeting of tents and other sites sheltering displaced persons".

What have organisations said about the targeting of civilians in Gaza?

Amnesty International published, on 20 October 2023, its investigation of air strikes in Gaza between 7 and 12 October 2023. The investigation presents five attacks, which struck residential buildings, a refugee camp, a family home and a public market.

Amnesty International said on 20 October 2023: "In each of these cases, Israeli attacks violated international humanitarian law, including by failing to take feasible precautions to spare civilians, or by carrying out indiscriminate attacks that failed to distinguish between civilians and military objectives, or by carrying out attacks that may have been directed against civilian objects." Amnesty said of one strike on a house that "this may be a direct attack on civilians or on a civilian object". It said that "in a number of cases Amnesty International found no evidence of the presence of fighters or other military objectives in the vicinity at the time of the attacks."

Human Rights Watch said on 4 April 2024 that an "airstrike on a six-story apartment building sheltering hundreds of people in central Gaza on October 31, 2023, is an apparent war crime". It said: "The absence of a military objective would render the attack on the Engineers' Building unlawfully deliberate or indiscriminate". It also said that it "found no evidence of a military target in the vicinity of the building at the time of the Israeli attack".

Médecins Sans Frontières released a report on Gaza on 19 December 2024. MSF said on 19 December 2024 that its report "highlights how repeated Israeli military attacks on civilians in Gaza, and the systematic denial of humanitarian assistance are destroying the conditions of life."

Médecins Sans Frontières said on 7 August 2025 that the GHF-run food distributions in Gaza had become sites of "orchestrated killing and dehumanisation", not humanitarian aid.

What have Israel's government and Hamas said about targeting civilians in Gaza?

The IDF said on 13 October 2023, in an announcement to civilians of Gaza City: "Civilians of Gaza City, evacuate south for your own safety and the safety of your families and distance yourself from Hamas terrorists who are using you as human shields." It said in the same announcement: "In the following days, the IDF will continue to operate significantly in Gaza City and make extensive efforts to avoid harming civilians."

Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs said in a paper updated to 8 December 2023: "In order to provide effective advance warning and mitigate civilian harm, the IDF has also encouraged civilians to temporarily evacuate from areas of intensive hostilities and from individual targets." The ministry said in the same paper of Hamas: "It has openly called on the civilian population to ignore IDF warnings and recommendations to temporarily evacuate, it has set up roadblocks to stop people from leaving dangerous areas, threatened individuals not to leave, and, according to some reports, shot civilians trying to leave so as to deter others."

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said on 21 November 2024, of the Court in The Hague, that it was "falsely accusing" him and Israel's former defence minister "of deliberately targeting civilians, this when we do everything in our power to avoid civilian casualties."

Oren Marmorstein, spokesman of Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs, said on 19 December 2024, of the MSF report of that day: "Israel does not target medical teams or individuals uninvolved in terrorist activities".

The IDF said on 1 June 2025: "Findings from an initial inquiry indicate that the IDF did not fire at civilians while they were near or within the humanitarian aid distribution site and that reports to this effect are false." The IDF said on 27 June 2025, replying to a press report, that it "did not instruct the forces to deliberately shoot at civilians, including those approaching the distribution centers."

Israel's Permanent Mission to the UN said on 15 September 2025, of remarks by the UN Special Rapporteur Francesca Albanese: "According to her, Hamas doesn't embed itself in civilian infrastructure, doesn't cynically use civilians as human shields, and generally doesn't really exist".

Israel's Permanent Mission to the UN in Geneva said on 16 September 2025, of the Commission of Inquiry's report of that day, that Israel "invests many efforts and resources in minimizing harm to the civilian population, as well as in allowing and facilitating many humanitarian efforts."

The IDF said on 21 September 2025, of Gaza City: "As part of the Hamas terrorist organization's modus operandi, the IDF identified attempts to prevent civilians from moving south, which is in violation of international law, while exploiting the civilian population as human shields for terrorist activity."

The IDF said on 9 June 2026, of strikes in the southern Gaza Strip: "Prior to the strikes, steps were taken to mitigate harm to civilians, including the issuing of advance warnings to the population, the use of precise munitions, and aerial surveillance."

Israel's Permanent Mission to the UN in Geneva said on 23 June 2026, in a rebuttal of the Commission of Inquiry's report on children, that Israel "consistently strives to minimize harm to children even in situations of conflict". The mission said that Israel rejected the suggestion that it deliberately targets children "in the strongest terms".

The IDF published its page on its use of data technologies in intelligence processing on 18 June 2024. The page says that it was last updated on 19 October 2026.

The IDF said on that page, in its version of 19 October 2026: "In each attack, IDF procedures require conducting an individual assessment of the anticipated military advantage and the incidental damage expected to civilians and civilian objects." It said that one of its tools "complements existing processes for identifying terror operatives and distinguishing them from civilians during military operations." It said that Hamas "holds numerous military assets which it tries to embed and conceal within the civilian environment".

Hamas said on 12 November 2026 that it had not used Nasser Hospital in Khan Younis as a base for operations. A Hamas spokesperson said that day that the strike on the hospital was a "full-fledged war crime."

The IDF said on 12 November 2026 that the second floor of Nasser Hospital "serves as a Hamas military headquarters, where civilians are not permitted to enter and which is under strict security". It said: "Prior to the strike, precautionary measures were taken to minimize, to the greatest extent possible, damage to the hospital building and harm to uninvolved civilians." It also said that it "strikes military targets only".

The UN Human Rights Council established the UN Independent International Commission of Inquiry on the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and Israel on 27 May 2021. Stéphane Dujarric, spokesperson for the UN Secretary-General, said on 13 March 2025 that the Commission "is an independent body mandated by the Human Rights Council, over which the secretary-general has no authority". UN Secretary-General António Guterres said on 16 September 2025 that "the report is a serious report that I believe should be carefully read, and namely by the Israeli authorities." Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs said on 16 September 2025: "Israel categorically rejects the distorted and false report and calls for the immediate abolition of the Commission of Inquiry."

What has the UN Commission of Inquiry concluded about Gaza?

The UN Human Rights Council established the UN Independent International Commission of Inquiry on the Occupied Palestinian Territory, including East Jerusalem, and Israel on 27 May 2021. The Commission's reports are submitted under Human Rights Council resolution S-30/1. The Secretary-General transmitted an earlier report of the Commission to the General Assembly's seventy-seventh session as document A/77/328, dated 14 September 2022.

The Commission submitted report A/HRC/56/26 to the Human Rights Council's fifty-sixth session, which ran from 18 June to 12 July 2024. The report covers the period between 7 October and 31 December 2023. The Commission also issued a conference room paper dated 10 June 2024, "Detailed findings on attacks carried out on and after 7 October 2023 in Israel", submitted to the same session as information complementary to the Commission's official report.

The Commission said in the report, dated 14 June 2024: "In relation to Israeli military operations in Gaza from 7 October, the Commission concludes that Israel has committed war crimes, crimes against humanity and violations of international humanitarian law and international human rights law." It said in the same report: “Members of the military wing of Hamas and other Palestinian armed groups abducted people, primarily Israelis, as hostages to Gaza, without regard to age or gender, in order to use them in negotiations with Israeli authorities.” The Commission said in the same report that “the war crime of taking hostages had been committed”, including against “women abducted in Israel and taken to Gaza.”

The Commission said in the report, of Israeli attacks and operations: “The Commission found that the war crimes of starvation as a method of warfare; murder or wilful killing; intentionally directing attacks against civilians and civilian objects; forcible transfer; sexual violence; outrages upon personal dignity; and sexual and gender-based violence amounting to torture or inhuman and cruel treatment had been committed.”

The Secretary-General transmitted to the General Assembly the report of the Commission dated 11 September 2024. It examines the treatment of detainees and hostages and attacks on medical facilities and personnel from 7 October 2023 to August 2024.

The Commission said in that report that “Israeli security forces have deliberately killed, wounded, arrested, detained, mistreated and tortured medical personnel and targeted medical vehicles, constituting the war crimes of wilful killing and mistreatment and the crime against humanity of extermination.” It said in the same report, of the hostages held by Palestinian armed groups, that “Hamas and other Palestinian armed groups committed the war crimes of torture, inhuman or cruel treatment, rape and sexual violence”. The Commission said in the same report: “Israeli security forces used detainees as human shields in several instances in the West Bank and Gaza, which constitutes a war crime.”

The Commission issued a report on 13 March 2025, titled “More than a human can bear”: Israel’s systematic use of sexual, reproductive and other forms of gender-based violence since October 2023.

The Commission said on 13 March 2025: “The Commission found that Israeli forces have systematically destroyed sexual and reproductive healthcare facilities across Gaza." It said in the same release that the destruction amounted "to two categories of genocidal acts in the Rome Statute and the Genocide Convention, including deliberately inflicting conditions of life calculated to bring about the physical destruction of Palestinians and imposing measures intended to prevent births." It said in the same release that "Israeli authorities have destroyed in part the reproductive capacity of Palestinians in Gaza as a group through the systematic destruction of sexual and reproductive healthcare".

The Human Rights Council announced on 14 July 2025 the resignations of the three members of the Commission of Inquiry on the Occupied Palestinian Territory and Israel. Navi Pillay, who had led the commission for four years, resigned effective 3 November 2025. Miloon Kothari resigned effective 31 October 2025, and Chris Sidoti was also a member of the commission.

The Commission published a report on 16 September 2025. The report is based on the Commission's prior investigations and covers the period from 7 October 2023 until 31 July 2025. Navi Pillay was the Commission's Chair when the report was published.

The Commission said on 16 September 2025 that "Israel has committed genocide against Palestinians in the Gaza Strip". Navi Pillay, Chair of the Commission, said: "The Commission finds that Israel is responsible for the commission of genocide in Gaza." The Commission said in the same release that it "concluded that Israeli President Isaac Herzog, Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu and then Defence Minister Yoav Gallant, have incited the commission of genocide". The Commission said in the same release that Israeli authorities and Israeli security forces "committed four of the five genocidal acts defined by the 1948 Convention on the Prevention and Punishment of the Crime of Genocide, namely killing, causing serious bodily or mental harm, deliberately inflicting conditions of life calculated to bring about the destruction of the Palestinians in whole or in part, and imposing measures intended to prevent births."

The UN Commission of Inquiry issued a report on 23 June 2026. Srinivasan Muralidhar was the Commission's chair when the report was issued.

The Commission said on 23 June 2026 that Israeli authorities and security forces had deliberately targeted Palestinian children, resulting in "genocide" in Gaza. The Commission said that this was a key element establishing "genocidal intent" by Israeli authorities and security forces. The Commission said in a statement of 23 June 2026 by its chair, Srinivasan Muralidhar: "The evidence shows that Palestinian children have been deliberately targeted and killed by the Israeli security forces."

What has the UN Secretary-General said about the Commission's findings on Gaza?

Stéphane Dujarric, spokesperson for UN Secretary-General António Guterres, said on 13 March 2025, of the Commission's report of that day: "The Independent International Commission of Inquiry is an independent body mandated by the Human Rights Council, over which the secretary-general has no authority."

Dujarric said in the same statement: "The secretary-general has spoken out repeatedly at the horrors we have seen in this conflict." He said in the same statement that the Secretary-General "continues to be deeply alarmed by the humanitarian situation in Gaza and reiterates his call for all parties to respect international humanitarian law and international human rights law." Dujarric said of the Secretary-General: "He underlines that there needs to be accountability."

UN Secretary-General António Guterres said on 16 September 2025, asked about the Commission's conclusion of that day: "it is not in the attributions of the Secretary-General to do the legal determination of genocide. That belongs to the [appropriate] judicial entities, namely the International Court of Justice (ICJ)."

Asked at the same press conference about Israel's rejection of the report, Guterres said: "Well, the report is a report of an independent inquiry committee.

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 11/23/2026 3:29:23 PM

And I think that Israel should take it into account, and everybody should take the report into account." He said in the same answer that "the report is a serious report that I believe should be carefully read, and namely by the Israeli authorities."

Guterres said in the same answer: "And obviously, these are serious questions."

UN Secretary-General António Guterres said on 16 September 2025, asked about the Commission Chair's call for the UN's leadership to use the term the report used: "The United Nations has several bodies, and the role of the Secretary-General is to be aligned with the bodies of the United Nations. So, obviously, if that is decided by the Security Council or by the General assembly, the Secretary-General will be abiding by those resolutions." He said: "But until now, those resolutions were not made."

Guterres said later at the same press conference, asked about the Commission's recommendations: "I think that, as I said, this is an independent committee. The independent committee made the report. I think that report must be seen with attention and with adequate engagement by every state."

What have governments said about the Commission of Inquiry's Gaza findings?

The European Union said on 17 June 2025, in the Human Rights Council's interactive dialogue with the Commission: "The EU takes note of the report of the Commission of Inquiry and thanks the Commissioners for their presentation." The EU said in the same statement: "The EU recalls the need for Israel and all other countries to cooperate with relevant HRC mechanisms and mandate holders and fully respect their mandate and independence." It said in the same statement: "There must be accountability for violations of international law."

The US Department of State said on 16 September 2025, of the Commission's report of that day: "Israel went to war in self-defense and has consistently taken steps to minimize civilian casualties. That is not a genocide." A department spokesperson said in the same statement: "This kind of equivocation by the UN is further evidence of its moral bankruptcy."

What have organisations said about the Commission of Inquiry's Gaza findings?

Agnès Callamard, Secretary General of Amnesty International, said on 16 September 2025 that "the UN Commission of Inquiry's damning report provides further confirmation of what Amnesty International and others have been concluding for months: that the Israeli authorities and Israeli forces have committed and are continuing to commit genocide against Palestinians in Gaza." She said in the same statement: "This report must compel states to take immediate action and fulfill their legal and moral obligation to halt Israel's genocide." Callamard said of the Commission's report: "Crucially, the report also concludes that the Israeli authorities and Israeli forces have had and continue to have the genocidal intent to destroy, in whole or in part, the Palestinians in the Gaza Strip."

B'nai B'rith International said, in a statement JNS published on 17 September 2025: "Predictably, the commission parrots the propaganda libel that the democratic Jewish state commits 'genocide'". It said in the same statement: "This big lie will undermine the global human rights system more than it tarnishes Israel, but we will combat it unceasingly."

UN Watch said, in a statement JNS published on 17 September 2025, of the Commission's report: "A reader would come away believing the war has the IDF deployed against only women and children, with Hamas erased from the narrative."

What have Israel's government and Hamas said about the Commission's findings?

Israel's Permanent Mission to the UN in Geneva said on 12 June 2024, of the Commission's report A/HRC/56/26: "The reports disregard the abhorrent use of human shields by Hamas, the deliberate Hamas strategy of placing civilians in the line of fire." Meirav Eilon Shahar, Israel's ambassador to the UN in Geneva, said on 12 June 2024 that the Commission "has once again proven that its actions are all in the service of a narrow-led political agenda against Israel." The mission said in its statement of 12 June 2024: "Regarding Israel however, the report has no problem placing blame for supposedly not defending its population on Oct. 7."

Israel's Permanent Mission to the UN in Geneva said on 10 October 2024, of the Commission's report on health care, detainees and hostages, that it was "another blatant attempt by the CoI to delegitimize the very existence of the State of Israel and obstruct its right to protect its population".

Hamas said in a statement on 13 March 2025, of the Commission's report of that day: "We call on the International Court of Justice and the International Criminal Court, alongside all international and national judicial bodies around the world, to seriously follow up the findings of this report." Hamas said in the same statement that the international community needed to "take practical measures" to put an end to Israeli violations against Palestinians. Hamas said that the report showed "the unprecedented violations of international law and humanitarian norms against defenceless civilians", and that the international community had been in a "state of disregard and negligence".

Danny Danon, Israel's Ambassador to the UN, said on 13 March 2025 that the Commission's report was "another vile and distorted document from the UN." He said in the same statement: "This report is not even worth the paper it was printed on. Anyone who supported this false publication is complicit in whitewashing Hamas' war crimes and trampling on the truth."

Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu said in a statement on 13 March 2025 that "the UN once again chooses to attack the State of Israel with false accusations, including outrageous and baseless allegations of sexual violence". Netanyahu said that the UN had acted "Instead of focusing on crimes against humanity and the war crimes committed by the Hamas terrorist organization". He said in the same statement that the Human Rights Council was "an antisemitic, corrupt, terrorist-supporting and irrelevant body."

Israel's Ministry of Foreign Affairs said on 16 September 2025: "Israel categorically rejects the distorted and false report and calls for the immediate abolition of the Commission of Inquiry."

Israel's Permanent Mission to the UN in Geneva said on 16 September 2025: "Israel categorically rejects the libelous rant published today by the Commission of Inquiry, spreading the malicious 'genocide' narrative, in attempt to delegitimize and demonize the State of Israel." The mission said in the same statement: "The current COI report relies entirely on Hamas falsehoods, laundered and repeated by others." It said: "The COI report falsely accuses Israel of allegations it cannot substantiate even by its cherry-picked data." The mission said in the same statement: "Israel remains committed to international law, and as stated many times, aims to dismantle Hamas, and invests many efforts and resources in minimizing harm to the civilian population, as well as in allowing and facilitating many humanitarian efforts."

Israel's Permanent Mission to the UN in Geneva said on 23 June 2026, of the Commission's report of that day: "Israel dismisses this libelous sham." The mission said that Israel rejected what it called the Commission's "second defamatory advocacy report". The mission said in a rebuttal of the same day that Israel "consistently strives to minimize harm to children even in situations of conflict".
