Dear Alexander,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Connor,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Christian,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthis rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Colby,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
Dear Casey,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international waters of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenade launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Charles,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

“There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Caroline,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthis.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Wolteji, Azeb

From: Wadhams, Caroline (Warner) <Caroline_Wadhams@warner.senate.gov>
Sent: Tuesday, May 11, 2021 1:15 PM
To: Dresser, Sammie
Subject: Automatic reply: U.S. Fifth Fleet Seizes Weapons Believed Destined for Houthis

Follow Up Flag: Follow up
Flag Status: Flagged

[EXTERNAL]
Thanks for your email. I have left Senator Warner's personal office and transitioned to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. I can be reached at Caroline_wadhams@ssci.senate.gov, beginning on May 17th.

Zach Lewis has taken over the defense/foreign policy/ veterans portfolio in Senator Warner's office and can be reached at Zach_Lewis@warner.senate.gov.

Thank you,
Caroline Wadhams
Wolteji, Azeb

From: Wadhams, Caroline (Warner) <Caroline_Wadhams@warner.senate.gov>
Sent: Tuesday, May 11, 2021 1:15 PM
To: Dresser, Sammie
Subject: Automatic reply: U.S. Fifth Fleet Seizes Weapons Believed Destined for Houthis

Follow Up Flag: Follow up
Flag Status: Flagged

[EXTERNAL]
Thanks for your email. I have left Senator Warner’s personal office and transitioned to the Senate Select Committee on Intelligence. I can be reached at Caroline_wadhams@ssci.senate.gov, beginning on May 17th.

Zach Lewis has taken over the defense/foreign policy/veterans portfolio in Senator Warner’s office and can be reached at Zach_Lewis@warner.senate.gov.

Thank you,
Caroline Wadhams
Dear Dan,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international waters of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Doug,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
Dear Daniel,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
Dear Erin,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international waters of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenade launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Eduardo,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Emily,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Eliza,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthis rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Gabriella,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Hannah,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—and especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Jon,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
Dear Joe,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
Dear Joshua,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio [Ivan Zapien]
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Jonathan,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Jamie,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

> There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

---

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear John,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
Dear John,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
Dear Liz,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthis.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

> There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Louise,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime's escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Lauren,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
Dear Luke,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
[EXTERNAL]
Thank you for your email. I am no longer with the Minority Leader’s office. If you need to get in touch with Leader McCarthy’s office, please email the Leader’s Deputy Chief of Staff for Policy, Will Dunham (will.dunham@mail.house.gov).
Dear Leslie,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Micah,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Matthew,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

> There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
Wolteji, Azeb

From: Coleman, Norm B.
Sent: Tuesday, May 11, 2021 2:01 PM
To: 'mark_mckinnon@shelby.senate.gov'
Subject: U.S. Fifth Fleet Seizes Weapons Believed Destined for Houthis

Dear Mark,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Megan,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Matt,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

> There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

---

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Wolteji, Azeb

From: postmaster@routing.senate.gov
To: 'nic_adams@cornyn.senate.gov'
Sent: Tuesday, May 11, 2021 1:52 PM
Subject: Undeliverable: U.S. Fifth Fleet Seizes Weapons Believed Destined for Houthis

Delivery has failed to these recipients or groups:

'nic_adams@cornyn.senate.gov'
The recipient's mailbox is full and can't accept messages now. Please try resending your message later, or contact the recipient directly.

The following organization rejected your message: V-ESS-EXB4.senate.ussenate.us.

Diagnostic information for administrators:

Generating server: V-ESS-EXB6.senate.ussenate.us

nic_adams@cornyn.senate.gov
V-ESS-EXB4.senate.ussenate.us
Remote Server returned '554 5.2.2 <V-ESS-EXB4.senate.ussenate.us #5.2.2 smtp;554 5.2.2 mailbox full; STOREDRV.Deliver.Exception:QuotaExceededException.MapExceptionShutoffQuotaExceeded; Failed to process message due to a permanent exception with message Cannot get ID from name. 16.55847:070D0000, 17.43559:00000008C000000000000000000000000000000000000000000, 20.52176:010F80880C0000000000000000000000000000, 20.50032:010F80887C174010F1030000, 0.35180:010F8088, 255.23226:00000000, 255.27962:56000000, 255.17082:89040000, 0.16993:DD040000, 4.21921:89040000, 255.31418:DD040000, 0.22753:FA000000, 255.21817:89040000, 0.37224:00000000, 4.40808:DD040000, 0.24529:652D3464, 4.18385:DD040000, 0.36864:35336539, 4.37120:DD040000 [Stage: CreateMessage]>'

Original message headers:

Received: from P-ESS-SEN-EXA5.senate.ussenate.us (156.33.238.171) by V-ESS-EXB6.senate.ussenate.us (156.33.238.138) with Microsoft SMTP Server (version=TLS1_2, cipher=TLS_ECDHE_RSA_WITH_AES_128_GCM_SHA256) id 15.1.2176.2; Tue, 11 May 2021 13:52:13 -0400
Received: from V-CYB-FE-EX-BI3.localdomain (156.33.203.101) by F-ESS-EXB6.senate.ussenate.us (156.33.238.171) with Microsoft SMTP Server (version=TLS1_2, cipher=TLS_ECDHE_RSA_WITH_AES_128_GCM_SHA256) id 15.1.2176.2 via Frontend Transport; Tue, 11 May 2021 13:52:13 -0400
Received: by V-CYB-FE-EX-BI3.localdomain (Postfix, from userid 600) id 4Fflr66LQDz61pX4; Tue, 11 May 2021 13:51:53 -0400 (EDT)
Received: from a-ess-ppmx3.senate.gov (unknown [156.33.203.104]) by V-CYB-FE-EX-BI3.localdomain (Postfix) with ESMTPS id 4FflqC3WCpz61pxJ for <nic_adams@cornyn.senate.gov>; Tue, 11 May 2021 13:51:51 -0400 (EDT)
Received: from pps.filterd (a-ess-ppmx3.senate.gov [127.0.0.1]) by a-ess-ppmx3.senate.gov (8.16.0.21/8.16.0.21) with SMTP id 14BHY5Od128825 for <nic_adams@cornyn.senate.gov>; Tue, 11 May 2021 13:51:25 -0400
Dear Nic,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Nathan,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Olivia,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Patrick,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Paulina,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Piero,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

> There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Robert,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Robert,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Ryan,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

---

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Sebastian -

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Sayanna,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

> There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Sarah,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Travis,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthis rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Twinkle,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Will,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Wayne,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004
Tel: +1 202 637 5440
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Wendell,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

"There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis."

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio [Ivan Zapien]
Dear Zach,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenade launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Zoe,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you the latest evidence of the Iranian regime’s destabilizing activities as it relates to the conflict in Yemen.

According to a statement by the U.S. Naval Forces Central Command, on May 6-7, the USS Monterey “seized an illicit shipment of weapons from a stateless dhow in international water of the North Arabian Sea.” The “cache of weapons included dozens of advanced Russian-made anti-tank guided missiles, thousands of Chinese Type 56 assault rifles, and hundreds of PKM machine guns, sniper rifles and rocket-propelled grenades launchers. Other weapon components included advanced optical sights.” The U.S. Fifth Fleet has posted pictures and video of the cache of seized weapons.

According to a news article in The Hill, “U.S. Navy officials said Sunday that thousands of weapons including sniper rifles, assault weapons and other guns were seized onboard a ship that was likely bound for an illicit delivery to Yemen’s Houthi rebels.”

The Iranian regime’s escalation of the conflict through its proxy, the Houthis, comes amid intensified diplomatic efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia supports these efforts, having announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations.

Unfortunately, the Iranian regime and the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith, as the State Department underscored in a statement on May 7 following Special Envoy Lenderking’s most recent travel to the region:

> There is a fair deal on the table that will bring immediate relief to Yemeni people. The Houthis passed up a major opportunity to demonstrate their commitment to peace and to make progress on this proposal by refusing to meet with UN Special Envoy Griffiths in Muscat—especially given the Republic of Yemen Government’s stated readiness to reach an agreement to end the conflict. Contradictory to their pronouncements regarding the humanitarian situation in Yemen, the Houthis worsen it by continuing to attack Marib and exacerbating dire conditions for already vulnerable, internally displaced Yemenis.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004-1109
Tel: +1 202 637 5600
Direct: +1 202 637 5613
Fax: +1 202 637 5910
Email: ivan.zapien@hoganlovells.com
www.hoganlovells.com

This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.