Dear Alexander,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Connor,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

> We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

> While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Christian,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs

See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Colby,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Casey,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis' ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Charles,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthis attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Caroline,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan Zapien
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Dan,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

> We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

> While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Doug,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Daniel,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Erin,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Eduardo,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Emily,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen [tweeted] out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 [statement] by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs

See my bio [Ivan Zapien]
Dear Eliza,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Gabriella,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis' ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d'Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Hannah,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis' ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthis attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
From: Hudson, Hannah (Collins) <Hannah_Hudson@collins.senate.gov>
Sent: Wednesday, June 9, 2021 1:29 PM
To: Coleman, Norm B. <norm.coleman@hoganlovells.com>
Subject: Automatic reply: Continued Houthi Escalation Makes Peace in Yemen More Difficult

[EXTERNAL]
Thank you for your message. I am no longer with the Office of Senator Susan Collins.

For trade matters, please contact Martin Menezes (martin_menezes@collins.senate.gov) and for foreign policy issues, please contact Mike Wakefield (mike_wakefield@collins.senate.gov).
Dear Jon,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

> We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

> While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningful on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Joe,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

---

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Joshua,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthis attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Jonathan,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

> We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

> While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Jamie,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

> We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

> While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Continued Houthi Escalation Makes Peace in Yemen More Difficult

Dear John,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis' ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear John,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Liz,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Louise,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthi’s ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Wolteji, Azeb

From: Coleman, Norm B.
Sent: Wednesday, June 9, 2021 2:38 PM
To: 'lauren_canfield@tillis.senate.gov'
Subject: Continued Houthi Escalation Makes Peace in Yemen More Difficult

Dear Lauren,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Leslie,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthi’s ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Obsa, Efrata

From: Zelenko, Leslie <Leslie.Zelenko@mail.house.gov>
Sent: Wednesday, June 09, 2021 1:37 PM
To: Dresser, Sammie
Subject: Automatic reply: Continued Houthi Escalation Makes Peace in Yemen More Difficult

[EXTERNAL]
Hi,

I am no longer with the Office of Rep. Mark Pocan. Please reach out to the Congressman's Deputy Chief of Staff, David Bagby, David.Bagby@mail.house.gov.

If you need immediate assistance, please call our office at 202-225-2906.

Thank you.
Dear Micah,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

> We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

> While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Matthew,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

> We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

> While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Mark,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Megan,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthis attacks in Marib.

> We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

> While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Matt,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

> We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

> While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

---

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Mike,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis' ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d'Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,
Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel

Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
555 Thirteenth Street, NW
Washington, DC 20004

Tel: +1 202 637 5440
Cell: +1 651 894 3901
Fax: +1 202 637 5910
Email: norm.coleman@hoganlovells.com
www.hoganlovells.com

---

This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Nic,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Sent to Nic Adams with Senator Cornyn.

Undeliverable: Continued Houthi Escalation Makes Peace in Yemen More Difficult
Dear Nathan,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

> We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

> While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Sen. Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Olivia,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Hello,

Thank you for your email. I am no longer with the Office of Congressman Tony Cárdenas. Please contact our new Legislative Director Cortney Segmen at Cortney.Segmen@mail.house.gov or Chief of Staff Tejasi Thatte at Tejasi.Thatte@mail.house.gov for further assistance.

Warm regards,
Olivia
Dear Patrick,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dresser, Sammie on behalf of Zapien, Ivan

Wednesday, June 9, 2021 1:33 PM

paulina_glass@cortezmasto.senate.gov

Continued Houthi Escalation Makes Peace in Yemen More Difficult

Dear Paulina,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthi’s ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Piero,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Robert,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Robert,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Wolteji, Azeb

From: Coleman, Norm B.
Sent: Wednesday, June 9, 2021 2:31 PM
To: 'ryan.propis@mail.house.gov'
Subject: Continued Houthi Escalation Makes Peace in Yemen More Difficult

Dear Ryan,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Sebastian,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Sayanna -

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Sarah,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Travis,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
Dear Twinkle,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

> We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

> While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Will,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Wayne,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come to the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

All my best,

Norm

Senator Norm Coleman
Senior Counsel
Hogan Lovells US LLP
Columbia Square
Dear Zach,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Zoe,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)
This material is distributed by Hogan Lovells US LLP on behalf of the Royal Embassy of Saudi Arabia, Washington, D.C. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, DC.
Dear Wendell,

On behalf of the Embassy of Saudi Arabia, I wanted to share with you two statements by the U.S. Administration as to the detrimental impact of the Houthis’ ongoing offensive in Marib. This egregious military escalation by the Houthis, which has caused further humanitarian suffering for the civilian population in Yemen, is making an end to the conflict more difficult with each passing day.

On June 6, Charge d’Affaires Cathy Westley of the U.S. Embassy to Yemen tweeted out a message on the Houthi attacks in Marib.

We are horrified by reports the Houthis used a ballistic missile to destroy a gas station in Marib, killing and wounding civilians. The Houthis reportedly then used a drone to attack an ambulance crew coming to aid the injured. This inhumane violence must end. The United States calls on the Houthis to agree to an immediate ceasefire and work towards bringing peace to Yemen.

According to a June 4 statement by the Office of the Spokesperson of the U.S. State Department:

While there are numerous problematic actors inside of Yemen, the Houthis bear major responsibility for refusing to engage meaningfully on a ceasefire and to take steps to resolve a nearly seven-year conflict that has brought unimaginable suffering to the Yemeni people. Instead, the Houthis continue a devastating offensive on Marib that is condemned by the international community and leaves the Houthis increasingly isolated.

The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia continues to support efforts by the U.S. Government and the United Nations to reach a peaceful resolution to the conflict in Yemen. The Kingdom of Saudi Arabia announced an initiative in late March to reach a nationwide ceasefire in Yemen and reach a comprehensive political resolution to the conflict under the auspices of the United Nations. Unfortunately, the Houthis have refused to come the negotiating table in good faith.

It is critically important that Members of Congress put the blame for the needless suffering in Yemen where it belongs: on the Houthis and on their patron, the Iranian regime.

Thank you for your consideration.

Please let me know if you have any questions.

Sincerely,

Ivan

Ivan Zapien
Partner
Practice Area Leader – Government Relations & Public Affairs
See my bio (Ivan Zapien)