Re: Certain Carbon Steel Products -- Investigation Under Section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974

Dear Mr. Lee:

The purpose of this contract is to set forth the terms of the agreement between the Korea Iron and Steel Association (KOSA) and this law firm with regard to the investigation being conducted by the U.S. International Trade Commission against imports of certain carbon steel products pursuant to Section 201 of the Trade Act of 1974.

This firm shall represent the interests of KOSA and its member companies and, in that regard, it shall prepare all necessary legal and economic memoranda, briefs and other such documents and shall appear at all hearings before the U.S. International Trade Commission in connection with this investigation.

If the decision of the USITC is affirmative, this representation shall also cover the preparation and presentation of all necessary legal and economic memoranda and briefs before the various agencies of the U.S. Government, including specifically the U.S. Trade Representative's Office, in connection with the President's decision concerning possible remedy. Also covered by this Agreement will be advice and work performed in connection with the negotiation and implementation of any Orderly Marketing Arrangement or Voluntary Restraint concerning the products covered by this investigation.

The firm shall be paid on an hourly basis at the rate of one hundred seventy-five dollars ($175) per hour for Mr. Daniels; one hundred fifty dollars ($150) per hour for Mr. Palmetter and Mr. Cameron; one hundred twenty-five dollars ($125) per hour for Mr. Lewin, Mr. Emrich or Ms. Echols; and seventy-five dollars ($75) per hour for associates of the law firm, exclusive of any Korean tax that may be applicable.

In addition to professional fees, the firm shall be reimbursed for all out-of-pocket expenses which shall include out-of-town travel, long distance telephone calls, cables, telexes, purchase of publications, postage, reproduction of documents, business meals and excessive secretarial overtime, but shall not include overhead, local telephone calls and similar routine expenses. There shall be prior consultation before incurring any extraordinary expenses.

Statements for accrued hourly fees and expenses shall be rendered and payable on a quarterly basis, unless in the opinion of the firm, the amount is small enough to warrant carrying over until a later statement. Payment may be made by telex or telegraphic transfer to the firm account, Account No. 3-204-472.

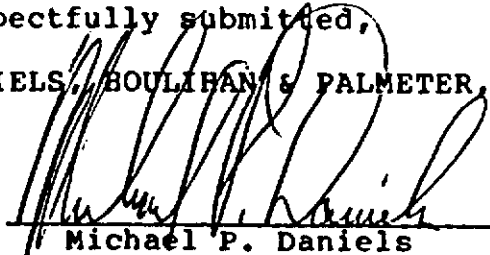

If the foregoing terms are agreeable to you, we request that you endorse the original of this letter and enclosed copy, returning your copy to us and retaining the original for your files.

With best regards.

Respectfully submitted,
