Attention: Mr. Zhang Ping
Counsellor

Dear Sirs:

As you have requested, we are sending this letter to confirm the arrangements between the Embassy and Jones Day regarding services provided to the Embassy’s Congressional Liaison Office by Jones Day.

The services to be provided will consist of monitoring and reporting on Congressional developments and activities relating to The People’s Republic of China and to United States-China relations. In accordance with our relationship during the past 20 years, the services will continue to be provided primarily by Robert M. Brown, and I will continue to have general supervisory responsibility for this relationship.

In accordance with our recent discussions regarding the retainer fee paid by the Embassy to our firm for our services and expenses, the retainer fee will be $45,000 per quarter, effective for the fourth quarter of 2006.

We wish to bring to the Embassy’s attention that Jones Day represents and in the future will represent clients that may request our services in connection with investments or transactions or other activities in China subject to laws and regulations of the government of The People’s Republic of China or in connection with transactions or disputes with, or investigations or proceedings carried on by, the government or its ministries, agencies or other components. In this connection, we wish to confirm our understanding that Jones Day may represent any client in any matter, including transactions, investigations, litigation or other dispute resolution proceeding, involving interests of that client adverse to the interests of the Embassy or the government, so long as neither Mr. Brown nor I is involved in that matter in any way.

As you know, under United States law, Jones Day is required to register this representation under the Foreign Agents Registration Act.

This agreement will continue in effect until terminated by either party by giving thirty days’ notice to the other party or until amended by mutual agreement of the Embassy and Jones Day.
On behalf of Jones Day, I wish to express our appreciation of our long-standing friendship with the Embassy and our pleasure to have the opportunity to continue to be of service to you. Mr. Brown and I have welcomed the privilege of working with our Embassy friends in the past and look forward to continuing to do so in the future.

If this letter is satisfactory, please sign and date the enclosed copy of this letter and return that copy to Jones Day. The original copy is for the Embassy’s records.

Very truly yours,

JONES DAY
