Hi [REDACTED]

Reaching out to share a statement below from the COP28 Presidency in response to the United States' $3 billion pledge to the Green Climate Fund. You are welcome to leverage this statement in any coverage you have planned for this news, attributing to the COP28 Presidency:

We congratulate the United States on a substantial commitment of $3 billion to the Green Climate Fund. Coupled with a combined $158 million pledged by Czechia, Estonia, Portugal and Switzerland this now puts the total amount at $12.475 billion raised.

This means we have surpassed the target for the second replenishment of the world's largest climate fund by over $2 billion. Crossing this threshold demonstrates commitment to help vulnerable countries confront climate impacts.

The COP28 Presidency has advocated for bold steps to drive meaningful change in our global efforts to combat climate change. This is also demonstrated through the $725 million of commitments from multiple parties toward the fund and funding arrangements, related to loss and damage.

COP28 is enabling collective action to restore trust and deliver at scale.

These commitments, along with several other impactful announcements made by countries at COP28 and a joint COP28 UAE Declaration on Climate Finance Framework, are instrumental in maintaining the momentum we are building here in Dubai to achieve the highest-ambition response to the Global Stocktake.

Many thanks,
[REDACTED]
