COP30 Morning Brief

Day 6: Saturday, 15 November

by the COP30 Communications Team

Thematic Focus:

Energy, Industry, Transport, Trade, Finance, Carbon markets, and Non-CO₂ gases

Building the Financial and Ethical Foundations for a Just Transition

Saturday highlights finance as the key driver of the climate transition, focusing on unlocking catalytic capital to scale solutions and support those who need it most. The morning opens with the Integrated Forum on Climate Change and Trade, aligning economic systems with climate ambition and highlighting necessary financial and trade reforms. Simultaneously, a session on taxonomy interoperability will show how harmonized sustainable finance frameworks can unlock cross-border capital, especially for emerging markets.

Brazil and the Green Climate Fund will unveil new Country Platforms and a South–South Knowledge Hub to enhance coordinated investment planning and technical cooperation. The afternoon features the Open Coalition on Compliance Carbon Markets, alongside a ministerial on the Baku to Belém Roadmap to 1.3T, translating recommendations into pathways to mobilize USD 1.3 trillion annually.

The day concludes with the COP/CMP/CMA Plenary following SB63, formalizing SB outcomes and shifting from technical to political negotiations. Day 6 underscores that aligning financial systems, policy frameworks, and cooperative action is essential to a more equitable, resilient, and prosperous future.
