

The Good Friday Agreement delivered peace, progress, and the promise of Unity. The Irish in America made it possible. It is your agreement, peace, and promise. With your continued support, we can build and welcome you home to a new, united, and prosperous Ireland.

Virtual Events

We hosted more interactive Irish Unity Education Webinars, Virtual Assemblies, Online Study Groups, and Organizing Meetings than ever before. Hundreds of supporters of Irish Unity have met online over the last year to plan and learn about the next steps and work needed to prepare for Irish Unity referendums.

Across Ireland, the call for the governments to begin planning and preparing for Irish Unity Referendums is growing. The discussion is growing in communities, civil society, business groups, and academia. This month, the new British Prime Minister tried to dismiss the issue and was met with objections from across Ireland and the US. He quickly backtracked. Together we will secure and win Irish Unity referendums. Together we will build a new and united Ireland.

Honoring Rita O'Hare

Friends of Sinn Féin honored Rita O'Hare with a bust of James Connolly and a plaque commemorating her work and devotion to the cause of Irish Unity at the Áras Uí Chonghaile James Connolly Visitor Centre in Belfast.

NATIONAL EVENTS & ENGAGEMENT

Sinn Féin President Mary Lou McDonald meeting with the Ad Hoc Good Friday Agreement Committee
