Re: Engagement letter for Russian advisory services

Dear Mr. Kotcher:

We are pleased for the opportunity to continue our work with you to provide advisory services to Ketchum, Inc. for the Russian Federation. The purpose of this letter is to confirm the terms of our engagement to provide advisory services on policy and legislative developments of interest to the Russian Federation. I will be the attorney ultimately responsible to Ketchum, Inc., although you should feel free at any time to speak with anyone in our firm who is working with me.

The attorney-client privilege is an important subject that we raise with our clients at the outset of any new representation. As a matter of professional responsibility, we are required to preserve the confidences of our clients. This professional obligation and the legal privilege accorded attorney-client communication exist to encourage candid and complete communication between client and attorney. The attorney-client privilege can be lost if our written or oral communications are shared inappropriately with others, including, under certain circumstances, other employees or representatives of either Ketchum, Inc. or the Russian Federation. We should, therefore, discuss in advance any intention of yours to include others in our confidential relationship.

We will advise, through the auspices of Ketchum, Inc. the Russian Federation on matters regarding policy, political and legislative issues and developments as determined through consultation with designated representatives of Ketchum, Inc. and, as you determine to be necessary, the Russian Federation. It is our understanding that the terms of this engagement require our registration under the Foreign Agents Registration Act. As this engagement entails providing advisory services to the Russian Federation via Ketchum, Inc. this engagement does not constitute a contract to represent the Embassy of the Russian Federation, the Government of the Russian Federation or any of its affiliates before the U.S. Government or any organization, public or private.

The terms of this contract shall run retroactively from November 1, 2013, and will continue until October 31, 2014, unless otherwise agreed by Alston & Bird and Ketchum, Inc. Our advisory fees for this engagement will be $15,000 per month, inclusive of all fees and expenses. In October of 2014, the parties will review the terms of the contract with the objective of extending the advisory relationship into the future. Should you have any questions about any statement, please feel free to call me. Throughout the period of this engagement, we will send monthly statements, for our services rendered in the previous month. Ketchum, Inc. shall remit payment to Alston & Bird within thirty (30) days of receiving the corresponding payment from the Russian Federation.

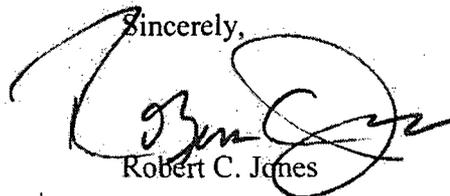

As in any professional relationship where mutual trust and confidence are essential, it is appropriate for Ketchum, Inc. or Alston & Bird to be able to terminate our engagement at any time by reasonable written notice. If our engagement is terminated, we understand that Ketchum, Inc. will take whatever steps are necessary to evidence that we are free from any obligation to perform further, and to pay us for unpaid fees for services rendered incurred to the date of termination to the extent that Ketchum, Inc. has received payment from the Russian Federation for Alston & Bird's services. For clients who are not regular, general clients of the firm, but who hire us as special counsel for a limited engagement, a condition of our acceptance of the engagement is an agreement that our acceptance of the limited engagement shall not preclude our firm from representing other clients in the future who may have adverse interests with respect to matters unrelated to the limited engagement. We consider our advisory work for Ketchum, Inc. and the Russian Federation to fall into this category.

Alston & Bird and Ketchum, Inc. shall each be solely responsible and liable for its acts and omissions in providing services to the Russian Federation.

We would appreciate your acknowledging on behalf of Ketchum, Inc. that this letter correctly reflects the terms of our engagement by signing, dating, and returning to me the enclosed copy of this letter. There is a space for your acknowledgement below my signature.

We are privileged and delighted that Alston & Bird will work with Ketchum, Inc. to advise the Russian Federation for the purposes described herein, and we thank you very much for choosing us. We look forward with enthusiasm and appreciation to working with you.

Sincerely,

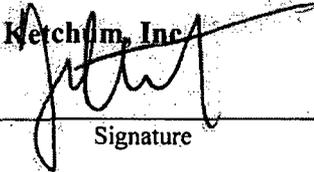

Robert C. Jones
