

Serbian PM: Bosnia's Genocide Appeal 'Irresponsible' – BIRN

February 24, 2017

Serbian Prime Minister Aleksandar Vucic said Friday that the application for review of the ICJ's judgment was "an irresponsible move which created a very bad atmosphere."

The Serbian premier expressed concern that "relations between Serbia and Bosnia and Herzegovina that were built with difficulty are being returned to the past", the government site said.

Vucic added that Serbia will always respect Bosnia and Herzegovina's integrity and advocate the preservation of peace and stability, but will never allow its own interests to be threatened.
