

Bosnian Croats Warn about Election Law Discrimination – HINA

February 26, 2018

Member of the BiH Presidency Dragan Čović said at a UN Human Rights Council meeting today that BiH's election legislation must be adjusted to prevent discrimination against members of ethnic minorities and constituent peoples.

Although the issue of election legislation and its constitutionality is an internal matter, Čović said that it should be examined and understood from the point of view of human rights in order to promote the rule of law and key democratic processes and create the necessary environment to protect human rights and prevent their violation.
