

Izetbegovic: War Unlikely But We Should Prepare for Every Scenario – B92

April 13, 2018

Croatian daily Jutarnji List reports that Bakir Izetbegovic, the current chairman of the BiH Presidency, told journalists in Sarajevo, "I don't think anyone would dare start a conflict again in BiH . . . but that doesn't mean we should not react and prepare for every possible scenario."

"We will certainly not be spending hundreds of millions of dollars and euros on buying missile systems, airplanes, like our neighbors are doing, and I don't know why they need that, but we will round off our defense industry," said Izetbegovic, and added that "this can be important not only from the commercial point of view."

"We will do that for the market, but also for 'god forbid'," he said.
