Thank you, Iraqi Christian Relief Council.

"Security has always been the number one concern for these individuals," says Juliana Taimoorazy, President of the Iraqi Christian Relief Council. "And when you go to the people on the ground, they ask for international protection. And also they're asking for their own military men and women to be equipped to defend themselves. The organization . . . on the ground that is officially recognized by the Iraqi government is called the Nineveh Plain Protection Units - NPU : وحدات حماية سهل نينوى, which is a group of wonderful, strong men that are protecting the southern part of the Nineveh Plain as we speak today."

It should be noted that the Kurdistan Regional Government is blocking the NPU from operating and securing the northern Nineveh Plain districts of Tel Keppe and Bashiqa despite the authorization to do so from the Iraqi government. The NPU is resisting all efforts to divide the Nineveh Plain.
