koreanlegation On a rainy Sunday, members of the Legation museum visited Ye Washon's tombstone located in Oak Hills Cemetery. 🌧️

The reported first Korean to be born in the US (born October 12, 1890) by the fourth minister Ye Cha Yun and his wife Lady Bae. Ye Washon died after two months because of eczema related complications and was buried in the family plot of Seth Ledyard Phelps's family burial grounds.

If you are in the area, please check out the burial of Ye Washon 🏠

The image shows a screenshot of an Instagram post from the account 'koreanlegation'. The post features a historical black and white photograph of a large, ornate building with a Korean flag flying from a tall pole in front of it. Below the photograph, there is Korean text: '관사공국대한대은심와국미' and 'KOREAN LEGATION WASHINGTON, D. C.'. To the right of the photograph is a text overlay that reads: 'koreanlegation CLOSED! Due to interior construction, we will be closing for the rest of the month. Please check our website to make appointments for January! We apologize for any inconvenience. 🙏'. The post has 44 likes and was posted 6 days ago. The Instagram interface elements, including the navigation bar on the left and the browser address bar at the top, are visible.
