Footnote: "Political activity," as defined in Section 1(o) of the Act, means any activity which the person engaging in believes will, or that the person intends to, in any way influence any agency or official of the Government of the United States or any section of the public within the United States with reference to formulating, adopting, or changing the domestic or foreign policies of the United States or with reference to the political or public interests, policies, or relations of a government of a foreign country or a foreign political party.

HE Hynek Kmonicek
Embassy of the Czech Republic in Washington D.C.
3900 Spring of Freedom St. NW
Washington, D.C. 20008

March 31, 2017

Dear Ambassador Kmonicek:

SPG, LLC is delighted to engage with the Embassy of the Czech Republic in Washington, D.C. in working to facilitate a successful and productive state visit by President Milos Zeman. As per our offer, we will assist you in this regard as a demonstration of our capabilities and as an expression of our sincere desire to establish a constructive and long-serving relationship with your country.

Upon completion of this all-important visit SPG looks forward to engaging in further discussions with your government concerning our help in facilitating interactions with the U.S. executive branch and 115th Congress, in order to ensure increased trade and investment as well as other issues aiding our bilateral relations.

Executive Chairman Robert Stryk, will run our engagement operations, but other SPG personnel will be also be involved as required.

We currently represent no other client that directly conflicts with you. Without your prior informed consent and as long as we remain engaged, we will not undertake any client representation that is substantially related to these matters nor in conflict with your government.

On matters not substantially related to our defined engagement, SPG will not be prevented from advocating positions for other clients that are not in accord with the position of the Embassy.

Subject to the relevant provisions of the District of Columbia's Rules of Professional Conduct, you consent to our representing you as clients in other matters in which they are not adverse to you, to parties who are adverse to the Embassy in matters in which we do represent you, and to our representing clients in business transactions, counseling, legislation, regulatory, or other matters in which they are adverse to the Embassy provided that any such matter has no substantial relationship to any matter in which we represent or have represented you. At the same time, SPG is sensitive to the possibility of conflicts or other problems that might arise from particular relationships. In such situations, we will consult with you as appropriate on a case-by-case basis.

SPG and its professionals who are involved in helping execute our engagement will register with the Department of Justice under the Foreign Agents Registration Act as required by U.S. law. This registration will disclose certain information concerning our engagement including this engagement letter. Additional periodic filings are also required to remain compliant that will disclose additional information.

Both you and our firm will use electronic devices and Internet services to communicate with each other and forward documents notwithstanding the risk that such communications may be intercepted by and disclosed to unauthorized parties. You agree that the benefits of using such technology outweigh the risks of unauthorized disclosure.

Subject to the provisions above relating to registration with the Department of Justice under the Foreign Agents Registration Act and the use of electronic devices and Internet services, we agree to treat as confidential and not disclose to any third party, nor use for our own benefit, any information about you or provided by you in the course of or executing our contract except: where the disclosure is authorized by you and following informed consent or necessary for the proper performance of our obligations under this contract; where the disclosure is required by law, provided that we will give you prompt notice of the required disclosure if permitted to do so; or where the information is public knowledge.

If this letter fails to accurately express our mutual understanding or if you have any questions, please let me know. If acceptable, please sign and return a copy of this letter for our records.

Thank you for the honor of serving you and the people of the Czech Republic.

Christian Bourge, CEO SPG, LLC
