Michael, Jay and Trey,

Good morning and I hope you are well. See the blurb below. Seems Hatch is drafting a high skills bill - presumably to be part of the coming immigration discussion. If he's drafting a high skills bill, we would really like your Korea Business Visa bill as part of it - despite its likely dim outlook in the House.

We presume this bill is the Hatch-Coons "I-Squared" bill. Hatch staff working on this is probably Matt Sandgren. Any chance you all might talk to them and see if you can get the Korea bill in the mix here?

Many thanks.

Louie

ANOTHER IMMIGRATION DEVELOPMENT: "GOP Lawmaker Wants to More Than Double High-Skilled Worker Visas," by Bloomberg's Naomi Nix and Ben Brody: "The measure, to be sponsored by Orrin Hatch, would allow as many as 195,000 H-1B visas based on demand, an increase of 110,000, according to draft copy of the legislation. The measure may set up a fight with the Trump administration. During his campaign for president, Donald Trump called the high-skilled H-1B system a 'cheap labor program' that takes away jobs from Americans." <https://bloom.bg/2E8JNCp>
