I thought you might be interested in the latest developments regarding the Republic of Turkey.

This material is distributed by Ballard Partners on behalf of the Republic of Turkey. Additional information is available at the Department of Justice, Washington, D.C.

- The US & Turkey Must Continue to Work Together to Defeat Terrorism

- In an article written by Turkish FM Cavusoglu, the FM asserts Turkey and the US's common goal is to defeat terrorist organizations.

- The victory against their common enemy, Daesh (ISIS), was only possible due to Turkey's contributions. Turkey was crucial in the liberation of the Syrian city of Jarabulus, and in the detention of 10,000 Daesh (ISIS) and Qaeda affiliates.

- The two countries are now at an impasse, as the US has chosen to back the YPG, which according to Turkey, is a Kurdish terrorist organization that Turkey is working to eradicate.

- Turkish FM Cavusoglu stated "We strive for a future that is free of terrorist entities, imploding neighbors, wars and humanitarian calamities in our region. Turkey deserves the respect and support of the United States in this essential fight."

- EU-Turkey Enhance Bilateral Relations

-President Erdogan recently stated, "I always say it. Our aim is to minimize enemies and increase friends. We do not have any problems with Germany, the Netherlands or Belgium. Quite the opposite, the leaders there are my old friends.”

-In Nov. 2017 the EU and Turkey met for a Counter-Terrorism Consultation, where both parties agreed to increase cooperation in the fight against terrorism, by enhancing their collaboration on information sharing, law enforcement, and judicial cooperation.

-German Chancellor Merkel and President Erdogan spoke about improving bilateral ties and Merkel said she would work to speed up the financial assistance from the EU to help aide the refugees living in Turkey.

-Turkey’s EU Minister Celik says Turkey-EU relations are a “win-win situation”.

-EU Commissioner Katainen and Turkish Deputy PM Simsek met to boost economic relations, improve ties, bring business circles together, and resolve major issues.

-EU Commissioner Katainen said that the EU and Turkey are “strategic partners” and that they need each other to thrive, and to solve major international challenges.

-EU Delegation Head Berger said that the EU and Turkey are restoring confidence between each other, and Turkey’s work to fulfill benchmarks in visa liberalization is a good sign for future relations.

- Turkey's Economy is on the Rise

-The OECD stated that it estimates Turkey's economic growth to have exceeded 6% in 2017, attributing the growth to a strong fiscal stimulus and the recovery of the export market.

-Turkey's economy grew faster than any other of the world's 20 biggest economies in Q3 of 2017, an 11.1% GDP growth compared with Q3 of 2016, due to increased household spending, construction and services, and a surge in exports.

-Turkey's industrial production rose by 7.3% in Oct. 2017, with a capital good production increase of 13.5% and an intermediate goods production increase of 6.4%, which are vital indicators for the economy, because they are seen as preliminary gauges for GDP growth.

-Turkey's unemployment rate decreased 0.7% to 10.6% and its labor force participation increased by 0.8% to 53.4% in Sept 2017.

-Women participating in the workforce increased 1% in 2017 compared to 2016.

-Turkey saved $11 billion through public-private partnerships in infrastructural investment made from 2003-2016, and $286 billion was added to GDP during this period, with 8.95 million people getting new jobs.
