

Twitter
Friday, February 4	1:00:00 PM	Posted	POLITICAL	211	2022 marks 100 years for beloved #Italian brand, Baci Perugini! Congratulazioni! Hershey's Kiss or the #MadelinItaly Baci? We choose Baci Perugina every time. Here's to 100 more years of Baci (Kisses 🍫)	Baci
	1:30:00 PM	Posted	SCI/ECON	240	On COVID-19 vaccinations, Italians lead the way! 91% have at least 1 vaccine dose 88% have 2 doses Nearly 35 million have their booster
	3:00:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	194	With these numbers, #Italy is ready for a new phase in the fight against the pandemic. Absolutely stunning, @Italiateam !It! We're ready for #Beijing2022 and #MilanoCortina2026 here at the Embassy of Italy to the US! [QT: https://twitter.com/Olympics/status/1489591663123181568]
Instagram
Friday, February 4	1:30:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	FEED	Located in Lombardy, Crespi d'Adda is an outstanding example of the 19th- and early 20th-century "company towns" built in Europe and North America by industrialists to meet their workers' needs. Completed in the late 1920s, the town offered a high standard of living to its textile employees. Each house had its own garden, and residents were offered advanced amenities including public bathrooms, a clinic, a consumer cooperative, a school, a small theatre, a sports center, and a hydroelectric power station supplying free electricity. The town remained under the ownership of the textile company, owned by the Crespi family, until the 1970s, after which many of the residences were sold to private individuals. Despite the change in ownership, as well as the evolution of economic and social conditions, the urban and architectural structure of the town remains unaltered, and Crespi d'Adda was inscribed as a @UNESCOWorldHeritage site in 1995. Cristina Risciglione / EyeEm Piero M. Bianchi
	1:30:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	STORY	#unescomorldheritage #Italy #UNESCO #Italia #CrespiAdda #explore #beautiful #travel #likeItaly #love #ombardy #Crespi #textiles	Post 1-4
	1:30:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	STORY	Let's learn about Crespi d'Adda!	Story 1
	1:30:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	STORY	[insert quiz sticker] When was Crespi d'Adda completed? a) 1890s b) 1920s (correct) c) 1970s	Story 2
	1:30:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	STORY	[insert quiz sticker] Who owns Crespi d'Adda now? a) Public owners b) The Catholic Church c) Private owners d) A mixture of all! (correct)	Story 3
	1:30:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	STORY	One of the reasons Crespi d'Adda has maintained its unique authenticity as an example of a company town is due to its isolated setting between the Adda and Brembo rivers.	Story 4
	1:30:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	STORY	[insert poll sticker] Do you want to visit Crespi d'Adda? Yes! / Already have :)	Story 5
	1:30:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	STORY	[repost Crespi post to story] Tap to learn more about this @UNESCOworldheritage site!
	3:00:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	FEED	The 2022 Beijing Winter Olympic Games are here! You already know who we're rooting for...Italy! The best #Italian athletes will compete for @Italiateam and represent Italy on the world stage. In 2026, Italy is slated to host at Milan-Cortina d'Ampezzo! After the last Winter Olympics in Pyeongchang, Italy brought home a total of 10 medals—including 3 gold, 2 silver and 5 bronze. Bravissimi!	Winter Olympics
Facebook
	10:00:00 AM	Posted	SOCIAL	FEED	The 5th Venice Biennale is almost here! The International contemporary art exhibition will be held between April and November 2022. It is entitled "The Milk of Dreams" and will heavily take inspiration from surrealist artist Leonora Carrington and her book of the same title. This year, seasoned contemporary art curator and Director and Chief Curator of @HighLineArt Cecilia Alemani will take the helm as the curator for @Labiennaledivenezia exhibition. "As the first Italian woman to hold this position, I intend to give voice to artists to create unique projects that reflect their visions and our society." Learn more about Cecilia and how her leadership is making history at this important event https://www.labiennale.org/en/art/2022/statement-cecilia-alemani	link auto-populates

				Located in Lombardy, Crespi d'Adda is an outstanding example of the 19th- and early 20th-century "company towns" built in Europe and North America by industrialists to meet their workers' needs. Completed in the late 1920s, the town offered a high standard of living to its textile employees. Each house had its own garden, and residents were offered advanced amenities including public bathrooms, a clinic, a consumer cooperative, a school, a small theatre, a sports center, and a hydroelectric power station supplying free electricity. The town remained under the ownership of the textile company, owned by the Crespi family, until the 1970s, after which many of the residences were sold to private individuals. Despite the change in ownership, as well as the evolution of economic and social conditions, the urban and architectural structure of the town remains unaltered, and Crespi d'Adda was inscribed as a @UNESCO World Heritage site in 1995. Cristina Risciglione / EyeEm Piero M. Bianchi KYNA STUDIO
	1:30:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	FEED	Post 1-4 and Story 2-3
Friday, February 4	3:00:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	FEED	Today, the 2022 Beijing Winter Olympic Games begin! Top athletes from all across Italy will travel to compete for @italiateam and represent their country on the world stage. Following the last Winter Olympics in Pyeongchang, Italy brought home a total of 10 medals—including 3 gold, 2 silver and 5 bronze. Italy is slated to host the 2026 Winter Games in Milan-Cortina d'Ampezzo! Bravissimi!	Winter Olympics
Saturday, February 5	12:00:00 PM	Posted	SOCIAL	FEED	In this small Italian village nicknamed "Little Provence," you may part ways with "arveire" rather than "arrivederci." Sancto Lucio de Coumboscuro, located near the Piedmont region of Italy and the country of France, is a great example of how cultures can blend together! Villagers speak Provençal, an ancient medieval neo-Latin dialect of Occitan, a language spoken in the Occitania region of France. In the words of its residents, this unique little town has a lot of heritage to share. Places like Sancto Lucio de Coumboscuro highlight the importance of protecting even the most niche elements of Italian culture! Learn more via @CNN https://www.cnn.com/travel/article/the-italian-village-that-doesnt-speak-italian/index.html	link auto-populates