Collaboration between Italian and US leaders goes back to the establishment of Italy-US diplomatic relations more than 160 years ago, but one of our favorite examples happened here in Washington. In 1921, President Warren G. Harding joined the Italian Minister of Foreign Affairs Carlo Schanzer and Ambassador of Italy to the United States Vittorio Rolandi Ricci in Meridian Hill Park to unveil a statue of #Italian poet Dante Alighieri. Visitors can still see the statue, created by Italian artist Ettore Ximenes, in Washington D.C. today!	Dante

	10:00:00 AM	Posted	SOCIAL	FEED	Happy President's Day in the US! Italy and the US have had diplomatic relations for over 160 years. Throughout those years, Italian and US officials have made many official goodwill and political trips! Here are some of the highlights: 1) In 1964, US President Lyndon Johnson hosted a State Dinner for Italian President Antonio Segni! President Johnson gifted President Segni and his wife a silver box, engraved with maps of both Italy and the US! It read "Italy remains to all, the land of dreams and a vision of delight." 2) In 1974, President Giovanni Leone of Italy and Mrs. Vittoria Leone arrived at the White House for a State Visit with US President Gerald R. Ford and First Lady Betty Ford. They were also able to visit the @nationalgalleryofart and view the Venetian drawings on display that were on display, along with the permanent collection of Italian art which you can still visit today!
