

Twitter
	12:00:00 PM	Posted	POLITICAL	333	A highlight from the @AtlanticCouncil Awards, where Italian Prime Minister Mario Draghi received the 2022 Distinguished Leadership Award during last week's visit to the United States. Read his full speech https://www.governo.it/it/articolo/intervento-del-presidente-draghi-allatlantic-council-distinguished-leadership-award-2022	Draghi Atlantic Council
Wednesday, May 18	2:00:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	280	As home to the oldest public museums in the world, #Italy is culture! It's more important than ever to preserve and make culture accessible to all. During #InternationalMuseumDay, we recognize the power of museums to increase sustainability, innovate and build community.	Musei Capitolini, Uffizi Gallery, Doge's Palace, Norman Palace
Thursday, May 19	12:00:00 PM	Posted	SCI/ECON	296	#MadeInItaly reaches all parts of aerospace—from cybersecurity to products and components. Explore @D_Orbit, a Milan-based company reaching for the stars with industry learning solutions for the entire lifecycle of a mission. Learn more from #beIT https://madeinitaly.gov.it/technologies/	2022 Visionari D-ORBIT
Instagram
	12:00:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	FEED	As home to the oldest public museums in the world, Italy is culture! It's more important than ever to preserve and make culture accessible to everyone. During this year's #InternationalMuseumDay, we recognize the power of museums—of improving sustainability, innovating technologies that progress digitalization and accessibility, and building global community through education. @mic_italia's peace campaign emphasizes the goal of global community, standing in solidarity with the people of #Ukraine. Check out the newest story highlight on our profile to see some artwork and cultural moments that promote peace and unity. #CultureUnitesTheWorld #MuseumsAgainstWar Learn more about the US Capitol's peace monument—featured as part of @mic_italia's peace campaign for #Ukraine! [share to story: https://www.instagram.com/p/CcOFWCFpw0C/]	Musei Capitolini, Uffizi Gallery, Doge's Palace, Borghese Gallery, Castello Svevo, Norman Palace, Palazzo Reale
	12:00:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	STORY	#CultureUnitesTheWorld #MuseumsAgainstWar	N/A
	2:00:00 PM	Posted	SOCIAL	FEED	"Italy has the best quality of life that I ever saw." World-renowned artist and photographer @sebastiaosalgadoofficial joined the #beIT "As I See IT" campaign to share what he feels makes Italy great—from phenomenal, affordable restaurants to unparalleled design and automotive capabilities. [reshare Sebastiao Salgado post to story]	2021 ICE Sebastiao Salgado v.2
	2:00:00 PM	Posted	SOCIAL	STORY	As part of @officialbe.it's "As I See IT" campaign, @sebastiaosalgadoofficial discusses the unparalleled features that make Italy great. Check it out	N/A
Wednesday, May 18	4:00:00 PM	Posted	SOCIAL	FEED	Today, let's take a look at three objects in Silvana Annicchiarico's 3CODESIGN exhibit that demonstrate Italian design's dedication to reusing materials. Fossili Domestici by Massimiliano Adami These "modern fossils" produced from old televisions are filled with everyday objects, a critical expression of the alienation of advertising within our daily life. Office + Retrofit (bench) by @sovrappensierodesign This bench was designed as part of "recovery intervention" to reuse and interpret old office furniture in a new way. Benna Half One+Two by Lorenzo Damiani These stools are made using a mould that is normally used for producing grabs for agricultural use.	Fossili_Embassy, Retrofit Bench_Embassy, Benna_Embassy
	12:00:00 PM	Posted	SCI/ECON	FEED	DYK that every time you get water from the tap, take a shower or wash your car, you're benefiting from the #EternalInnovator, Italy? In 312 B.C., the first Roman aqueduct—Aqua Appia—was erected by Appius Claudius Caecus. Aqueducts supplied fresh water for baths, fountains and drinking water to ordinary citizens. The Romans improved on these complex systems and modern aqueducts are now a central part of water distribution infrastructure worldwide. The Parco degli Acquedotti (Aqueduct Park) in Rome holds many of Italy's remaining aqueducts, but you can find these marvels of ancient Roman design across Europe! Pont du Gard Aqueduct, a Roman aqueduct that crosses the Gard River in France, is protected as a @UNESCOworldheritage site. Its iconic arches are a highly recognizable feature of Roman design.	Pont du Gard, Aqueduct Park
Thursday, May 19	4:00:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL		Italy's annual "Grand Tour" bike race, the @giroditalia, is happening right now! The race started on May 6 in Budapest, Hungary, and covers over 2,100 miles. So, where can you find the Giro d'Italia racers today? After reaching the halfway point, the participants are now on Stage 12, which starts with a challenging ascent from Parma. Cyclists will continue across the Apennine Mountains, through the Taro river valley and Bocco Pass and across the new San Giorgio bridge, until they finish the day in the city center of Genova (Genoa).	New San Giorgio Bridge
Facebook
	12:00:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	FEED	As home to the oldest public museums in the world, Italy is culture! It's more important than ever to preserve and make culture accessible to everyone. During this year's International Museum Day, we recognize the power of museums—of improving sustainability, innovating technologies that progress digitalization and accessibility, and building global community through education.	Musei Capitolini, Uffizi Gallery, Doge's Palace, Borghese Gallery, Castello Svevo, Norman Palace, Palazzo Reale

	2:00:00 PM	Posted	SOCIAL	FEED	"Italy has the best quality of life that I ever saw." World-renowned artist and photographer @SebastiaoSalgadoGenesis shares what he feels makes Italy great—from phenomenal, affordable restaurants to unparalleled design and automotive capabilities. Watch his message for the #beIT "As I See IT" campaign.	2021 ICE Sebastiao Salgado v.2
Wednesday, May 18	4:00:00 PM	Posted	SOCIAL	FEED	Curated by Silvana Annicchiarico, the 3CODESIGN exhibition demonstrates how Italian design is deeply rooted in environmental sustainability. Rather than ending up in landfills, new products aim to remain in circulation and regenerate themselves continuously. The 50+ design objects featured exemplify this goal through the three ideas of Reduce, Reuse, and Recycle. Let's take a look at three today. Reduce: Filide by @CarraroChabank The Sicilian countryside is covered with carob trees, which is one of the most important products for the region's economy. These weightless souvenirs in aluminium are created using sand moulds and combine rural tradition with innovation. Reuse: Office + Retrofit (bench) by @sovrappensiero.designstudio This bench was designed as part of "recovery intervention" to reuse and interpret old office furniture in a new way. To re or not to Re? by @joevellutostudio These pots are made by recycling post-consumer plastic. Each one wears a mask representing the "original container"—its past life.	Filide_Embassy, Retrofit Bench_Embassy, Re_Embassy
	12:00:00 PM	Posted	SCI/ECON	FEED	Did you know that every time you get water from the tap, take a shower or wash your car, you're benefiting from the #EternalInnovator, Italy? In 312 B.C., the first Roman aqueduct—Aqua Appia—was erected by Appius Claudius Caecus. Aqueducts supplied fresh water for baths, fountains and drinking water to ordinary citizens. The Romans improved on these complex systems and modern aqueducts are now a central part of water distribution infrastructure worldwide. The Parco degli Acquedotti (Aqueduct Park) in Rome holds many of Italy's remaining aqueducts, but you can find these marvels of ancient Roman design across Europe! Pont du Gard Aqueduct, a Roman aqueduct that crosses the Gard River in France, is protected as a @UNESCOworldheritage site. Its iconic arches are a highly recognizable feature of Roman design.	Pont du Gard, Aqueduct Park
	2:00:00 PM	Posted	SOCIAL	FEED	Some of the whimsical and innovative works of Piero Gilardi, an Italian visual artist from Turin, are now on display at @magazzino in Cold Spring, New York. This is Gilardi's first solo museum exhibition in the United States—an immersive space focused on his signature environmentally conscious "Nature-Carpets." These carpets, which Gilardi has been developing since 1965, imagine a perfect nature and are carved into polyurethane foam using a technique called "intaglio." They are then saturated in two stages with vinyl resin and rubber latex. "Gilardi: Tappeto-Natura" is on display until January 9, 2023. Learn more about the exhibit and the dualism between natural and artificial examined in Gilardi's work https://www.magazzino.art/visiti/exhibitions/gilardi-tappeto-natura	Link autopopulates
Thursday, May 19	4:00:00 PM	Posted	GLOBAL	FEED	Italy's annual "Grand Tour" bike race, the @giroditalia, is happening right now! The race started on May 6 in Budapest, Hungary, and covers over 2,100 miles. So, where can you find the Giro d'Italia racers today? After reaching the halfway point, the racers are now on Stage 12, which starts with a challenging ascent from Parma. Cyclists will continue across the Apennine Mountains, through the Taro river valley and Bocco Pass and across the new San Giorgio bridge, until they finish the day in the city center of Genova (Genoa).	New San Giorgio Bridge