

Barzan Aeronautical

Trident Technical College has been chosen as the inaugural partner for the Barzan Aeronautical Center of Excellence, providing a unique opportunity for students and staff. The Center will be located at the Barzan Aeronautical site on John's Island, South Carolina, and the college will support the Center in its design and development. As a result of this partnership, Barzan Aeronautical will sponsor an international faculty student exchange between Trident Technical College and Qatar Aeronautical College based in Doha, Qatar. TTC faculty and students will alternate trips between US and Qatar where the faculty present to students at each college and students will participate in joint projects. This gives students hands-on, private sector experience and expands their professional network both domestically and abroad.
