Huawei's Cybersecurity Chief calls for more focus on AI security.

Interview with John Suffolk, Global Cybersecurity and Privacy Officer, Huawei.

We can’t solve every problem we face. Working together is key.

Huawei USA & EU

If there are many problems around the world that no single nation can solve, and I would like to see our nations coming together and actually tackling the world’s big problems. Whether it’s controlling the outbreaks of pandemics, global energy consumption, or perhaps AI security, we need to work together.
