unbelievable hosts, with delicious food and drinks. The sunsets in Aruba are breathtaking, but to watch from the water was magic. We also took a private tour of Arikok National Park and the entire Island with @islaaruba. What was remarkable about this was we truly saw all of Aruba. We found caves and hidden cave pools, explored Cusi Bari rock formations, snorkeled with sea turtles at Tres Trapi, and discovered my new favorite beach, Arashi Beach. We have only been here briefly and have already fallen in love with this place. @arubatourism #OneHappyIsland #TheArubaEffect #ArubaTourismPartner

Courtyard by Marriott Aruba Resort

beautiful culture, food and experiences on the island! I stayed at the Courtyard by Marriott Aruba Resort this past weekend and had an amazing trip!

My highlights of the resort are their beautiful pools, swim-up bar, spa and restaurant. Plus, it's close to the must-see beaches and nightlife on the island.

Tons of photos and videos to come from my trip so follow along for inspiration for your next Caribbean getaway!

Papiamento, the local language, music and food throughout the island.

I loved the experience, and I can't wait to share more with you, specifically about the food, in my next video!

josheatsphilly EVERYTHING I ATE IN ARUBA! 🍌

I'm partnering with @arubatourism to feature some of the amazing places to eat on the island!

After spending a weekend visiting Aruba, here is everything I ate on the island:

1. An amazing Açaí Bowl at @eduardosbeachshack
2. Brunch and Bottomless Mimosas at @craftaua
3. Authentic Dutch pancakes at @ilincisaruba
4. Ceviche at @tastemyaruba
5. Literally everything from Zeerover (some of the best fresh fried seafood)
6. Tacos from the swim up bar at @alioqrobstro at @courtyardcauca
7. Wine and Charcuterie from @stovestawinery
8. Paelia and Lamb Chops from @azarcaperfire
9. Mustard Soup and Fresh Grilled Fish from King Fred and Diane's
10. The tasting menu from Carte Blanche

From family-owned businesses that have been around for over 50+ years like Taste My Aruba, local gems like Zeerover's, and not new establishments like Azar and King Fred and Princess Diane's, Aruba's restaurant scene is vibrant and delicious. The island's melting pot creates a huge variety of options to choose from - too many to fit into one trip. There are many award-winning chefs from all over the world adding new dimensions to Aruba's culinary scene.

Aruba

sometimes blend together, and time seems to fly by. Not here though. Everything seemed to slow down even with a schedule packed full of adventurous activities. The Aruba Effect is no exaggeration. The happiness isn't just a vibe: it's a way of life here and it's stayed with me ever since!

Our first time in Aruba, and it definitely won't be our last! #ad

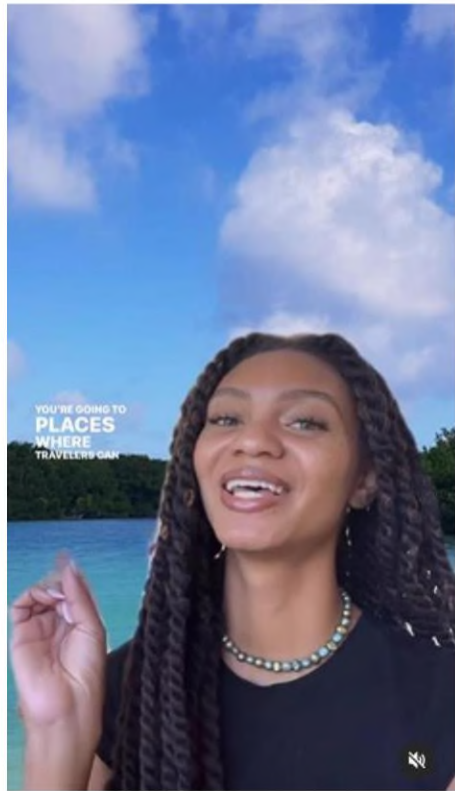

Whether we're exploring Arikok National Park, hopping from one beautiful beach to the next, or witnessing a jaw-dropping sunset, Aruba truly blew @karlieplace and I away.

Drink tap water on the island and use reusable water bottles. This helps me to reduce my plastic waste while traveling and respect the island - a big win for me & Momma Earth 🌍🌱💚

Follow along with my journey throughout the week via stories + in feed, I'll be sharing more about my experience in Aruba and tips on how to travel as sustainably as possible.

I recently partnered with @arubatourism to explore the One happy island, connect with nature and learn more about their rejuvenating waters. My stay at Manchebo was nothing short of amazing - I spent my time lounging by the beach, doing yoga classes as part of their wellness program, eating yummy food and admiring the blue lizards around the property. Such a beautiful oasis for reflection and connecting with mother earth.

on plastic water bottles; each day I filled up my bottle regularly which also helped me stay hydrated while I adventured throughout the island. Being an eco-conscious traveler is really important to me because I gain so much inspiration from traveling, but want to reduce my footprint as much as possible when doing so
