Dear Nick,

I'm following up on my email that I just sent to share the coordinates of the farms included in our most recent report. Our team could not add the coordinates in time for the report's publication but they will be included within the case tables in future reports. I hope this is helpful for your analysis!

Subject: Sign-on to urge action on deforestation

Dear Colleagues,

Ten years ago, the Consumer Goods Forum (CGF) made a commitment to end deforestation in member companies' supply chains by 2020. As this deadline approaches, it is apparent that CGF companies have not taken the necessary actions to achieve this goal, and yet their leadership to address deforestation, human rights abuses, and the climate crisis couldn't be more urgent.

With UN Climate Week next week in New York, and CGF companies preparing their own announcements, we thought it a critical moment in time to communicate clear expectations from civil society of necessary actions to deliver against the pledges made to end deforestation and associated human rights abuses in commodity agriculture supply chains.

We are planning to release this letter on September 23rd, and ask for your sign-on no later than Friday, September 20th.

Authors and current signatories of the letter include Friends of the Earth US, Rainforest Action Network, Oxfam, SumOfUs, and Mighty Earth. We are seeking the support of a wide range of organizations and civil society groups to sign-on to the letter. Please join us in urging the CGF to live up to their commitments on ending deforestation.
