Hi -

An investigation by NGO Equitable Cambodia has discovered the recent clearance of Cambodian Indigenous People's stolen land by the Vietnamese rubber company Hoang Anh Gia Lai (HAGL). HAGL took advantage of the COVID-19 pandemic and cleared the land while people were instructed to shelter in place. The Vietnamese company razed land spanning four indigenous communities in Ratanakiri province, destroying traditional burial sites, hunting grounds, wetlands, and spirit mountain of the local people.

The second largest shareholder of HAGL Agri (35% stake) is another Vietnamese company called Truong Hai Auto Js Corp (THACO), which assembles vehicles under license from global automakers, including Peugeot, Kia and Mazda.

Are you interested in speaking with our partners at NGO Equitable Cambodia or one of Mighty Earth's Campaign Directors?
