Over the next two weeks, the President of the Republic of Somaliland H.E. @AbdirahmanIrro will meet with senior U.S. officials and members of Congress and other political and economic stakeholders. Today he attends the Middle East–America Dialogue (MEAD) Summit, where he will deliver a strong message to Washington's foreign policy and national security community: "Somaliland stands with the United States against the forces of terrorism and coercion, just as we stand with Taiwan and Israel. We have real assets to bring to this partnership — and we are ready to deliver," said President Irro.

We thank @SenTedCruz, Chairman of the @SenateForeign Africa Subcommittee, for his letter to @SecRubio urging a separate U.S. Travel Advisory and Diplomatic Security assessment for Somaliland. For nearly three decades, Somaliland has been a beacon of stability and democracy in the Horn of Africa. It is time U.S. policy reflects that reality.

Congratulations to Frank Garcia on his confirmation as @StateDept Assistant Secretary for African Affairs – a critical role in shaping U.S. engagement on the continent. We, in Somaliland, look forward to working with him on our shared commitment to counterterrorism, economic development, maritime security, and democratic governance.

@DrJPPham, What makes this picture even more historic is the pride I feel in being with you as Somaliland's fellow traveler, who supported its causes and applauded its achievements through the years. Thanks for your unflinching friendship. And thanks to @IsraelinUSA and Amb. @yechielleiter for bringing us together in this memorable picture.

Strong recognition from Capitol Hill on Somaliland's role as a geostrategic partner advancing U.S. interests during Subcommittee on Africa and Global Health Policy hearing today on the U.S Approach to Counterterrorism in Africa.

"This is the kind of partner we should be encouraging." — @SenTedCruz on Somaliland at today's @SenateForeign subcommittee hearing.

Grateful to a true friend of Somaliland for making the case for deeper U.S.-Somaliland cooperation in the Horn of Africa.
