Response to Item 10

Item 10: Will the activities on behalf of the above foreign principal include political activities as defined in Section 1(o) of the Act. If yes, describe all such political activities indicating, among other things, the relations, interests or policies to be influenced together with the means to be employed to achieve this purpose. The response must include, but not be limited to, activities involving lobbying, promotion, perception management, public relations, economic development, and preparation and dissemination of informational materials.

At the time the agreements submitted with this registration were signed, QAI did not believe these activities constituted political activities under FARA. In response to a March 12, 2020, letter from the U.S. Department of Justice, QAI has made the decision to register. During the registrable period, QAI's activities and programs focused on areas such as international affairs, security, human rights, and civil society. These programs included appearances by Qatari officials in the U.S. to speak on issues often raised against Qatar, including relations with Iran and terrorism financing, annual forums for cultural events in different U.S. cities; and sponsorship of lectures on a wide variety of topics.

THIS AGREEMENT, effective October 1, 2017, is executed by and between the Embassy of the State of Qatar (hereinafter, “Embassy”), 2555 M Street, N.W., Washington, DC 20037, and the Qatar-America Institute (hereinafter, “Grantee”), 10000 Memorial Drive, Suite 920, Houston, Texas 77024, USA.

WHEREAS, subject to the terms set forth in this Agreement, Embassy has selected Grantee as a recipient of a charitable gift from the Embassy for the purpose of executing the project described herein.

NOW THEREFORE, the Parties agree as follows:

1. Gift Pledge. Embassy pledges to give the sum of US$ 1,742,500 (the “Gift”) annually to Grantee, to be used exclusively for the project described in this Agreement (the “Project”). The term shall be not less than three years (from the Effective Date until September 30, 2020). The gift shall be paid in six-month increments according to the payment schedule attached as Exhibit 1, the Gift Payment Schedule. At least 60 days prior to each payment date, the Parties shall review the activities, expenses and income of the Grantee, and subject to mutual agreement in writing, may adjust the Gift and/or the payment schedule. In the discretion of the Embassy, the duration of the Gift payments may be extended beyond three years, and/or the Gift may be increased to cover the costs of special programs or expenses proposed by Grantee, subject to written amendment of this Agreement.

2. Project Description. Grantee shall establish, manage and execute the Project described in Exhibit 2, the Project Description. Grantee shall use the Gift, including any income or proceeds generated by the Gift, exclusively for the Project. For the avoidance of doubt, Embassy assumes no responsibility for the Project, and shall exercise no governance or management role with respect to the Project or the Grantee.

3. Changed Circumstances. To the extent that a change in circumstances precludes or substantially inhibits execution of the Project, the unexpended portion of the Gift shall be returned by Grantee to Embassy, and this Agreement shall terminate.

4. Reporting. Commencing with Grantee’s receipt of any portion of the Gift funds, Grantee shall submit written reports to Embassy not later than 30 days after the end of each calendar year, and such reports shall include the following information: (a) a narrative description of the status, progress, and accomplishments of the Project; and (b) an accounting of Gift funds received, and expenditures in furtherance of the Project.

5. Audit and Access to Records. Grantee shall make and keep books, records and accounts that, in reasonable detail, accurately and fairly reflect financial transactions and accounting operations associated with the Gift, including custody and disposition of Gift funds, together with any related income or earnings. Upon reasonable notice and at reasonable times, all such records shall be made available for inspection by Embassy or by independent auditors appointed by Embassy.
6. Compliance with Law. In the execution and performance of this Agreement, including the Project, Grantee confirms that Grantee has complied, and will comply, with all applicable laws.

7. Limitation of Liability. The Gift is made to Grantee solely for charitable purposes. Neither Embassy, nor its representatives or agents, intend by this Gift to carry on any commercial activity in the United States, and no waiver is intended with respect to any immunity to which Embassy is entitled under the laws of the United States or any other jurisdiction. The Parties acknowledge and agree that: (a) execution of the Project is exclusively the responsibility of Grantee, and Embassy assumes no liability to Grantee or to any other party for claims associated with the Project, irrespective of the underlying cause of action; and (b) Grantee expressly waives, and releases Embassy (including its representatives and agents) from, any claim, liability or demand related to the Gift or the Project.

EXHIBIT 2: PROJECT DESCRIPTION

Name: The Qatar-America Institute ("The Institute")

Legal status: A non-profit corporation organized under the tax laws of the United States

Location: Washington, DC

Mission: To increase understanding about Qatar among the people of the United States and to strengthen Qatari-American relations through a variety of events, trips, studies, grants, and other programs.

Staff: The Institute will have a fulltime paid staff of at least 5, consisting of:

- A president/chairman of the board;
- An executive director;
- An assistant to the executive director;
- A program director; and
- An assistant to the program director.

Outside assistance: The Institute may contract for services in budget/management, public relations, translation, website design/maintenance, social media, event planning/execution, book/record keeping, human resource policies and practices, benefits management, and information technology. It may also engage temporary personnel to help with VIP visits and with special events like forums and cultural exhibits/performances.

Board of Directors: The Board of Directors will meet twice yearly, once in Washington and once in Doha. It will oversee the operations of The Institute, advise on programs, and serve as an ongoing resource. It will contain both Qatari and American members with experience in:

- International relations;
- Academia;
- Public policy;
- Business/finance;
- Defense/Security
- Media; and
- Civil society.
Ideally, the Board should contain two former members of Congress, one from each political party.

Areas of focus: The Institute, to be most effective, will limit its activities and programs to certain areas, such as:

- International affairs, principally Qatar's relationship with the United States and with nations in the Middle East;
- Security, principally the defense of the Arabian Gulf and counter-terrorism;
- Human rights, principally the rights of women and of foreign workers in Gulf countries;
- Civil society, principally organizations and activities that foster civic engagement; and
- Culture, principally the arts of Qatar and the broader Islamic world.

Programs: The Institute could sponsor such activities as:

- Trips by influential (and potentially influential) Americans to Qatar; see “United States-Qatar Leadership Missions” below.
- Appearances by Qatari officials before a variety of forums in US cities (especially outside the Boston-New York-Washington corridor) to speak on regional issues. These talks should specifically and unhesitatingly address the issues often raised against Qatar, such as the broadcasts of Al Jazeera, relations with Iran, terrorist finance, and support for the Muslim Brotherhood, Hamas, Hezbollah, and Sunni groups in opposition to the Assad regime in Syria.
- Visits to the US by Qatari women who will speak to the freedoms and opportunities they enjoy within traditional Qatari culture.
- Exchanges of art by US and Qatari museums.
- An annual forum or cultural event in a different US city.
- Debates similar to the “Doha Debates”, in which opposing teams of experts discuss such controversial topics as the challenge from Iran, the future of the GCC, the treatment of expatriate labor, the rights of women, and democracy in the Arab/Muslim world.
- Grants to universities, public policy institutes, and individual scholars for special studies on Qatar and the Gulf region, without any restrictions on their work and the eventual public dissemination of their findings.
- Contributions to US cultural, educational, and charitable institutions, particularly those with which the Institute has or desires a relationship.
- Sponsoring lectures on a wide variety of topics, such as Islamic art, Bedouin life, and the history of the pearl trade in the Gulf.
• Sponsoring “Model United Nations” and “Model Arab Leagues” for US high school and college students.
• Paid internships for university students during the academic year and during summers. Ideally, these interns will be given funded travel to Qatar at some point.
• A website of information about Qatar and US events involving Qatar, with links to the sites of the Embassy of Qatar, the US-Qatar Business Council, Qatar Museums, the Qatar Tourism Authority, and others.

Funding: Funding for the Institute will come from an annual grant from the State of Qatar. These funds could be supplemented by sponsorships of specific programs by Qatari and American corporations and by partnerships with US universities and public policy institutes. The Institute will be permitted to accept grants from private and public sources for such purposes as forums, studies, and cultural events.

Partnerships: The Institute should actively seek partnerships with other public-policy institutes throughout the US, especially those associated with universities. Special contact should be made with those universities represented in Education City and those where Qataris have studied, such as Portland State, Western Michigan, and Colorado State.

The Institute should also have ongoing working relationships with the Council on Foreign Relations, the World Affairs Councils of America, the Middle East Institute, Asia Society, and other groups concerned with international matters.

Initial plan: In 2017, emphasis will be given to recruiting staff; setting up the office; forming the board; establishing partnerships; and sending the first VIP delegation to Qatar. In 2018, the first set of programs inside and outside Washington will be held, and 4-6 VIP trips will be sent to Qatar. In both years, events tied to the visits to US cities by the ambassador of Qatar and other Qatari officials will be planned and executed.

Follow-up: Follow-up to all Institute programs is essential in order to benefit from the knowledge and influence of participants. The Institute staff will maintain a current roster of these persons and keep them informed and involved through newsletters and invitations to events.

Whenever the Qatari ambassador and/or any other Qatari official visits a city in which one or more former participants live, these persons should be invited to a private meeting with the official(s). They could also be asked to serve as hosts at Institute-funded luncheons and dinners with other leading citizens of that community held during the official’s visit.
Distinct roles: The Institute will not supersede or duplicate the activities of:

- The US-Qatar Business Council Business;
- The Qatar Foundation;
- Qatar Museums; and
- Any other Qatari government or private institution.

On the contrary, The Institute will partner with all of these institutions in the common goal of strengthening Qatari-American relations.

United States-Qatar Leadership Missions:

- As an early initiative, The Institute will sponsor special trips to Qatar for delegations of 10 influential (and potentially influential) Americans from across the US. The trips would be all-expenses-paid for each participant.

- Initially, each delegation will consist of a mix of business people, state and local officials, academics, journalists, and other community leaders, varied by section of the country, race, gender, ethnicity, and political party.

- Eventually, the delegations can specialize, to include only mayors, state legislators, retired senior military officers, professors of history, journalists, museum directors, etc.

- Each trip will be for three full days and four nights in Doha, with one day for travel on both ends.

- Ideally, each delegation will meet with such key leaders as:
  1. Their Highnesses the Amir and/or the Father Amir;
  2. HE the Prime Minister and Minister of the Interior;
  3. HE the Foreign Minister;
  4. HE the Defense Minister;
  5. HE the Energy Minister; and
  6. HE the Commerce Minister
  7. The US ambassador; and
8. A senior officer at the forward headquarters of the US Central Command at the Al Udeid base.

- Delegates will tour such places as Education City, Ras Laffan, the Museum of Islamic Art, Katara, Souq Waqif, the Grand Mosque, and the desert near Khor al Udeid.

- Ideally, there will be other special features, such as:
  - A reception hosted by a senior Qatari at the Museum of Islamic Art or Mathaf.
  - Dinner on a traditional dhow, such as the one maintained by the Private Engineering Office.
  - Dinner hosted in a private home or tea in a majlis, to give an insight into traditional Qatari life.

- Mrs. Diana Untermeyer, assisted by Institute staff, is available to organize and escort each delegation.

- The cost of each trip will be calculated on the basis of sending 10 delegates and two escorts. The main expenses will be:
  - Airfare: Round-trip business-flexi-class travel on Qatar Airways to and from gateway cities in the United States plus round-trip business-class travel to and from these gateway cities from wherever delegates may live.
  - Hotel: 12 rooms for 4 nights, ideally at a rate granted the Government of Qatar.
  - Ground transportation: 4 sedans, three passengers per car, either rented from the hotel or provided by the Government of Qatar.
  - Meals: Lunches and dinners, assuming breakfast is included with hotel.
  - Consulting Fee for Mrs. Diana Untermeyer to organize and accompany delegations.

Any savings can be applied toward the cost of future trips.

NOW THEREFORE, the Parties agree as follows:

1. Sponsorship Pledge. The Sponsor pledges to give the sum of US$ 270,000 - Two Hundred Seventy Thousand US Dollars (the “Sponsorship Fund”) to QAl, to be used exclusively for the project described in this Agreement.
