

- X
- Home
- Search
- Notifications
- Messages2
- Lists
- Bookmarks
- Activity
- Profile
- More
- Compose

Post

David Reaboi, Late Republic Nonsense

@davereaboi

...

This is EXACTLY right: the Left has always understood progress to move ever-more-Left. Hungary is a challenge to their worldview.

 Dan Pollak @PollakDan · Oct 20, 2020

Replying to @davereaboi

As a person who is not a registered foreign agent, it strikes me that much of the criticism of Hungry and Poland by American elites is directly due to the challenge those countries governing parties make to the idea that only left liberal solutions are possible in a 'democracy.'

5:32 PM · Oct 20, 2020

View post engagements

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 09/27/2023 3:04:43 PM

 4

 15

 48

Post your reply

Reply

Small Fringe Shoshi 🚚🚚🚚🚚🚚 @shoshido · Oct 20, 2020

I have more than once, in two countries, voted for parties/candidates whose mottos were essentially, "Not right, not left. Forward."

...

 1

David Reaboi, Late Republic Nonsen... ✓ @daverea... · Oct 20, 2020

Ooof. I wouldn't announce that. Lol.

...

 1

⋮ Show replies

skepticalifornia @skepticaliblog · Oct 20, 2020

Also, Hungary and Poland challenge their default worldview setting of "We need to be more like Europe"

...

And why Brexit gave the U.S. Left conniptions

Drewery Dyke @drewerydyke · Oct 20, 2020

Maybe, but limiting free speech & freedom of association, along with outright racism might challenge your characterisation - unless you're down with limiting freedoms.

...

Show additional replies, including those that may contain offensive content

Show

Received by NSD/FARA Registration Unit 09/27/2023 3:04:43 PM

