

Delegation of German Industry and Commerce in Washington, DC

Dynamic developments in the entire business environment accompany #manufacturing companies. They are faced with questions like:

💰 How to handle rising energy costs?

♻️ What is our role in the circular economy?

♻️ How do we address the issue of sustainability?

To overcome these challenges the use of the right #technologies, methods and business models enables manufacturing companies to find the optimal path between #economic and #environmental sustainability.

Find answers to these questions and more by joining Fraunhofer Institute for Production Technology IPT for a #webinar on shaping the path to #sustainability next Thursday, March 2nd 10am-11am EST:
