

Delegation of German Industry and Commerce in Washington, DC

We are thrilled to kick off this new month by introducing you to our CEO, Christoph Schemioneck.
#MeetTheTeam!

✨ Christoph's journey has been very remarkable. Having spent over 15 years in Washington, DC, he brings a wealth of experience and expertise to our organization. After completing his PhD in Geography at the University of Würzburg in Germany, Christoph made the bold decision to move to the United States.

🌐 After actively promoting and supporting business and policy relations between Germany and the United States for over a decade, Christoph now leads the office as head of our small but mighty DGIC family with a vision that inspires us all.

🚲🌳 Beyond his impressive professional accomplishments, Christoph knows the importance of finding a work-life-balance. When he is not busy driving our organization forward, he enjoys a refreshing escape from the working world by hopping on his bike. During the summer, you'll find him cycling nearly 10 miles daily to work. Even in winter, he pushes himself until the weather forces him to stop.

We are incredibly fortunate to have him as a guiding force in our organization!
