

Delegation of German Industry and Commerce in Washington, DC

Where The Länd Meets the Capital 🤝 ✈️

Our 57-member delegation from Baden-Württemberg spent Monday engaging in a series of high-level site visits across the Greater Washington region, diving into in-depth discussions with The Aerospace Corporation, IBM, Northrop Grumman, Forterra, and the Johns Hopkins Applied Physics Laboratory.

These exchanges highlighted shared priorities in innovation, advanced research, and transatlantic collaboration—especially in aerospace, mobility, digitalization, and resilient infrastructure. We're proud to help connect one of Europe's most dynamic industrial regions with key U.S. partners shaping the technologies of tomorrow.

It was a pleasure to support this visit and strengthen the bridges between Baden-Württemberg and the nation's capital.
