For the first time ever, Dr. Al-Issa is seeking to create an interfaith coalition to promote a message of tolerance and compassion and help temper the hateful rhetoric and divisive behavior that has motivated violence against Muslim and Jewish people. It further calls for the immediate release of all hostages without conditions.

"In the face of the current humanitarian crisis in Gaza, the Muslim World League and all of its international affiliates stand united with Muslims, Jews, Christians, and other people of faith brethren in our unwavering commitment to peace and empathy," said Dr. Al-Issa. "We believe that people of faith and religious leaders must be more involved in helping find a path to peace."

By mobilizing support from diverse religious leaders globally, the MWL aims to create a platform for interfaith dialogue and collaboration, emphasizing the shared principles of compassion, justice, and peace. This MWL-sponsored petition is asking for religious leaders and civic society leaders to sign onto a commitment to carry a message of peace and tolerance to their congregations and followers.

"We believe that the path to peace in the region will be led by people of faith, and we have a moral obligation to speak out to have the right impact," said Dr. Al-Issa. "As more faith leaders embrace this responsibility and sign our petition, it will be a powerful testament to the collective will of people around the world to stand up for peace and tolerance."
