Interview Opportunity Leader of MWL on Peace In Gaza

“Faith Leaders Can Succeed Where the International Community Is Failing”

Washington, DC – January 14, 2024 – Today marks the 100th day of war in Gaza. Since the October 7th attack, more than 23,968, mostly women and children, have been killed and the vast majority of Gaza’s 2.2 million people have been displaced. Hunger is rising, and the healthcare infrastructure of Gaza has all but collapsed.

This week, The Muslim World League launched a petition calling on religious leaders and civic society leaders around the globe to join together to lead and guide the faithful among us toward lasting change. Ironically, the battle lines in Gaza have been drawn on religious lines. And yet the religious community—the very people who can clarify the religious obligations of peace and mercy to the combatants-- has been sidelined.

His Excellency Sheikh Dr. Mohammad bin Abdul Karim Al Issa, Secretary General of the Muslim World League is visiting Washington, DC to meet with interfaith leaders, academics, and government officials to discuss how religious leaders play a vital role in diffusing tensions, delegitimizing hate and violence grounded in anti-Semitism and Islamophobia, and delivering a vision for peaceful coexistence in the holy lands.

Dr. Al-Issa is available for interviews on peace in Gaza and the work that the Muslim World League is doing to bring lasting change to the region.
