Subject: CEO Segment [REDACTED] - Richard Attias

Hi, [REDACTED] –

In thinking about your available slots this fall I thought perhaps you would be interested in recording an episode during the [REDACTED]. Richard Attias, CEO of the FII Institute (full bio below), would be a great fit - many of the issues he's focused on overlap with both [REDACTED].

In terms of a timely hook, FII has their flagship conference in late October – as part of your discussion he could provide insight into this year's event, as well as 1) how global investments can drive the transition to green economies 2) innovation, the role of AI, tech, and new financial models in shaping the future of industries and economies and 3) the shifting geo-economic power. Perhaps he can even walk you through some of the findings from FII Institute's 2024 Priority Compass Report which captures over 50,000 voices from 23 countries that represent 60% of the global population. This year's version has yet to be released, but the 2023 version is here

Please let us know if you're interested as we'd be happy to check Richard's calendar.

Best,
