Hi [REDACTED],

I am not allowed to share the exact number, but I can confirm all registered participants at the moment are C-suite or senior executives.

I understand the complexities, but unfortunately that is all I'm allowed to say at the moment, in addition to the companies/orgs I listed in my previous email that will be at the table. Please let me know if you'd like to proceed.

Thank you,

Appreciate your help and understanding on this – as you can appreciate, we want to ensure the conversation makes sense for us.

Thank you for reaching out! Yes, Richard seems like the perfect fit.

Do you mind filling out this registration form with his information? Please don't share this link widely as it is an invite only, private roundtable dinner.

Note: if you put your email in the "assistant" section, you'll be cc'd on all communication.

A little background on the roundtable: Since it's private, there's not audience component. However it is still on the record as [REDACTED] will be audio recording and likely writing up an article on the event.

Please let me know if you have any questions, thank you!

I hope this note finds you well. I work with Richard Attias, CEO of the FII Institute and think he would make an excellent addition to the sustainability / healthcare [REDACTED] discussion I understand your team is hosting during Climate Week.

Are you still considering speakers to participate in the conversation?

Richard's talent is anticipating and addressing the most pressing issues faced by the planet, activating powerful networks and inspiring innovation, establishing him as a trusted advisor to leaders the world over. He is focused on driving change by bridging gaps, creating a knowledge-based economy and ensuring economic diversification. Topics of interest include:

- How to best leverage new applications of technology, such as AI and robotics, research to improve health equity worldwide
- Opportunities to unlock greater innovation in sanitation infrastructure for global health, including through private-public partnerships
- Emerging diseases caused by climate change
- The need for policies that consider both human health and the wellbeing of the planet's animals and ecosystems

I'd be happy to coordinate next steps if this might be of interest.

Thanks,

[REDACTED]
