

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Policymakers who are prioritising unlocking growth should keep a close eye on FII-8: Conversation with FII Trustee and former Prime Minister of Italy?
Attachments: image001.png

Hi [REDACTED],

I wondered if you'd be open to an interview with Senator Matteo Renzi, former Prime Minister of Italy and member of the Future Investment Initiative \(FII\) Board of Trustees, as FII's flagship conference, FII-8, gets underway in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia?

Mr Renzi would be happy to provide his thoughts on this year's conference, including why, against a global backdrop of continued economic uncertainty, conflict, geopolitical tensions and the upcoming US election, the conversations, decisions, and commitments made at FII-8 will be more important than ever.

Given his background, Mr Renzi would be especially well placed to discuss why global policymakers – including those who aren't attending – should keep a close eye on activity at FII-8. Many policymakers have faced elections this year and have stated that domestic and global growth is their number one challenge. FII believes policymakers who are focused on this goal, especially in the global south, need to focus on the following areas (all of which will be a key focus of FII-8):

- AI/global robotics
- Expanding access to global education
- Expanding healthcare technology and research
- Making zero-carbon a reality

For background, FII-8 is one of the biggest financial and investment events in the world. It will see global leaders from finance, business, politics, and civic society gather to discuss the major challenges and trends shaping the investment landscape. Over the years, FII summits and conferences have cumulatively announced deals and investment pledges worth nearly $120B in technology, energy, infrastructure, and finance.

The theme of this year's event is Infinite Horizons: Investing Today, Shaping Tomorrow. Further info can be found here.

Do let me know if a conversation with Mr Renzi would be of interest.

Thanks,

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
Associate Vice President

PRovoke Media's 2023 Global Financial Agency of the Year

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Policymakers who are prioritising unlocking growth should keep a close eye on FII-8: Conversation with FII Trustee and former Prime Minister of Italy?
Attachments: image001.png

Hi [REDACTED],

I wondered if you'd be open to an interview with Senator Matteo Renzi, former Prime Minister of Italy and member of the Future Investment Initiative \(FII\) Board of Trustees, as FII's flagship conference, FII-8, gets underway in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia?

Mr Renzi would be happy to provide his thoughts on this year's conference, including why, against a global backdrop of continued economic uncertainty, conflict, geopolitical tensions and the upcoming US election, the conversations, decisions, and commitments made at FII-8 will be more important than ever.

Given his background, Mr Renzi would be especially well placed to discuss why global policymakers – including those who aren't attending – should keep a close eye on activity at FII-8. Many policymakers have faced elections this year and have stated that domestic and global growth is their number one challenge. FII believes policymakers who are focused on this goal, especially in the global south, need to focus on the following areas (all of which will be a key focus of FII-8):

- AI/global robotics
- Expanding access to global education
- Expanding healthcare technology and research
- Making zero-carbon a reality

For background, FII-8 is one of the biggest financial and investment events in the world. It will see global leaders from finance, business, politics, and civic society gather to discuss the major challenges and trends shaping the investment landscape. Over the years, FII summits and conferences have cumulatively announced deals and investment pledges worth nearly $120B in technology, energy, infrastructure, and finance.

The theme of this year's event is Infinite Horizons: Investing Today, Shaping Tomorrow. Further info can be found here.

Do let me know if a conversation with Mr Renzi would be of interest.

Thanks,

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
Associate Vice President

PRovoke Media's 2023 Global Financial Agency of the Year

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Policymakers who are prioritising unlocking growth should keep a close eye on FII-8: Conversation with FII Trustee and former Prime Minister of Italy?
Attachments: image001.png

Hi [REDACTED],

I wondered if you'd be open to an interview with Senator Matteo Renzi, former Prime Minister of Italy and member of the Future Investment Initiative \(FII\) Board of Trustees, as FII's flagship conference, FII-8, gets underway in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia?

Mr Renzi would be happy to provide his thoughts on this year's conference, including why, against a global backdrop of continued economic uncertainty, conflict, geopolitical tensions and the upcoming US election, the conversations, decisions, and commitments made at FII-8 will be more important than ever.

Given his background, Mr Renzi would be especially well placed to discuss why global policymakers – including those who aren't attending – should keep a close eye on activity at FII-8. Many policymakers have faced elections this year and have stated that domestic and global growth is their number one challenge. FII believes policymakers who are focused on this goal, especially in the global south, need to focus on the following areas (all of which will be a key focus of FII-8):

- AI/global robotics
- Expanding access to global education
- Expanding healthcare technology and research
- Making zero-carbon a reality

For background, FII-8 is one of the biggest financial and investment events in the world. It will see global leaders from finance, business, politics, and civic society gather to discuss the major challenges and trends shaping the investment landscape. Over the years, FII summits and conferences have cumulatively announced deals and investment pledges worth nearly $120B in technology, energy, infrastructure, and finance.

The theme of this year's event is Infinite Horizons: Investing Today, Shaping Tomorrow. Further info can be found here.

Do let me know if a conversation with Mr Renzi would be of interest.

Thanks,

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
Associate Vice President

PRovoke Media's 2023 Global Financial Agency of the Year

From: [REDACTED]
To: [REDACTED]
Subject: Policymakers who are prioritising unlocking growth should keep a close eye on FII-8: Conversation with FII Trustee and former Prime Minister of Italy?
Attachments: image001.png

Hi [REDACTED],

I wondered if you'd be open to an interview with Senator Matteo Renzi, former Prime Minister of Italy and member of the Future Investment Initiative \(FII\) Board of Trustees, as FII's flagship conference, FII-8, gets underway in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia?

Mr Renzi would be happy to provide his thoughts on this year's conference, including why, against a global backdrop of continued economic uncertainty, conflict, geopolitical tensions and the upcoming US election, the conversations, decisions, and commitments made at FII-8 will be more important than ever.

Given his background, Mr Renzi would be especially well placed to discuss why global policymakers – including those who aren't attending – should keep a close eye on activity at FII-8. Many policymakers have faced elections this year and have stated that domestic and global growth is their number one challenge. FII believes policymakers who are focused on this goal, especially in the global south, need to focus on the following areas (all of which will be a key focus of FII-8):

- AI/global robotics
- Expanding access to global education
- Expanding healthcare technology and research
- Making zero-carbon a reality

For background, FII-8 is one of the biggest financial and investment events in the world. It will see global leaders from finance, business, politics, and civic society gather to discuss the major challenges and trends shaping the investment landscape. Over the years, FII summits and conferences have cumulatively announced deals and investment pledges worth nearly $120B in technology, energy, infrastructure, and finance.

The theme of this year's event is Infinite Horizons: Investing Today, Shaping Tomorrow. Further info can be found here.

Do let me know if a conversation with Mr Renzi would be of interest.

Thanks,

[REDACTED]

[REDACTED]
Associate Vice President

[REDACTED] [REDACTED]

PRovoke Media's 2023 Global Financial Agency of the Year