Hi, [REDACTED] -

The Future Investment Initiative (FII) Institute, a global nonprofit with a core mission of “Impact on Humanity”, together with UNICEF and The Global Fund, today released a report urging greater innovation and access in the fight against preventable infectious diseases.

The report, “Scaling Innovation to Maximize Global Health Impact,” reveals the staggering toll of treatable diseases. While breakthroughs such as AI diagnostics, biotech therapies, and solar-powered oxygen machines are emerging, we need stronger systems to deliver them equitably. The report thus calls for urgent collaboration to bridge the gap between innovation and access, aligning policy, financing, and education to ensure every community benefits.

I have linked the report here and included the press release below for ease of reference. Please let me know if you have any questions, or might be interested in speaking with FII Institute about the report further.

Best,

[REDACTED]
