Hi [REDACTED]

My colleague [REDACTED] shared your email with me, as we have a new client who I think would be of interest to you and will be at Milken next week. Pandu Sjahrir is the Chief Investment Officer of Danantara, Indonesia's sovereign wealth fund, which has been reported to oversee nearly ~$1T in assets following its launch just last year. With global capital reallocating amid geopolitical tensions, Pandu has a unique POV on how Indonesia is positioning itself at the center of that shift, including its role in critical minerals and the buildout of AI-linked energy infrastructure.

Some key themes top of mind for Pandu include:

- How geopolitical fragmentation is redirecting capital toward markets like Indonesia
- The next phase of the global race for critical minerals (including nickel) and downstream value creation
- Powering AI: why reliable, clean energy is becoming a key investment battleground—and where Southeast Asia fits
- Where Danantara is deploying capital next

Given Indonesia's growing importance in global supply chains and investment flows, we think his perspective would be highly relevant for your audience.

He's extremely engaging and having helped lead a sovereign wealth fund to nearing ~$1T in AUM in just one year, I think you'd find a meeting with him compelling. Let me know what you think and if you have time to meet him at Milken next week.

Thank you,

[REDACTED]

Hi [REDACTED]

I saw that [REDACTED] is going to be at Milken and wanted to see if you would be interested in having Pandu Sjahrir, Chief Investment Officer at Danantara Indonesia (Indonesia's new sovereign wealth fund) on the show?

With global capital reallocating amid geopolitical tensions, Pandu can speak to how Indonesia is positioning itself at the center of that shift, including its role in critical minerals and the buildout of AI-linked energy infrastructure.

He can discuss:

- How geopolitical fragmentation is redirecting capital toward markets like Indonesia
- The next phase of the global race for critical minerals (including nickel) and downstream value creation
- Powering AI: why reliable, clean energy is becoming a key investment battleground and where Southeast Asia fits
- Where Danantara is deploying capital next

Given Indonesia's growing importance in global supply chains and investment flows, his perspective would be highly relevant for [REDACTED] audience during Milken.

Let me know what you think.

Best,

[REDACTED]

Hi [REDACTED],

Hope all is well! With Milken around the corner, I wanted to see if you would be interested in setting up an intro meeting with Danantara, the Indonesian sovereign wealth fund?

Danantara's Chief Investment Officer, Pandu Sjahrir, will be on the ground and we'd love to offer you an opportunity to connect in-person.

I've included an overview of his role below but as we near the fund's one year conception, this will really be a chance to dive into:

- Where Danantara is looking to invest next
- Global shifts in capital flows due to geopolitical tensions and how Indonesia is well-positioned to benefit from this reshaping investment landscape
- The global race for critical minerals, including nickel for batteries, and how this will fuel the energy transition
- Trends across AI infrastructure and the opportunities for countries that can provide clean, reliable energy

Let me know if a meeting would be of interest and I'd be happy to coordinate calendars ahead of next week!

Best,

[REDACTED]
