The specific objective of this action is to facilitate the participation of companies from the European Union in the US market in both offshore wind power and dredging. The strategy to obtain these results is working alongside interested US stakeholders to help show communities the negative effects of the Jones Act: for instance, the current duopoly of US companies, which in turn lead to a rise in costs that affect local budgets, curtail the deployment of green energy, or prevent the roll out of preferred coastal resiliency strategies, and to help them see how much they would benefit when bringing in EU companies. The video productions will help with a portion of the above statement
