

“Fondomonte remains committed to progressive, efficient agricultural practices on all its operations. Fontomonte is a proud supporter of Arizona Agriculture and the farming community for the last 10 years. The company has invested significantly to bring the latest conservation technology and applies environmentally sustainable practices on these long-established farms. Fondomonte has continued to develop responsibly during its time farming in the state and the company complies with all state regulations. We find the allegations of the Attorney General totally unfounded, and we will defend any potential action against Fontomonte and our rights vigorously before the competent authorities ”

Like the vast majority of farmers in Arizona, most of the crops are exported out of the state. Fondomonte sells some of its alfalfa to Arizona farmers, however, more than 90 percent of the product is exported overseas. One hundred percent of production from other rotational crops is sold domestically within the Arizona market.
