 Upcoming KIEPEC Seminar

The Korea Inter-Parliamentary Exchange Center (KIEPEC) invites you to join our upcoming seminar:

"High-Tech Alliance in the AI Era: The Future of U.S.-ROK Technology Cooperation"

 Date & Time: Tuesday, July 14, 2026 | 10:00–11:00 AM EDT

 Location: KIEPEC Office
1660 L Street NW, Suite 1050, Washington, DC 20036

 Featured Speaker
Kayla Orta
Nonresident Fellow, Indo-Pacific Security Initiative, Atlantic Council
GWIKS Nonresident Korea Scholar, George Washington University.

This seminar will examine how Washington and Seoul are accelerating AI policy frameworks to finance, power, and diversity AI infrastructure across emerging cooperative (and competitive) technology ecosystems. As both countries work to bridge regulation imperatives and innovation challenges, opportunities exist for forward-leaning U.S.-ROK bilateral cooperation and enhanced trusted technology partnerships.

Upcoming KIEPC Seminar

The Korea Inter-Parliamentary Exchange Center (KIEPC) invites you to join our upcoming seminar:

"Reshaping U.S. Trade Policy: Economic Security, Section 301, and Implications for Korea"

Date & Time: Thursday, July 16, 2026 | 10:00–11:00 AM EDT

Location: KIEPC Office

1660 L Street NW, Suite 1050, Washington, DC 20036

Featured Speaker

Tom Ramage

Fellow and Economic Policy Analyst, Korea Economic Institute of America (KEI)

This seminar will explore recent developments in U.S. trade policy, including USTR's Section 301 investigations related to forced labor and expected policy shifts following the expiration of Section 122 measures. The discussion will examine how these changes may affect Korean companies and investment in the United States, while offering strategic insights for policymakers and businesses preparing for future trade policy shifts.
